HARDY PERENNIAL

Self Interests May Often Conflict With Virtues

WHEN we speak today of insanity, it is not in terms of possession by devils. There are forms of insanity not related to sin and evil temper.

We would not, in terms of modern science, speak of demons leaving a demented man and taking possession of a herd of pigs so that they would run down a steep place into the sea and destroy themselves. Obviously, a story like this has difficulties for the scientific mind. It is short-sighted or foolish not to recognize that.

But when it comes to the moral and spiritual values, the story is clear cut and definite.

Apart from the healing of the two men possessed with demons, it presents a picture of that moral delinquency and hypocrisy so prevalent in life where self-interest and greed conflict with right principles.

It is a story of swine and we must remember that hogs were unclean and taboo in the Jewish religion. These Gadarenes, whose religion forbade them to eat hog flesh, were willing to raise swine for the profit they would make from sale to others. Moreover, they were far more concerned about these swine than they were about the restoration to sanity and health of the two formerly afflicted brother men.

What a picture of narrowness and sordidness in a "whole city," coming out to meet Christ, the wonder worker and the one pure and undefiled.

Dear Jason:

I don't know what to think of your sister Bessie's new boy friend. He was over for some of my polecat stew the other night and since we're trying to get Bessie married off, I just happened to mention that she was a nicely reared girl. He told me that she wasn't joe bad from the front either.

The girl you used to go with from Pasture Flats, Morphine Loung Sludge, went up to Brooklyn to visit some friends and came home with a haircut that looked as though she was wearing a scallop with fringes. She said it was supposed to make her look like an Italian boy. It sure does to . . . Rocky Marciano.

It's getting pretty bad with your sister Ocarina. She was living in constant fear the baby would fall out of the crib and she wouldn't hear it so she went to the psycharist for a cure. I don't go along with these modern doctors. He told her all she had to do was take the rug off the floor.

Grandpaw Tooker, from the Four Corners, is an optimistic one. He just turned 87 and will be getting married to a spry lady of 86. Right now he's hunting for a place to live close to a school.

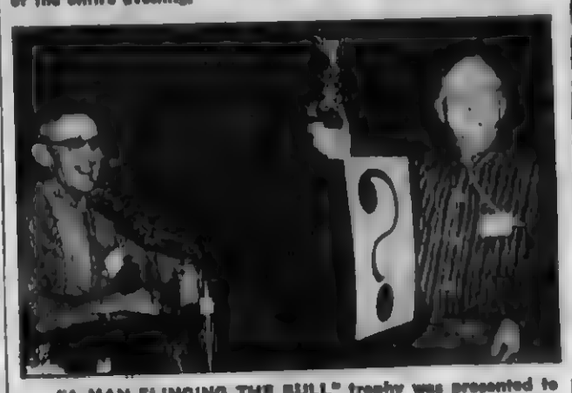
Live Rabbits, Dog Tags And Flea Powder Were Kiwanis 'Spring Roundup' Prizes!



MARY ANN FRY, Hilliards High School student, gave her impression of "Aunt Tillie at the Movies," a hilarious monologue about an old maid aunt's first trip to the "movin pictures." The humor in her skit was characteristic of the spirit of the entire evening.

YE OLDE BELL RINGER Ed Schaedler, president of Hilltop Kiwanis Club, was presented this unique trophy last Thursday evening at the annual Spring Roundup at Hilliards High School by the West Franklin and Hilltop Kiwanis Clubs. Russell Carter, master of ceremonies, made the presentation saying that Schaedler has rung the bell for silence more in his two-month term of office than any other former president during his whole term!

HILLIARDS HIGH SCHOOL'S gift to Spring Roundup entertainment came in the form of the Melodettes who sang their arrangements of "Sugartime" and "The Syncopated Clock." The Kiwanian audience, impressed by their show of talent, called the girls back for the first encore in their career. Left to right, Patty Hartley, accompanist; Sharon DeWolfe, Mary Jane Tharp and Rose Anne Weipert.

"A MAN SLINGING THE BULL" trophy was presented to Harold Cunningham by Russell Carter. The trophy was said to be self-explanatory!

John Postle took both individual series high and single game high with a 235 series and 126 single game.

Second series high went to Patti Rice, 196 and Darrell Rohrer, 182.

Patti Rice rolled the second high single game of 118, and Danny Berger placed third with 106.

Long Shot By Dixon Keeps Fluharts Ahead Of Lanatas

In Starling "A" Independent League play last week Ron Dixon swished a long one-hander from the side as the horn blew to give Fluhart's Insurance a 67 to 65 victory over a never-say-die Lanatas team.

Bob Courtney and Warren Pemberton sparked Fluhart's drive with 25 and 21 points respectively. Bill Voss was high for Lanatas with 21 points.

Thursday at Mohawk, Fluharts had to come from behind to conquer Wilson-Chadwick 68 to 56. Pemberton and Courtney sparked the last-period drive, the former hitting 22 to take game scoring honors.

This victory left Fluhart Insurance tied with Margulis Dept. Store for the third-round lead at Mohawk, both with 3-0 records.

In the previous week Fluharts once again split with Roy's Drive In, losing the first at Starling 80 to 71 despite Jerry Swindler's 20-point effort.

The following Thursday at Mohawk, Fluharts nipped Roy's 54 to 53. The game was highlighted by Fluharts' strong man-for-man defense, led by Captain Jimmy Shifflete and Bob Courtney. W. Pemberton once again led the scoring with 19 markers.

Cowboys Drop Tourney Game

West underwent a basketball player's nightmare Mar. 6, as Central turned its Bill Myrick loose at St. John's arena. The twisting, turning phenom... racked up 30 points, over half of his team's total, and contributed in almost every realm to the win.

An off-night on free throws gave the Cowboys trouble. Off to a slow start, they scored only nine in the first quarter, then came back with only seven more, to end the half trailing 18-25. They never threatened although they came closer as the final buzzer sounded, ending the game at 42-30.

In previous tournament games, West had defeated Marysville and Groveport, both by favorable margins.

Hilltop 'Indian Braves' Drop Tom-toms To Build Racers

The third Annual Hilltop "Y" Indian Guide Match Box Derby will be held in the Central YMCA gymnasium, 40 W. Long-st, at 2 p.m., Sunday, Mar. 16.

Each Little Brave in the Indian Guide tribes, with the help of his dad, builds a racer which he may enter in the competition. Maximum length of these racers is 10 inches. The race is similar to the Soap Box Derby at Akron only on miniature scale.

There will be three classes of entries—Class A for boys 6-7-8, Class B for boys age 9 and up; and Class C, the best decorated car in all ages. A first, second and third place award will be given in each class.

The race this year is being sponsored by the Hilltop Y's Men's Club and each Little Brave entering the race will be given a shirt bearing an imprint of the event. Only Indian Guides are eligible to enter this race. At the present approximately 60 cars have been entered from the 16 tribes in the Hilltop Nation.

The event is being shifted to the downtown "Y" this year so entire Indian Guide families will be able to watch said Al Hollowell, executive secretary.

Bank Manager Discovers Chosen Field Early In Life

Dr. E. McNamee

2543 Sullivant Ave.
Phone BR. 4-0892

The background of James Goudy, manager of the Ohio National Bank, at Great Western Shopper's Mart, is comparitively simple compared to that of many businessmen who continually change jobs for years before finding their chosen field.

The simplicity of it is that Goudy has been a Hilltopper all his life, attended John Burroughs School, was graduated from West High School and was immediately employed by the Ohio National banking firm.

He started as a clerk in 1941 and by 1956 he was assistant manager of the bank's Hilltop branch. Although he majored in commercial courses at West and seemingly was well prepared for his banking career, Goudy didn't feel this was enough to become a success in the field. He therefore studied several years during the evening with the American Institute of Banking.

Bank Employs 20

An ex-World War II Navy man, Goudy said he found the Great Western branch to be a challenge. "It is really interesting to see a business blossom into a successful venture with a new building, new employes and an entirely new clientele," he said. He now employes 20 persons in the bank.

Aside from banking, his hobby is active membership in many organizations though he is not to be mistaken as a "joiner." He spends his spare time working on many worthy drives and campaigns. The reason, he said, is because he is a family man and he feels that by helping to raise money to stamp out cancer, polio, heart disease and others, he is protecting His own children.

Goudy and his wife, Betty, and their two children, Jimmy and Colleen, reside at 239 Darby Creek-rd. They spend most of their time around home and mainly confine their traveling to their cottage at Buckeye Lake and summer trips to Lakeside, on Lake Erie near Port Clinton.

He is a member of HBA, American Institute of Banking, Hilltop YMCA, is treasurer of the West Franklin County Kiwanis Club, past treasurer of HBA, treasurer of the Great Western Business Association, Lincoln Village Residents' Association, Lincoln Village Company and is a deacon at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Busy Phone, Stuffed Mailbox Now Commonplace At Hoyes'

Patrolman and Mrs. Lawrence Hoye, 466 Derrer-rd, have found their Hilltop home life completely changed since Hoye made charges of laxity in the police department — the vice squad in particular.

Mrs. Hoye said she spent Monday answering the phone and talking to a host of people who are cheering her husband's civic-minded challenge of the Columbus Police Force.

Expecting to find a few bills, Mrs. Hoye said she was surprised to find nearly 30 letters in their mailbox Tuesday. All of the letters were from persons praising her husband's move. "Of course, we've received several phone calls from 'crackpots' too, but they seemed to be under the influence of alcohol," she added.

"While all our personal friends have backed Larry, most of the letters and phone calls have been from people we don't know," said Mrs. Hoye.

She said her husband doesn't regret bringing the affair to the attention of the public. "He was very unhappy from the first week upon entering the vice squad and couldn't have kept quiet about it much longer," she explained.

Two of the six Hoye children are in school and have not entirely been untouched by the incident. One child was told by another student: "My mommy and daddy think your daddy is doing the right thing."

The Hilltop Record reporter noticed an intermittent set of short and long clicking sounds during the phone call to Mrs. Hoye. She said she has heard the same sounds during every call for the past week and is wondering if their phone might be tapped, although she can think of no one who might be responsible.

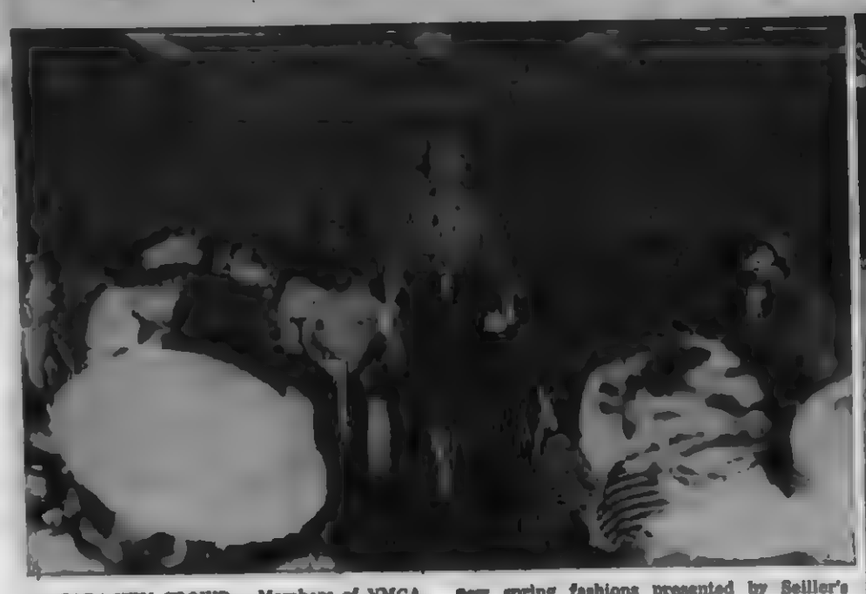
Let's talk about



YOUR RETIREMENT
We all look forward to happy retirement years. Our time will be our own and we will be free to do those wonderful things we had somehow never found the time to do before. But whether our plans include travel or a house in the country or golf or painting, we will need an income. Remember that life insurance can provide the necessary income to allow you to maintain your accustomed standard of living. It also assures your family of financial protection through the intervening years.

I'm sure I can be of service. Why not give me a call? You will be under no obligation.

Beginning Apr. 1, they will meet in South Franklin School until a new church is built. The church directly in the path of the new expressway, has been sold to the state for $125,000. The building is 22 years old. Al Phillips, 51 Belvidere-av, is one of a committee to choose a new location in the Hilltop area. Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Protein Foods — Beef rib roasts, seven-rib pork roasts, cheddar cheese, large eggs

Vegetables—Carrots, lettuce, processed corn, peas, beans.

Fruits — Bananas, apples, grapefruit, pineapple.

EGGS—Nature's Prepackaged Food

Because eggs always fit so beautifully whatever the meal, it's a smart homemaker who gets to know the best egg buys, to know shell color, quality or grade, and size or weight.

Be a Choosy Buyer — If possible from a dealer who keeps eggs in refrigerated display cases. Heat lowers egg quality rapidly. For example, eggs left four days in a warm store or kitchen (70-80 degrees F.) lose as much freshness as those kept several weeks in a refrigerator. And come warmer weather, such losses occur even more rapidly.

Egg Quality Guides—Egg buying is one of the difficult tasks of food buying. Interior quality cannot be determined by looking at the outside of the egg. But you are not without a guide to interior egg quality. Federal-state grade standards indicated by a shield on the egg carton with the letters "U.S.D.A." and the grade classification "A," "B" or "C" are a sign of interior quality.

U.S. Grade A are top quality and are excellent for all purposes, but their delicate flavor and fine appearance make them especially good for frying, poaching, and cooking in the shell. Grade B and C eggs may answer just as well for baking and similar uses.

Which Size is the Best Buy? Egg size is determined by minimum weight per dozen:

Extra large	27 ounces
Large	24 ounces
Medium	21 ounces
Small	18 ounces

A good rule-of-thumb to follow when buying eggs of the same grade is: if there is less than eight cents difference between large and medium eggs or between medium and small eggs, the larger eggs are the best value.

Some sizes are a better value at certain times of the year than others. Large eggs are a good value in late winter and early spring, while small and medium eggs hold the spotlight in late summer and early fall. At the present time large and extra large sizes give you more protein for your money.

Field Trials Coming Up Are Colorful Things To See

This is the time of year when field trials seem to spring up everywhere. The very attractive grounds at the Delaware Dam Wildlife Area have almost become headquarters for trials in this area. Important trials will be held there each week-end for the next three weeks:

Fourth Regional Shooting Dog Trial—Mar. 15 and 16.

National Amateur Pheasant Shooting Dog Championship — [redacted]

Weimaraner Club of America—Mar. 29 and 30.

Only the Weimaraner trial will be a shoot-to-kill trial, which means that birds will be bought from commercial game farms and will be shot before the dogs. At the other two trials the dogs will be expected to find game, and hold steady to shot and wing. This means that a blank pistol will be fired as the birds flush.

If you've never seen a bird dog trial, then you have an experience in store. The gallery usually follows each brace of dogs on horseback. Handlers sing to their dogs, more of a shout to my ears, and whistles pierce the air. It's a very colorful picture, and quite exciting if you know or follow certain dogs or handlers.

Often, an entourage of automobiles follows the dogs as closely as it can by creeping along back roads. Spectators from cars use binoculars, but usually have to satisfy themselves with brief glances at the dogs.

Trial, Gun Dogs Differ

A good trial dog seldom makes a good gun dog. It goes too fast and too wide. These characteristics are needed in a shooting dog, but not developed to such an advanced degree. You need a horse to keep up with a field champion, and such racing around does not make for pleasant hunting. In breeding and developing these "superdogs" many many class shooting dogs appear on the scene.

All of these trials promise to be interesting. If you like to hunt with dogs you may want to see what kind of canine it takes to win the National Amateur Pheasant Shooting Dog Championship. Shot-to-kill trials are always interesting too. You'll see some fancy wing shooting, for the birds are expensive and they don't miss many. Weimaraners are still new enough in this country to be a novelty, and this trial will be a showcase for the best of the "gray ghosts."

Libraries, Bookmobiles Invite New 'Customers'

Eyes of the community will focus on Hilltop Branch Library, 2955 W. Broad-st, and the familiar green bookmobile vans in the county Mar. 16-22, as all America observes the first National Library Week.

Mary Elizabeth Keyes, librarian in charge and reading adviser to the 10,204 card-carrying patrons at Hilltop Branch, expressed the hope that many non-patrons would visit the library during the week. She invites all to accept the advantages afforded by a free public library card and to use their share of the 19,472 volumes stocked by the branch as of Mar. 1.

"FOR A BETTER-READ, BETTER-INFORMED AMERICA"
National Library Week
March 16-22, 1958

The same library card, Miss Keyes pointed out, is honored at all agencies of the Columbus Public Library system and may be used for borrowing such non-book materials as films and phonograph records at the main library.

Margaret Armour, chief of the four bookmobiles which bring mobile library advantages to 96 scheduled localities throughout the county, invited new friends to "come aboard" during the week.

In joining the more than 26,500 registered patrons already enjoying bookmobile service, these "newcomers" will obtain free library cards usable at all agencies of the library system.

Many foreign nations outread Americans considerably. Pollsters say that only 17 per cent of U.S. citizens can be presumed to be currently in the process of reading a book. Taree times as many Britishers are so engaged.

Here in Franklin County, less than one-fourth of those eligible are availing themselves of free public library service.

"The United States cannot live without readers," declares best-selling author Marchette Chute. "Ours is a government of the many, not the few, and it is based on trust in its citizens. It trusts them to have formed the habit of finding out, and that means the habit of reading. We cannot afford a country of lazy minds and the boredom that comes from knowing little and caring less. We cannot afford a nation of non-readers."

Seek Furnishings For Camp Offered Diagnostic Center

When Spring comes each year most boys and girls begin to dream about summer camp . . . and the children at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2880 W. Broad-st are no exception.

Dr. L. N. Jentgen, whose offices are located at 206 E. State-st, has seen this need and given the center permission to use a 20-acre wooded tract about 18 miles north of Columbus and northwest of Dublin.

Since the land is not state property the state cannot approve any funds for improvement and maintenance of the site. A number of interested persons have inquired as to the needs required for turning this land into a suitable camp site for these boys and girls.

State law prohibits the center from making a public appeal but Raleigh Beach, who has been appointed camp chairman, has listed some of the items that will be needed. They include recreation equipment, wooden furniture, tools, cleaning equipment, cooking utensils, silverware, dishes, glasses, stove, refrigerator or money to help cover the cost of gravel to make an access road and other expenses.

The site is equipped with a large cabin and a pond that will be stocked with fish. Dr. Jentgen has given the center permission to make any improvements necessary to the welfare and enjoyment of the children.

Camp Life Encouraging

Rev. Harold Davidson, JDC chaplain, said the boys and girls got their first taste of camp life two years ago and showed great enthusiasm. Because the center has had no camp of its own, the children haven't had the chance to repeat the experience.

Rev. Davidson said several days at camp gives the children a different environment and one in which they prove they are capable of better behavior. He added that many boys and girls of poor parents have never been to camp. Outdoor living gives therapists an opportunity to study the children under entirely new circumstances, he said.

Transportation to the camp will be provided by the center's school bus. Every child in the institution will be given a chance to visit the camp. Groups of 15 to 18 will be taken at a time. A council ring, nature studies, crafts, sports and improvement work will be set up to keep the children active. The center expects to open the camp in April.

Persons or service clubs interested in donating items or in getting further information may contact Raleigh Beach or Rev. Davidson at BR. 4-1184. Trucks are available to pick up any donations.

Art Awards Earned By West Seniors

Two West High School seniors were awarded half-year scholarships at Columbus Art School, and a third gained honorable mention for their prize winning entries.

Dora Linn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Linn, 278 N. Harris-av, was awarded a scholarship for her college. Robert Riebel, son of Mrs. Dorothy V. Riebel, 2732 Grace, earned the same award for a painting.

Nick Merrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merrick, 3170 Wicklow-rd, received honorable mention.

The collection of art entries will be on exhibit at the Columbus Art gallery through March.

W. Side Store Robbed; Owner Found In Cooler

The owner of a Sullivant-av grocery really cooled off Tuesday morning!

Paul Bates, owner of the Morgan Grocery, 2381 Sullivant-av, told police that two men entered his store at 7:30 a.m. and forced him to open the cash register. They took $100. They also stole his wallet containing $8 and some foreign money. Before fleeing they ordered Bates into the cooler.

Many Good Mechanics Start In Central's Special Course

By Chris Cafego
Central High Student

A few years from now you may take your car to a local garage for repair work of some kind and it is entirely possible that the mechanic who works on your car may be a graduate of the Central High School Automotive Mechanics Course.

This is a vocational course for senior high boys offered by the Columbus Board of Education only at Central High. It provides practical training which most boys would not get otherwise except from correspondence schools. This course has been in operation for three years and the June graduating class will include the first students to go entirely through it from start to finish.

Central has a well equipped shop with modern, safe equipment. The shop is located in the southwest corner of the building with access to the alley running behind the school. It has a hydraulic lift to facilitate lubrication, exhaust system work and all adjustments to be made underneath an automobile.

A complete stock of hand tools is available in addition to some tools owned by students. The shop has a modern "exhaust gas scavenging system" which removes harmful carbon monoxide. Lighting is provided by overhead fluorescent units which make work much easier. Several complete engines are mounted on stands in one corner of the shop and are available to beginners to dismantle and study.

Modern testing equipment is provided such as a Sun Motor Analyzer which, when used by a well trained person, can diagnose almost any trouble of an engine. A distributor tester, which can thoroughly analyze the advance characteristics of a distributor, is also used by the shop. Valve grinding is easily done with the fully-equipped valve grinding machine.

Automotive theory is taught in a standard classroom using two different books. One is for beginners, explaining the fundamentals of automobile work. A more detailed study is made in the second year.

Price is Instructor

The shop usually works on about eight cars a day — anything from a lubrication to an overhaul. All work is done by the students with the aid of Sam Price, the instructor. Charges for work are kept at a minimum by charging only for parts used plus a small fee for incidentals. The gross business of the auto course during an average school year is approximately two to three thousand dollars. This course is as nearly self-sufficient as possible due to the high cost of tools and equipment. The Sun Analyzer, for instance, costs from one thousand to twelve hundred dollars.

Several graduates of Central are now working in local garages. Carl Krebs and David Simmons, both West Side boys, are now working for a local dealer. Every effort is made to find employment for graduates of the course if they desire it. There have been twenty previous graduates of the auto course and there are forty-three enrolled at the present time. Fred Boggess, '57, had his own business in a small way during his senior year and is now employed by a local Cadillac dealer.

The job possibilities in the automotive field are many and varied with a wide choice open to the graduate.

When a student graduates from this coures he is classed as an advanced learner. He is not a qualified mechanic but he is far from being a beginner.

Completes Gun Training

Army Pvt. Ronald W. Eifert, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Eifert, 84 S. Roys-av, recently completed eight weeks of advanced artillery training at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

He entered the army last September and received basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Eifert was employed by North American Aviation, Inc., in civilian life. He was graduated from St. Charles Preparatory School in 1952 and the University of Dayton in 1956.

An Appreciative Audience

It was a real pleasure this past week to be invited to address the Fifth Grade Class of Mrs. Onetta Bates at Highland School.

The class is studying communications and I was interviewed regarding the newspaper business by Miss Janis Gaskins and in turn invited to speak to the class. Janis did a real nice job with her interview.

The audience was an appreciative one and the whole event was a pleasurable interlude in a busy day.

By Their Deeds Ye Shall Know Them

The following is an excerpt from George Bernard Shaw's writings, brought to mind in these days when so often people are called on for some volunteer effort and find so many excuses why they cannot participate:

"Every person who owes his life to civilized society and who has enjoyed since his childhood its very costly protections and advantages should appear at reasonable intervals before a properly qualified jury to justify his existence, which should be summarily and painlessly terminated if he fails to justify it and it develops that he is a positive nuisance and more trouble than he is worth. NOTHING LESS WILL REALLY MAKE PEOPLE RESPONSIBLE CITIZENS."

Today and for the next two or three months a large number of people are serving their community by participation in the YMCA and YWCA Development Fund Drive. The volunteer who serves in such capacity need not fear the jury. His existence is justified by his deeds.

How True . . . How True!

A friend submits the following little ditty which so well describes the thinking of some people today:

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing so he had no radio.

He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up a sign on the highway, telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought!

He increased his meat and roll orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. . . . . .

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?

"If money stays TIGHT — we are bound to have bad business.

"There may be a big recession coming on.

"You had better prepare for poor trade."

Whereupon the father thought: "Well, my son has been to college.

He reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and roll orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son," the father said to the boy.

Career Day At West High Set March 21

Annual career day at West High School, instituted in 1953 to supply senior high students with detailed, firsthand information about their choice of vocations, has been arranged for Friday, Mar. 21.

Forty-three conferences, conducted by expert advisors in each field, will be available for students.

Keynote speaker for the assembly Friday morning will be Dr. Floyd Faust, minister of the Broad Street Christian Church. After the assembly, each student will attend the conference on his chosen career where men and women who have distinguished themselves in the fields of their choice will speak.

Most requests have been made by students for conferences in secretarial work, government service, modeling, aviation, military service, nursing, forestry and wildlife. More than 50 students are enrolled in each of these discussion workshops.

The remaining 36 conference areas contain from ten to 30 students each.

Retired Riverboat Pilot To Enter Models In Community Hobby Show At West High

FLEETED FOR THE SHOW—Bernard Savage, 211 S. Richardson-av, will display his hand-made models of famous riverboats at the Hobby Show scheduled for Mar. 25 at West High School. From left are "Juanita," tow-boat that traveled up and down the Monongahela; the luxurious "Virginia," built in 1893 with crystal chandeliers and cabins paneled in mahogany, ran down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans and carried such distinguished passengers as President and Mrs. McKinley; the original "Valley Belle" sank in the Muskingum River in 1892, killing four passengers; and the packet, "Annie Laurie," sold to coffee planters in 1894 for transporting coffee in South America.

WITH HANDS CAPABLE of navigating boats through turbulent river waters 60 years ago, Bernard Savage is still steady enough to execute the delicate detail of his models. They have been scaled one-quarter inch to a foot. Savage uses no plans but works entirely from memory. Scorning such shortcuts as stiffened lace for guard rails, he sands toothpicks, glues them in place and then cuts the piece to fit.

by Betty Daft

Among the most colorful times in Ohio's history were those years around the turn of the century. Waterways were teeming with traffic. Packets offered the last word in luxurious travel and heavy duty tow boats transported goods up and down the rivers.

Events recorded on that page of history seem to come alive again under the skilled fingers of Bernard Savage, 211 S. Richardson-av.

His years as river boat pilot and engineer, and his intimate knowledge of the boats he sailed are translated into exact scale-modal replicas, with every intricate detail painstakingly reproduced.

During his action-packed lifetime he has fought in two Indian wars, Spanish-American War and served with the Rough-riders; had been a successful builder and contractor and traveled throughout the world. But the smells and sights of the river always lured him back. However, despite all his wanderings he still considers Ohio "the best place in the world in which to live."

Began Career at Nine

Signed on as a cabin boy at nine, he received his pilot and chief engineer's license at 20. As a young man he roamed all over the globe, sailing on most of the major rivers in the world including those in South Africa, Russia, Germany, Spain, France, India, the Orient and South America.

He recalls vividly the Seine, Volga, the Danube with its precision-built system of locks; the river fronts of Calcutta, Hong

New School Gets A Name: 'Westmoor'

Westmoor Junior High . . . that is the new, yet familiar sounding name chosen by the Columbus Board of Education for its new school soon to rise on Valleyview-dr., west of Hague-av.

The selection was made Tuesday evening when the board also named three other new schools planned elsewhere in the city.

Second choice for Westmoor apparently was "Buckeye" a name which board member Dan W. DeHayes has several times tried to introduce in the city system. DeHayes offered an amendment to the Westmoor proposal but was voted down 5 to 2. Balloting then proceeded on the original proposal and resulted in a unanimous seven, according to Joseph Davis, clerk.

Dr. Harold H. Eibling, city public schools superintendent, credited Mac Pemberton, former West High coach, with submitting the favored name. He said the nearness of Westmoor-av was a big factor, besides the fact that it helps to pinpoint the school geographically.

For convience the proposed million dollar school earlier had been tabbed Valleyview Junior High. This was unsuitable, said Eibling, because of confusion bound to arise with the present Valleyview Elementary School. He named several cases where near duplication of names had been an obstacle in the past.

Westmoor Junior High will lie just south and west of Valleyview Elementary. It will accomodate 900 pupils in ultra-modern style, said architect David Schackne, Jr.

Bids on the project will be received until noon, April 11. Construction will begin soon

Honored for five years of service were Catherine Bowling, Dr. Ross Bleak, Mildred Chavous, David Close, Helen Jones,

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Daft,

I appreciated your very good coverage of our science project in "our Hilltop Record." I say "our" because it seems as if I never knew a time when I didn't enjoy it.

All my teaching experience has been on the Hilltop and there are no finer people to teach or work with than these . . . I am so glad it was agreed to let all of the fifth and sixth graders in our building see the (miniature volcano) experiment. They were so attentive and interested.

I was happy to see my former pupil Mike Mickelson of West High pictured in the Record for his outstanding project . . . . right on the same page as our pictures.

Again thanks. Sincerely,
Grace E. Smith

'Sideline' Does Pretty Well For Service Station Owner

Boats, guns and sports equipment coupled with the usual items offered in a service station may seem like a rather strange business combination. However, Glenn G. Howell, Jr., finds it works very well although it keeps him busy managing both setups.

He is the owner of Howell's Sunoco Service Station, 2085 Sullivant-av. His "sideline" business is the retailing of marine equipment, guns and various related items — a sideline that nets about one third of his yearly profits!

A lifetime Hilltopper and graduate of West High School, Howell entered the "gas game" in 1945 as a partner of Walter Krueger, owner of Krueger's Sunoco station, 2570 W. Broad-st. Five years later he opened his own filling station at its present location.

Eliminated Car Washing

In 1953, he figured out a way to get out of the car washing end of the business — he partitioned part of the station, had it wood-paneled and began selling boats! Because of his own love for boating, Howell put a lot of effort into making his marine sales a success including annual trips to various boat shows around the country.

Glenn G Howell, Jr.

He employs three persons in his enterprise besides his wife, Robbie, who acts as bookkeeper. The Howells reside at 431 Nashoba-av with their 10-year-old son and daughter, 7.

Howell's plans for the future are to either expand his boat sales space or to go into sports equipment as a full-time business. "Interest in boating has grown to a tremendous scale in the last few years and now Ohio rates third in the nation in boating enthusiasts," he said.

He is a member of HBA, American Legion, Masonic Order, Marine Dealers Association and Hoge Memorial Church.

Society Writes Lincoln Report For President

A progress report of the Lincoln Historical Association of Ohio, Inc., will be presented to the President of the United States upon its completion, according to Emile Reiss, secretary of the organization.

Reiss, attorney at 20 N. Wheatland-av, said, "We want the President to know what we are doing in Ohio to advance a Lincoln celebration here in 1958 and 1959. In the final analysis, it is up to the people of Ohio to write this report and they will have a great voice in its compilation."

The first tree in a proposed series of tree-plantings by the group was planted on Abraham Lincoln's birthday this year on the south lawn of the State Office building. The association recently filed a "Lincoln Tree Planning Resolution" in the offices of the Secretary of State Ted Brown. Reiss said that made official the project to honor Lincoln and the war [illegible].

The organization has adopted the slogan, "In Lincoln's Memory—Plant a Tree."

For Your Thoughts

Question: What do you think of the new spring styles in women's clothing?

Mrs. Harold Bryson, 47 Powhaton-av: "Well if you mean the 'sack dresses', I hate them! I don't think they have any shape and they certainly don't make women look like human beings at all!"

Mrs. Ralph R. Lind, 402 S. Hague-av: "I think the new styles are just sloppy! I really don't see how they can last very long because any woman who pride in herself certainly won't wear them. Those 'sack dresses' don't do a thing for a person's figure whether she has one or not! My best answer to the question is that I'm not going to buy anything with the new 'sloppy look' this year!"

Mrs. Arthur A. Naitner, 3170 Wicklow-rd: "I'm a grandmother and I don't think the chemises were designed for women my age. I do think they are very attractive on young women—and they do leave a lot of room for 'guessing' on the part of [illegible]."

Mrs. Willis Peterson, 262 S. Wheatland-av: "Well, I like the hats this year because they are very chic. But those straight dresses leave me no where! I'm built small and slender and should wear full clothes. I think it depends on the type figure a woman has whether she'll look good in a chemise or not."

Mrs. James E. Semon, 385 S. Terrace-av: "The chemises might fit some women better than others but I really don't think anyone looks good in them! I like the cloche hats pretty well but the pointed-toe shoes are not for me."

Model Plane Group Starts In This Area

Twenty youngsters and adults gathered at the hobby shop at 2469 W. Broad-st Monday night to lay plans for a model airplane club for this area.

Through the efforts of Sgt. Leach R. Landis of the Columbus Police Department, the local youngsters assemble every afternoon and on Saturdays to share the fun of building and flying model airplanes.

On Monday, Mar. 31, at 7:30 p.m., the group will meet again to select a name and elect officers. When membership is sufficient, the club will apply for a charter in the Academy of [illegible] Aeronautics, according to Robert Worley, one of the advisers.

An open invitation has been extended to any modeler, young or old, experienced or not, to attend the meetings. For further information, call BR. 9-9647.

Commissioners Rule In County

The Board of County Commissioners has many different administrative and semi-judicial functions.

The Franklin County Board includes Henry A. Koontz, Fred C. Berkhemer, Harry T. Vigor. Every year one is selected as president. Vigor is current Board president.

Reilly

The Board's administrative jurisdiction is far-reaching. First, it is responsible for most major county appropriations. It is also in charge of the Courthouse, the Detention Home, the Children's Home and the old and new Memorial Halls. Further, it supervises county welfare institutions.

The Board is, by law, a three-member body; each member elected to a four-year term. The members of the Board are on an equal basis. Each has one vote at hearings and each has equal administrative responsibilities. Formal decisions are made on a majority basis.

The commissioners' most difficult functions are in their semi-judicial capacity, involving matters of zoning and annexation.

To change a zoning classification one must first apply to the Rural Zoning Commission. Such application is sent to the Regional Planning Commission which passes upon it and sends it back. The Rural Zoning Commission then has an open hearing, after it has advertised the matter for 30 days. Subsequently, it makes a decision and certifies it to the commissioners.

The commissioners, after 30 days of further advertising, hold a public hearing and render the final decision short of the courts. Thus, the commissioners occupy the key position in zoning matters.

Annexation is the commissioners' second semi-judicial responsibility. This is another foreground issue as a result of community growth and expansion. It, too, requires a step-by-step legal procedure.

The first step is the filing of a petition with the Board. Then, the description of the area to be annexed is checked by the county engineer's office. And the matter is properly advertised and set down for hearing before the commissioners at a date not less than 60 days from the time the petition is filed.

The Board makes a decision, which is final unless appeals are made to the court.

Among its other functions, the Board has administrative jurisdiction over the sanitary engineers's office and is also charged with responsibility for county sewer and water lines.

This represents another general area of county government now in the foreground because of the present huge population growth.

Gelatin Molds Make Attractive Dish

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

COMBINE tomato aspic and hard-boiled eggs in a gelatin loaf or ring for Lenten meatless menus. Add vegetables and mayonnaise and you really have something to eat.

Tomato Egg Loaf (6 servings)

Part I: One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1¼ cups tomato juice, divided into 2 parts, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice.

Sprinkle gelatin on cold tomato juice in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; add salt and lemon juice. Pour into loaf pan and chill until almost firm.

Part II: One envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash cayenne pepper, ¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 1½ teaspoons grated onion, ½ cup finely diced celery, ¼ cup finely diced green pepper, ¼ cup chopped pimento, 4 hard-boiled eggs, chopped.

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water in saucepan to soften. Remove from heat; add salt and lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Cool. Gradually add gelatin mixture to mayonnaise; mix in remaining ingredients.

Turn on top of tomato loaf in loaf pan. Unmold and garnish with ripe olives and salad greens. Serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.

Note: 1 cup flaked tuna or salmon can be used in place of [illegible]

Belief Means Little Without Taking Root

WHY did Christ forbid His Apostles to tell others that He was the Messiah whose coming had been prophesied?

Probably because it was of little value that men should have a sort of second-hand knowledge of His true role. It means nothing to believe that Christ is the Messiah unless the belief has taken root and has reality in our hearts and lives. It can't be just hearsay that we have adopted from someone else.

Since they perceived His nature and mission, Christ told them how His mission was to be fulfilled, in ways that must have startled the disciples and challenged their faith.

Many passages of scripture make it clear that they thought He was going to set up an earthly kingdom; yet here He made it plain that He was to fulfill His mission through persecution and death. It is true that He spoke of the resurrection, but this must have seemed a far-off thing in the disappointment of their immediate hopes.

There was a struggle going on in Christ's own soul, a struggle which reached its climax in the agony and prayer in the Garden of Olives almost to the very moment of the crucifixion.

We think perhaps of Christ as having mastered temptation at the beginning of His public life but we forget that He was in all points tempted just as we are. We fail to realize the intensity of that temptation to turn from the way of the cross and to reject a mission that meant His death. But the triumph was found in the clear word of decision and faith: "Not my will but thine be done."

Here Christ enunciates the greath truth that it is only in spending and giving life that we can save it.

TENSHUN, KITE PILOTS!
Keep 'em flying...safely!

March winds are fine for kite-flying, but may we suggest some sensible directions to keep in mind?
Keep kites away from utility lines. If your kite does become entangled in a line, call the Electric Company to have a lineman remove it. Only he can remove it safely. Use only wooden crossbars. Use only dry string.
We ask your cooperation in following these common sense rules. Have fun . . . but fly 'em safely!

Riverboat . . .

Kong and Singapore, "toughest in the world;" and his unforgettable adventure on the Amazon.

"Coffee planters from South America came to Ohio looking for a boat to carry coffee out of the Amazon country. They bought the packet "Annie Laurie," and hired another man and myself to take her down and train a native crew."

Christmas on the Amazon

"We took her to New Orleans where she was bulkheaded and a deep sea tug towed us on down. On Christmas Day, 1895, we landed at the mouth of the Amazon.

"We went clear up to the headwaters of the Amazon where the natives were primitive, savage headhunters. The wonders of our rifles and dynamite really impressed them; by the time we left a year later they looked on us as kind of gods; they would have made us kings of the jungle for the services we had done."

"We killed a man-eating tiger that had carried away a couple of their children, dynamited alligators that came up on the beach and gave soap and other supplies to their witch doctors.

He describes his years as a soldier as, "I wouldn't have missed any of it, but I sure didn't want any more."

His experience included two Indian wars, three years in the First Cavalry under Captain Wainwright, and service with Teddy Roosevelt's Roughriders.

Mingled With All Kinds

"Doctors, lawyers and millionaires, cowboys, engineers and probably some thieves, belonged to the Roughriders. It was a real crew and Teddy Roosevelt was a real man."

After the war in Cuba he returned to Ohio, married, and left the river to work as engineer and lock-master of the locks in Marietta.

The yearly floods, with their toll in life and property are still fresh in his memory.

He describes one near-disaster with, "I remember one year, a 60,000 gallon tank of gasoline broke loose, floated down the river and came to rest in a tree near our house. And a tank of paraffin landed beside our kitchen door.

River on Rampage

"Every year it happened . . . the river overflowing its banks and carrying its strange cargo. First came the chickens and pig pens and then, in order, the 'Chic Sales,' the houses and finally the barns."

In 1917, Savage moved his family to Canton and, soon after to Columbus where they settled on Richardson-av. A daughter, Emma, and a son, Clifford, make their home with him. Another son, J. R., lives on Woodbury; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Evans on Lockbourne-rd and a granddaughter, Mrs. Juanita Whitman, on Demorest-rd.

Mr. Savage established the contracting business his son, J. R. now operates, when he came to Columbus.

Still active at 83 he remarks with humor about his "retirement."

"At 65, I retired. My son took over the business and I retired. It lasted ten days."

"A few years later I retired again. My wife and I went to Florida to sit in the sun and let the world go by. But that didn't last long. I met a friend who was building a road, and anyhow I just didn't like Florida."

HEALTH-SCIENCE EXPERIMENTS
by Donna Hendrix

Mrs. Dicks' Health-Science classes have been making an extensive study of diseases.

Richard Peck, Mike Fetherolf and Mike Reed, interested in the topic "Heart Disease," bought a beef heart from David Davies. The heart, which came from a 1,000 pound bull, weighed eight pounds. The boys cut the heart open to see main coronary arteries, with their many branches. Mike Reed brought in a chicken heart for comparison.

Mr. Canfield's classes have been studying the eye. They purchased a bull's eye from David Davies and dissected it. The class compared the various parts with the parts of the human eye.

Seek Charter for Hilltonia

The board also resolved to ask the Ohio Department of Education for chartering of Hilltonia Junior High. This would place Hilltonia on a fully accredited plan in time for its first ninth graders next year, Eibling said.

The board also is asking for charters for three other city schools.

Spring Is Here . . . Exclusive 'Fox-Martin Hotel' Is Ready For Feathered Guests

OPEN FOR THE SEASON — The 52-room bird hotel, in the yard of Howard Fox, 639 Crescent-rd, is ready for its usual summer occupancy by purple martins. Designed and built for the insect-eating birds, the five-foot long hotel has 700 shingles and more than 100 hinges. Ingeniously hinged perches permit easy eviction of sparrows, starlings and other unwelcome guests. Fox particularly enjoys the distinctive, early morning song of the martins and their graceful sweep on insects.

Photos by Stuart Foster

GONE SOUTH FOR THE WINTER—One fold-up of the perches closes the hotel for the season when the martins have departed for the sunny South. Fox, owner of Fox's Cafe, 2758 Sullivant-av, is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Santa Maria Lodge; Loyal Order of Moose and the Elks.

SPRING HOUSECLEANING—A second fold of the perches opens the apartments for cleaning, essential because unsanitary and infested nests will destroy the young. The feature also permits easy removal of other birds nesting in the exclusive martin hotel.

UNIQUE SUSPENSION — The house, anchored to two pipes which are supported by a five-inch iron pipe set deep in concrete, can be lowered by removal of bottom rod. Upper rod serves as a pivot.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Prunes, apples, bananas, grapefruit.

Vegetables—Carrots, new cabbage, canned corn, frozen

Protein Foods—Chuck roast, rib-end pork roast, large eggs, dairy products.

PRUNES A' PLENTY

There's something about the subtle meaty flavor of prunes that gives heartiness to winter-end menus. Besides, they are a good choice dollarwise. Two consecutive years of high production of this west coast fruit has resulted in an abundant supply which means low prices.

Prunes are packaged according to size, or the number it takes to make a pound. Large prunes are desirable for salads and special dishes. The medium and small sizes are more economical for general use.

Store prunes (tightly covered) in a dry, cool, well ventilated place. In hot weather it is best to keep them in the refrigerator.

Good for You—Prunes, like all dried fruits, are readily digested because their concentrated fruit sugars are absorbed directly into the blood stream where they serve as an immediate source of energy. They are a good source of vitamin "A", contain some iron and niacin, and other elements that help to regulate bodily functions.

Easy to Prepare—You can use prunes in so many ways. They are delicious as they come from the package. They may be cooked, just as they are, without soaking, or they may be soaked first, then cooked. The latter method of preparation results in a thicker syrup on the cooked fruit. For added flavor add slices of orange and/or lemon, whole cloves, or stick cinnamon in the water during soaking or cooking. Prunes are also excellent in baked desserts, cookies, cakes, puddings, frozen desserts, quick breads, salads, sandwich fillings, stuffings, and served on the platter with meats.

TASTY SALAD

Fill pitted, cooked prunes with cottage cheese and top with toasted coconut. Serve on crisp salad greens with a tart French dressing. Sliced oranges are good with this, too.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Fishing Pioneers Still Alive

I just received from the Fred Arbogast Co. a silver Hawaiian Wiggler to commemorate the silver anniversary of these popular baits, and to serve as a long-distance celebration of the official presentation of a similar bait to Vic Simich of Akron. Simich was a personal friend of the late Fred Arbogast and was one of the first men ever to come into wide use. True-Temper of Geneva, O., brought out the first step-down solid steel rod. This appeared in the 1920's, and was a hexagonal rod that decreased in diameter toward the tip.

Shakespeare made bait casting "almost automatic" with the first levelwind reel. It was called the Marhoff, and the name should jog the memory of many anglers. Soon, anti-back lash devices of all types were on the market, and have not diminished over the years.

The slick fishing tackle of today has been developed very recently by engineers. This equipment, of course, is a pleasure to use. All refinements have been provided for the consumer. Not so long ago fishermen had to build in their own refinements. They experimented until they had a rod, reel, line and bait that would catch fish. It's easier now, but the romance and spirit of adventure is gone.

I envy Vic Simich in a way. As he tosses his silver Hawaiian Wiggler into a pocket of lilly-pads, he will have many memories of the earlier days. He will remember the times he and Fred Arbogast went fishing, and the times they worked in basement workshops developing a weedless lure that took the country by storm and made fishing history.

[redacted]

A lot of anglers in this area watched the growth of bait casting first hand. The sport was born and nurtured in Ohio and surrounding states. The first multiplying reels were made by watch makers in Kentucky and were widely used in early days around Cincinnati. The first "plug" was whittled by James Heddon of Michigan, and it caught bass in Dowagiac Creek. Innovations and improvements followed rapidly.

Long bamboo flyrods were changed a little, and adapted to bait casting. Dr. Henshall, an Ohioan, was the first "famous" bait caster, and his books gave the sport a boost. Dr. Henshall used the long bamboo rods in his bass fishing.

Steel Introduced in 20's

You don't have to be very old to remember the flurry of excitement among fishermen when tubular steel and solid steel rods

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Roberta Piar, Jack A. Comston

MR. AND MRS. JACK ALLEN COMSTON

West Park Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Roberta Ann Piar and Mr. Jack Allen Comston Feb. 7. Rev. L. Young read the double ring candlelight service at 8 p.m. before an altar decorated with palms and carnations.

The bride is the daughter of West Jefferson Chief of Police and Mrs. William McGuire, 286 Franklin-st, West Jefferson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. John Comston, 17 Jones-av.

The ballerina-length bridal gown of pastel blue lace over satin was designed with a boat neckline, short sleeves worn with matching mitts, buoffant skirt and a matching, sheer cummerbund with a double bow in back.

She wore a lace-brimmed velvet hat and carried a white orchid mounted on a white Bible with streamers of carnations.

Miss Glenna Goodin, maid of honor, wore a blue ballerina-length taffeta gown with a fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves and full skirt. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Miss Shirley Comston, maid of honor, chose a pink gown of lace over taffeta with three-quarter length sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of blue and white carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church basement. Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Lares, Mrs. Leonard Janisch, Mrs. Richard Medert and Mrs. Vinney Hodaly, from Long Island, N.Y.

The new Mrs. Comston was graduated from West Jefferson High School.

Mr. Comston attended Central High School, served with the US Marines and is now employed at Hays Manufacturing Co.

Following a trip to Key West, the couple is at home at 1773 Weiler-av.

Anna Mae Ferguson, Clarence Lares Exchange Marriage Vows March 7

MRS. CLARENCE LARES

Palms, candlabra, vases of white gladioli and pompons decorated the altar of West Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union, Mar. 7 for the wedding of Miss Anna Mae Ferguson and Mr. Clarence Lares. Rev. D. C. McPherson officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

Miss Ferguson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ferguson, 125 Garfield-st, West Jefferson. Mr. Lares is the son of Mrs. Maybelle Lackey, 391 Madison-dr N., West Jefferson and Mr. William Lares, 1057 Williams-rd, Columbus.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned of chantilly lace and tulle over satin, designed with a scalloped sabrina neckline, fitted bodice scattered with iridescents, and long tapering sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a queen's crown of matching lace and she carried a white pearl Bible topped with a white orchid and shattered carnations.

Miss Ferguson chose her three sisters for her attendants. Donna Ferguson, maid of honor wore a pink ballerina-length gown of embroidered sheer nylon, designed with a scalloped sabrina neckline, fitted bodice, brief sleeves and soft cummerbund with a full gathered skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid, Delores Ferguson and junior bridesmaid, Mary Lou Ferguson, wore mint green gowns, duplicates of the one worn by the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. All three wore circular veils caught to matching hats encrusted with seed pearls.

Flower girl, Bonnie McPherson, carried a basket of rose petals.

The bride's mother wore blue lace while the bridegroom's mother wore lavender. Both had navy blue and pink accessories and were corsages of pink carnations.

Mr. Don Ryan served as best man and ushers were Mr. Art Sibbolds and Mr. Don Eyer.

Hostesses at the reception held at the new home of the new bride and bridegroom were Mrs. Jack Comston, Mrs. D. C. McPherson, Mrs. Daniel Parker and Mrs. Giles Van-Dyke.

The new Mrs. Lares is a graduate of West Jefferson High School and Mt. Carmel School of Nursing and is employed at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mr. Lares, a graduate of South High School, is now associated with his father in the Lares TV Sales and Service at the Great Southern Shopping Center. He served four years with the US Navy.

The couple is at home at 377 Madison-dr N., West Jefferson.

TOO PRETTY TO EAT—Simple parchment cones filled with frosting can produce, in the skilled hands of an expert, pretty, pastel cake decorations with all the delicacy of spun sugar. A group of women enrolled in the class being held at the Hilltop YWCA are learning the enviable art. Attentive students shown above are, from left, Mrs. Fred Richardson, 1864 W. Mound-st; Mrs. William Lutz, instructor, and Mrs. Virginia McGaughlin, 1265 W. Broad-st. The group meets on Friday of each week.

A beginners' class in the art of cake decorating is underway at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2738 W. Broad-st, under the tutelage of Mrs. William Lutz, who holds a master's degree as a decorator.

Sessions are held each Friday morning, 10 a.m. to noon, for eight weeks. Registration in the group is still open. The course is one of many at the Hilltop "Y."

Insisting that the basic technique of devising lovely flowers and intricate ornaments from frosting is really quite simple, Mrs. Lutz advises the use of home-made parchment cones, fitted with metal tips for decorating.

A graduate of the Wagner School of Cake Decorating, St. Paul, Minn., she has a baker's license and works from her home, 54 Obetz-av, Obetz. Her cakes are a familiar feature at school, church and community events around Obetz, as she donates many of her creations.

Simple recipes, suggested for decorating purposes, include:

FROSTING

½ lb. vegetable shortening (part butter)
1 to 1½ lbs. powdered sugar
Cream together and add:
½ tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. almond extract
Pinch salt
Water, drop at a time until consistency of heavy whipped cream.
Makes enough frosting to ice and decorate nine-inch layer cake.

Royal icing is used by decorators to make the more complicated decorations with upright form and shape. Although edible, the frosting becomes very dry and fragile and will crumble on contact.

ROYAL FROSTING
3 egg whites, beaten until very dry
Pinch of salt
½ tsp. cream of tartar
Add powdered sugar a little at a time until 3¾ cups are used (as much as 5 cups are sometimes needed to reach proper consistency)
Beat from shiny to dull-satin stage. The frosting will keep indefinitely if covered well and kept moist.

GOING TOO FAST

Single car incidents reflect the driver's failure to operate at speeds where he can stop in the assured clear distance ahead. Some emergency situation caused him to leave the highway, to collide with some object other than with another vehicle—or in his attempt to steer or stop out of one kind of trouble, he wound up in another kind of accident.

EXTRA CAUTION NEEDED

Persons over 65 years of age need to be extra careful to avoid falls. Injury seems increasingly severe as the birthdays pile up. There is the possibility that decreasing agility may make older persons fall more frequently. At least three fourths of the victims of fatal falls are in the upper age brackets. More than extra care, extreme caution is required when walking outdoors at this season.

Mr. C. C. Hartley, Publisher
Hartley Newspapers
2465 W. Broad St.
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hartley:

The tremendous response to our advertisement, which appeared in The Hilltop Record on February 26, prompts me to write and express my appreciation for the splendid job your newspaper performed for us.

Your fine publication carried the only advertising used by us to publicize our "Super Value Days" sale and reader reaction to this event again proved to us the exceptional pulling power of The Hilltop Record.

It will also be of interest to you to know that many of our customers went out of their way to mention that the Hilltop Record was responsible for their presence in our store. We doubt that there is another community anywhere as loyal to their own newspaper as are Hilltoppers.

Thanks again to you and your staff for another job well done for the Mann Furniture Co.

Sincerely yours,
Richard Mann

Jones Lumber Co Plays Host To Special Students

Jones Lumber Co., 57 N. Sylvan-av, has been recognized as a model lumber yard as attested by the fact that the firm was host last Saturday to 30 students enrolled in the 18th Lumber and Building Material Course at OSU.

Included in the group were registrants from Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia.

Students were accompanied by Charles E. Benson, executive vice president of the Lumber Dealers' Association and Leonard Getz, field secretary who is acting as class co-ordinator.

The lumber course covers such subjects as construction and estimating, merchandising and management, business law, legislation, and building products in general. Lumber firms in a wide area make use of the course in training new personnel, and as a refresher course for employes already employed by lumber firms.

Industrial Equipment Firm Is Building New Salesroom

The new green tile structure rising on the corner of Wheatland and Sullivant-avs is being built for the Garland Equipment Company, now located in the rear of 345 Clarendon-av.

The five-year-old firm is owned and operated by Jim and Bill Garland at Bill's residence. The brothers have dreamed of this new building since the founding of the company and plans have been in progress for the past two years. The firm retails industrial machine shop equipment.

The one-story structure will have 5,000 square feet of stock and display area plus general office space of 700 square feet. The building has high ceilings to permit later installation of overhead cranes. A 36-foot display window fronts on Sullivant-av.

The owners will employ around three persons in the shop to assist them. "Perhaps more, depending on the success of the larger quarters," said Jim Garland, a resident at 387 S. Wayne-av.

The building was begun on Feb. 3 and is expected to be completed by the end of April or early May depending on weather conditions. A service station formerly occupied the site but for the past few years it was used as a garage for the Garland firm's six trucks.

Columbus Academy Will Award Scholarship

The Columbus Academy Alumni Scholarship, covering four years of high school training at the academy, is awarded annually to an eighth-grade boy from schools of Franklin County and vicinity.

The award is based on moral character, all-around ability, intelligence and leadership. The applicant must show that without the financial aid afforded by the scholarship, he would not have been able to attend the Academy.

The Academy's curriculum is designed solely for college preparatory students; and the school sends all graduates on to college.

Candidates will be screened by means of aptitude and achievement tests and personal interviews with members of the faculty and the Alumni Scholarship Committee. Applications must be made by May 15, to George D. Bown, Faculty Representative, The Columbus Academy Alumni Association, 1939 Franklin-pk South.

Flood Of 1913 Is Recalled . . . . Could It Happen Again?

PANORAMA OF WEST SIDE DEVASTATION IN 1913—On Thursday, Mar. 27, 45 years ago, the flood waters began to recede leaving a desolate, torn and death-ridden area to remind "city fathers" that all had not been done to protect Columbus. The first bridge on the left, is the Rich-st bridge which was condemned but which outlasted three main downtown bridges to its right when the flood hit! Left center is what remained of the Town-st bridge; right center is the abutment which supported the State-st bridge before the flood. Far right is the remaining half of the Broad-st bridge. Nearly every bridge that crossed the Scioto River was weakened to the danger point or washed away, completely separating many persons from their West Side and Hilltop homes for several days. Rescue workers in boats were unable to reach marooned flood victims in some areas until the waters began to recede on the third day.

BEAN DINNER DATES CHANGED!

The annual Hilltop Bean Dinner has been moved up to Tuesday and Wednesday, June 24 and 25, instead of the previously announced dates of July 29 and 30, according to Chester Herbert, Chairman. The change was made necessary for a variety of reasons, he said.

Sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association and customarily held at Westgate Park, the affair has been moved this year to the Sullivant Avenue Airport. Net proceeds will be added to the Hilltop YMCA building fund.

The HBA has initiated preliminary plans for this year's Bean Dinner, but because of the benefit which will be derived by the entire community from the new YMCA, help is being solicited from all organizations which can aid in making the event a financial success. Groups desiring to lend a hand are requested to contact C. N. Campbell, HBA executive secretary, at the Association headquarters, at 3183 W. Broad-st.

Mrs. Holt Acts As Unofficial Employment Bureau For Boys

"If growing boys are busy, they are bound to be good. And if I can help keep them busy, I'm just doing my part to improve the caliber of future Hilltop citizens."

That sums up the attitude of a Hilltop housewife who donates her time to serve as unofficial "employment bureau" for members of the Hilltop Lions Athletic Club who range in age from 12 to 18 years.

While others merely give "lip service" to the prevention of juvenile delinquency and the promotion of good youth citizenship, Mrs. Arthur D. Holt of 220 Binns-blvd spends many hours each week on the telephone, making certain that these boys get a chance.

Want Ads Assist

This story can also be considered a good example of the pulling power of classified advertising in The Hilltop Record. The response of Record readers to the advertisement donated by the publishers each week has really established the need for the telephone bureau.

Here's how it works:

Local residents who need something done around the house or place of business that could be accomplished by one of the youths merely telephone Mrs. Holt at her home number, BR. 4-5690. Then Mrs. Holt calls one of the 19 boys currently in her file of members seeking part-time employment and has him get in touch with the prospective employer.

"From then on, it's up to the two to negotiate," declares Mrs. Holt. "We know that people who are willing to employ these deserving youths are also generous, so we don't feel that any specific rate or wage is indicated."

It's best to call her in the afternoon or evening, Mrs. Holt says. With spring upon us and lawn care and gardening in the offing, she expects a rush of calls.

Variety of Services

Jobs performed by the youths are many. One woman wants her halls cleaned once a month. A man wanted the ivy cut from the walls of his brick home. A family preparing to move into a spic-n-span new home in Lincoln Village wanted assistance in cleaning up the clutter left by construction workers. Garag-

A "one-man" employment bureau for youths in the Hilltop Lions Athletic Club seeking part-time employment is Mrs. Arthur D. Holt of 220 Binns-blvd. Spring housecleaning and other demands should keep her phone jangling in coming weeks.

Management Arriving For IHC Parts Depot

Top management has been assigned for the $2 million International Harvester parts depot now nearing completion at 3600 Sullivant-av.

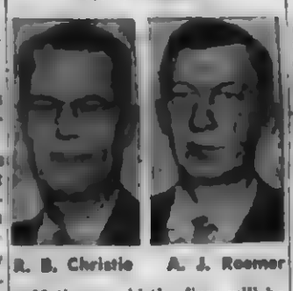
W. J. Mathews of Richmond, Calif., will be manager. Mathews has managed a similar plant there for the last 10 years. He and two assistants arrived in the city Tuesday for establishing offices.

Assistant manager will be R. B. Christie, who leaves a similar position at Atlanta, Ga. He and Mathews have been with IHC for 29 years.

A. J. Roemer of the company's Broadview, Ill. plant (near Chicago) will be office manager.

All will move their families here as soon as homes are located.

The new Columbus depot is the last of a system of 13 built by the company since 1947. Officials expect to take possession about June 1.



Mathews said hiring of new personnel would be delayed until that time. About 150 will be hired at first, he said.

The two buildings, just across from Westgate Manor are at the front of a 70-acre plot. One, covering 50,000 square feet, will be the farm equipment sales building and also contain offices for a small staff moving from the Chestnut-st offices. This group is managed by N. G. Hites. The parts depot, three times larger, will stock some 65,000 items for all IHC lines. This includes farm implements, tractors, household appliances, trucks and heavy construction and road equipment.

In addition, a large outdoor storage shed of concrete under steel, is being built.

R. B. Christie A. J. Roemer

Mathews said the firm will be equipped to furnish overnight emergency supplies for customers in all of Ohio, Kentucky, and parts of four neighboring states.

Gifts In 'Y' Building Drive Off To 'Encouraging' Start

Early reports received in the current solicitation in the Hilltop Special Gifts Division of the YM-YW Development Fund drive are quite encouraging, according to Bill Jones, chairman of the group.

Through Tuesday evening this division reported a total of $10,383 received from special contributors with but a very few of the large number of prospect cards reported in. Workers were generally enthusiastic about the response. Numerous large pledges have been received.

This is a part of the county-wide fund drive for new buildings for the YMCA and YWCA. An amount of $350,000 is scheduled to be set up for building of the Hilltop "Y" facility at Valleyview and Hague.

Plans for the local building include a large swimming pool, numerous meeting rooms and recreation areas. Outside baseball diamonds will be developed this summer just as soon as the weather will permit.

Actual construction of the building will depend on the success of the capital funds drive. Local board members are pushing an early start on the program. Plans are scheduled to be completed within about two weeks.

Following the special gifts drive now under way, more teams will take the campaign to every home on the Hilltop.

The area west of Columbus will be solicited as a project of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club. That drive will be headed by Malcolm Pennell of the real estate firm of Kuhn & Pennell.

BAKE SALE SUNDAY

St. Aloysius Booster Club will sponsor a bake sale Sunday, Mar. 30, after 8, 10 a.m. and noon masses. Proceeds will be used to buy athletic equipment.

Experts Say Area Is Poorly Protected

By Ray Shaffer

"Columbus, very largely, is no better protected from flood danger now than it was in 1913 if similar weather conditions prevailed," says C. C. Chambers, former chief consulting engineer for the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District.

Chambers is now chief engineer for the Muskingum Conservancy District and considered by many to be one of the nation's best flood control authorities.

"May the lessons they (floods) teach be laid to heart and acted upon so that disasters of this kind may be foreseen and prevented wherever humanly possible." This is quoted from "America's Greatest Flood and Tornado Calamity," a book published in 1913 about the Ohio-Indiana floods. This week, the 45th anniversary of the flood, this appeal could well be reconsidered.

Now the question arises: What has been done today to protect Columbus and the Scioto Valley from floods?

Contrary to the belief of many, Columbus is little better protected now than it was in 1913, according to many local and national authorities.

C. T. Lindblom, present engineer for the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District, at a recent luncheon at the Southern Hotel, said:

"A lot of people living on the West Side are living under a false sense of security. The city is not protected against another flood disaster! A reservoir is needed at Mill Creek, levees should be built on both banks of the Scioto near Grandview-av, and the river's channels should be deepened to assure faster flow through the city."

Chambers backs up Lindblom's assertions saying: "the water which flowed into the West Side just south of Grandview-av was from the swollen Scioto River which really caused the disaster. Many persons believe it was partly due to the Olentangy River but that is not true.

"Columbus needs flood protection today as far as the Scioto River is concerned. The Delaware Dam controls the Olentangy watershed but the Scioto has little control. The O'Shaughnessy and Griggs dams were built for water storage and not flood control."

Chambers went on to say, "Water is always kept at the peak of those two dams and more often than not is spilling over. Any new water would not be controlled. If heavy rains prevailed again as it did in 1913 there is every chance that Columbus would be hit by another terrible flood — the love of West Side, of course getting the worst of it."

Urges Dam at Mill Creek

Chambers said that a dam is needed at Mill Creek, an important tributary to the Scioto north of the city. It would control a substantial amount of water that would take the peak off of any flood. It would also provide a wealth of water supply that will be needed in future years to supply this growing city. Recreational facilities could also be provided at Mill Creek.

"Besides protecting itself," Chambers said, "Columbus has a moral obligation to protect the Scioto Valley south of the city in Pickaway and Ross counties. In the last few years, these two counties alone have suffered agricultural losses annually in excess of $1 million due to floods."

A spokesman for the Regional Planning Division said there has been a controversy as to whether the city or the federal government should build the Mill Creek reservoir. He said the city will benefit from the project regardless of who builds it and it should be done

Local Carpenter Listed Satisfactory After Fall

Clement R. Reese, 40, of 38[illegible] S. Warren-av, is listed in satisfactory condition today at University Hospital where he was taken after falling several feet from a temporary platform on the twelfth floor roof of the Ohio State University men's dormitory Thursday afternoon.

Three-hour sessions of worship beginning at noon on Apr. 4 are scheduled at St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, [illegible] Memorial Presbyterian Church, 2930 W. Broad-st; and Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, 2632 Sullivant-av.

[illegible] council of seven [illegible] periods. Everyone is invited and may remain for one or as many periods desired.

For the first time, the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod will hold three-hour Union Good Friday services in Columbus beginning at noon at Zion Lutheran Church, 766 S. High-st. SAY CHICKS, BUNNIES NOT SUITABLE TOYS

The Humane Society is happy to learn from a survey that the once thriving Easter chick and bunny trade has declined considerably.

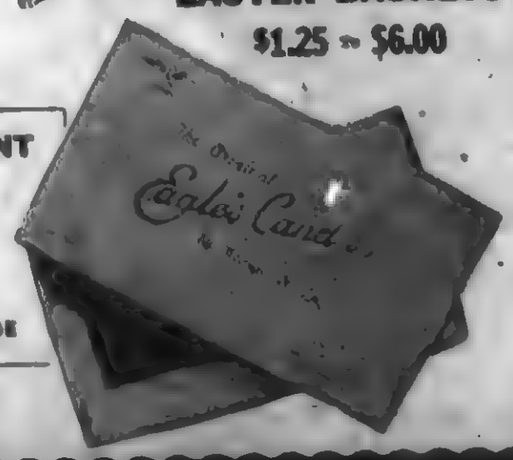
"Parents who place bunnies or chicks in their children's Easter baskets are doing a great disservice not only to the animals, but to the children," said Thomas Justice, manager of the Columbus Humane Society. "Neither animal is a suitable household pet and when sold for a plaything, it soon dies because of either mishandling or unsuitable conditions."

In spite of the annual warning of the Humane Society to not buy baby chicks, ducklings, geese and rabbits, there will be thousands presented as gifts by Apr. 6. "Therefore, we urge that great care be taken to keep these little creatures alive," Justice said. "Proper food, regular feedings and comfortable living conditions are vital. During the first week, the temperature must be kept between 90 and 95 degrees and at 75 for many weeks afterward. Special food and fresh water must be supplied regularly. The pen or box must be kept clean at all times as baby animals are very susceptible to germs and disease. Most important, they must never be handled as their bone structure is very delicate and a gentle squeeze, a light blow, or a fall will break legs, wings, and ribs. Such animals are not TOYS and should not be purchased or obtained for that purpose."

Donations Here For Nephrosis Reach $1574.60

Contributions from the Hilltop-West Columbus area totaled $1574.60 in the recent Nephrosis Fund Drive, according to Mrs. Stanley Klein, chairman.

The second annual drive for the local Nephrosis chapter, it was conducted in Franklin County and several Central Ohio communities. Overall gifts now reach $18,626 said Mrs. Klein gratefully.



"The money aids research at Children's and University Hospitals on nephrosis, nephritis and allied kidney diseases. Part of the funds help with necessary medication of afflicted children in this area," said Mrs. Klein.

Mrs. William Wiseman, 697 S. Terrace-av, was district chairman for this area.

Team captains were Mrs. Maxine McFarland, Mrs. Carl F. Younkin, Mrs. Thomas Plummer, Mrs. Rose Mary Longerbone, Mrs. Charles E. McKee, jr., Mrs. Robert Vaginer, Mrs. E. J. Bell, Mrs. Edward Rigby, and Mrs. Ralph Primmer.

Design 100-Bed Unit For State Hospital

The State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction has released this architect's sketch of an $840,000 reception and intensive treatment unit to be built at the Columbus State Hospital. Dr. Robert A. Haines, department director, said the new facility will fulfill a need of long standing at the institution. It will have a capacity of 100 beds. Facing Broad-st, it will lie south of the present main building. The project will be financed with funds appropriated by the 102nd General Assembly from the $150 million bond issue approved by Ohio voters. It is one of many facilities to be built in a long-range construction program, department spokesmen said. The State Hospital serves the following counties: Logan, Champaign, Clark, Marion, Union, Madison, Fayette, Morrow, Delaware, Franklin, Pickaway Licking and Fairfield. Architect for the project is Van Buren Ayers & Blackburn, of Columbus.

German Shepherd Club Opens Its Training To All Breeds

THIS SMALL ARMY of well-trained German Shepherd dogs is certainly not camera-shy—the dogs sat at attention with and without their masters with only a brief word of command. The animals are now being trained in the Shepherd Club's advanced obedience class. Owners and their dogs, left to right: first row, Mrs. Keith Bellhimer, "Kurt;" Oscar Holobaugh, 1068 Whitethorne-av, "Abe"; Mrs. James R. Carlile, "Sunny Boy"; Mrs. Donald Gundersen, "Fellee;" second row, Mrs. Tom England, "Karl;" Mrs. William Peden, 923 Demorest-rd, "Dolph;" Mrs. Layne Humphreys, "Wulf;" Mrs. Robert Dexter, "Maki."

By Ray Sheffer

It would be hard to say who has more fun when the German Shepherd Club meets weekly at Pilot Dogs, Inc.—the members who are training their dogs or the dogs that run their masters around in circles!

It's a strange sight to see a Pomeranian midget trot along behind a Saint Bernard giant, but now that the Shepherd Club has admitted all breeds to its obedience training classes it is a common occurrence.

Mrs. Oscar C. Nolobaugh, 1068 Whitethorne-av, club training director, joined the group in 1950 and has served two terms as president and two more as secretary. She said the purpose of the obedience class is to train well-bred dogs so they will be an asset to their masters' neighborhoods and a pleasure to own.

Obedience classes teach a dog to 'heel' on or off leash, come when called and to sit and stay. The dog is also taught to stand for examination which prepares him to accept the touch of a stranger—if his master so wishes! By now 18 member dogs have received obedience degrees.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Central Ohio, Inc., was founded in 1949 by Mr. and Mrs. Wally Johns and J. R. Carlile. Local Shepherd owners banded together to socially share their interests in these dogs.

First venture of the club was an obedience training class for members only, but due to the expense of renting meeting quarters, owners of all breeds were invited at a small fee.

At first the club met in vacant lots, shelter houses, barns and the Junior Arena at Ohio State Fairgrounds but all proved to be unsatisfactory. The group was finally invited to use the facilities of the basement of the Pilot Dogs building, 625 W. Town-st.

In return for this hospitality, the Shepherd Club is completing and furnishing the building's basement meeting room. Several members have also donated dogs to the foundation for use as guide dogs. Fifty per cent of the fee paid by all breed owners for obedience training is also donated to Pilot Dogs, Inc.

Mrs. Holobaugh said she gained her knowledge of obedience training from her husband, who has been the club's training director for three years. She is in charge of training the trainers. Students of the Holobaughs now are Paul Reiner, club secretary, and Adalbert Messerschmitt. The latter, who has been in this country for four years, has brought some new ideas in training dogs from his native Germany as well as improving on some American ways. He is now the instructor for the advanced class.

The club meets on Wednesdays between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. It is led by E. L. Corwin, president; Laura Humphrey, vice-president; Jeanne England, treasurer; and Paul Reiner, secretary.

A main project is the sponsorship of a breed show, which this year will be held at the Junior Arena May 25 for German Shepherds six months of age or older.

The suits were filed as the result of an auto accident on July 18, 1956 in which Mrs. Julia A. Graham was fatally injured. It was contended in the suits that Shearer fell asleep while driving and that his car swerved left of the center line and struck the Graham car in a head-on collision.

YMCA, YWCA SPRANG FROM NEEDS OF TIMES

This is one of a series of topics by distinguished citizens of Columbus, bearing on the purposes, programs, and the activities of the YMCA and the YWCA.

On a January day in 1855, forty men, representing several creeds, gathered in the old First Presbyterian Church — where the Hartman Theatre Building now stands — and adopted a constitution for the Young Men's Christian Association of Columbus.

They elected a young attorney, — an elder in the Presbyterian Church and superintendent of its Sunday School — as the first president.

In this same church the Women's Christian Association was formed in 1893 as a branch of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. A year later the charter was amended to read YWCA instead of WCA and in 1910 the YWCA absorbed the W.E.I.U.

Thus both organizations were the seed of the church, deriving their creative impulses and their initial energies from church members. From the outset, however, both institutions sought to serve the entire community. With passing years, they have earned and won widespread community support.

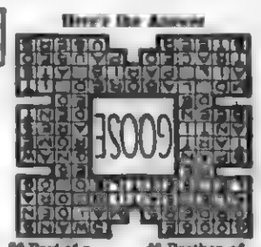
Harrison M. Sayre, Civic Leader and Churchman

Both organizations sprung from the needs of the times — needs that the churches could not supply: wholesome boarding homes for young men and women, classes in the industrial arts, homemaking courses, classes in physical culture and health education, personal and job counseling, all essential in the transposition from a rural to an urban industrial civilization.

With their wide range of programs, adapted to virtually all ages, their dedicated professional staffs, supplemented by hundreds of devoted volunteers, the YMCA and the YWCA continue to demonstrate their Christian faith through countless activities designed to provide young people with opportunities for growth in a complex world.

The truths that older generations believed eternal are being challenged. All truths are under fire. The youth of today are flooded with new scientific discoveries, conflicting opinions, and violent controversies. They need such organizations as the YMCA and the YWCA, which believe that the future is conditioned by our faith in it; that faith is essential as a working hypothesis.

The end of our civilization is not threatened by anything the universe may do to us; but only by what man may do to himself.



Boys and girls, and men and women, seeking fellowship, participation, education, and recreation find these two Associations eager to share their resources to make a better community and a better world.

In this effort, men of good will of all faiths have an opportunity to sustain and extend these faithful arms of service.

Meeting Delayed A Week

Dear Son

Chittlin Switch
Sunday Afternoon

Dear Jason:

Well, the Sewer Worker's Convention was called off at the last moment until next week. We leave next Friday. However, I hate the thought of that long ride up there. Last year it took an awful long time as the bus stopped at every post. It was a greyhound you see. (That's a joke son!).

Things around the Switch have been rather quiet since I wrote last week. However, your sister Morphine brought home a painting of herself that the visiting artist from New York painted of her. I nearly fainted when I saw it as she didn't have a stitch of clothes on. I told her I didn't like the idea of her posing like that but she told me not to worry. She didn't have to pose at all as he did it from memory.

You may remember old Clem Gooch. He died last week and a crowd of us went over to Polecat Ridge to the funeral parlor to pay our last respects. As we were leaving the home, the undertaker noticed old Maude Tench shuffleing away and he asked Maude how old she was. Maude proudly boasted that she was one hundred and one. He told her it was hardly worth her while to go home.

Your Paw and I went to the Gem Theater the other night and during the picture your Paw got down on his hands and knees feeling around under the seat for about five minutes. Finally when he got back in his seat I asked him what he had lost and he told me he dropped some caramels he was chewing. I couldn't understand anyone going to all that trouble. He told me it was not the caramel but his teeth was stuck in it.

Write soon,
Your loving,
MOM

Some men are fired with imagination and others receive the usual, brief notice.

County Financial affairs are administered by two separate offices, that of the Auditor and of the Treasurer. The Auditor's office is responsible for tax administration while the Treasurer handles the county purse.

Reilly

The Auditor's functions begin early in each year when his office makes an estimate of the income for each taxing subdivision (village, city, school district, township) in the county. Whereupon he issues to each a certificate of estimated income for the year. This is important as none of the subdivisions can pass any appropriation ordinance or resolution until such certificate is received.

The Auditor's office, within the provisions of the state and state laws, also determines the tax rate for each taxing subdivision. Such rate is set after the respective budgets are received. It should be noted, incidentally, that any tax above the flat ten mill limitation cannot, under the constitution of Ohio, be levied without at least a majority vote of the people.

This office, under the general supervision and direction of the State Board of Tax Appeals, is also the appraiser for taxation purposes for all real estate in the county. In addition, the Auditor acts as agent for the State Department of Taxation in the handling of all personal and classified taxes for the county.

The Auditor's office has an essential role in the administration of estates. For the Auditor, as agent for the Department of Taxation, must take an inventory of all safety deposit boxes for inheritance tax purposes.

The big issue from an executor's or an heir's viewpoint is that the contents cannot be removed from the box until they have been checked by an agent of the Auditor's office.

The County Treasurer is responsible for collecting and depositing tax revenues. It is quite a collection —amounting to about $50,000,000 a year. The two largest collections are the real estate tax ($25,000,000) and sales taxes ($12,000,000).

The Treasurer's office is organized into four departments. They include real-estate and personal and classified taxes; sales tax; cashier; and delinquent taxes.

The real estate department is charged with recording tax payments and tax billing. The latter is a full time, year around job for six people, for there are 180,000 pieces of real estate alone in the county which must have a tax payers address. Each of these tax payers is then billed for taxes.

It should be noted that approximately 30,000 of Franklin County properties have mortgages. Consequently, such tax bills are distributed among 85 financial institutions in the county. It is also part of this department's work to keep records of property transfers, and changes in tax payer's mailing addresses. There are about 100 transfers a day, averaging around 30,000 per day.

The sales tax department represents a major financial operation. Under Ohio law merchants must purchase sales tax stamps from recognized agencies. And the treasurer's office is the major sales tax agency in the county. In fact, the office sells about $10,000,000 of sales tax stamps each year, representing $33,000,000 of retail sales.

The cashier's department, as its name implies, receives county tax payments along with various types of fees from other county offices. This department does an extensive pay window business, as around 50,000 tax payers come in personally twice each year to pay their real estate tax.

The delinquent tax department, in conjunction with the prosecutor's office, keeps in touch with all delinquent real estate taxes in the county. This function is controlled by law. The law provides that after these taxes are due and unpaid for one year they are certified as delinquent. After that, at least two more years must elapse before property may be sold for taxes.

These two offices are administered by elective officials who serve four year terms. Fred C. Dunn is the County Auditor. Newton Thatcher is County Treasurer.

The financial administration of a county with over 600,000 inhabitants is a major undertaking which affects the welfare of every one in the county. Consequently, these two offices represent an important phase of county government.

Daily Duty Holds Key To Virtue

IN the story of the transfiguration, Christ did not take all the apostles into the mountain with Him, but only Peter, James and John. Perhaps the experience was one for which the rest were not fitted. Yet Peter, James and John would not seem to have been particularly prepared for the experience, for we are told that during it their eyes were heavy with sleep.

Perhaps the vision which the story records came to them in the form of a dream on the mountaintop. But it was real and unforgettable. Christ appeared in a glorified form with Moses and Elias.

The apostles were astounded. They didn't know what to say. But Peter, always ready to say something in his impulsiveness, burst out with, "Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles."

Just then a cloud overshadowed them and a voice was heard, saying, "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased. Hear him."

With the voice, the vision disappeared, and Christ was standing alone. Deeply impressed and holding their peace, the apostles came down with Him from the mountaintop and returned to the sufferings and needs of the people.

There is the story of a demented child and of the healing that Christ brought to him and comfort to his distressed parents. "And they were all astonished at the majesty of God."

We cannot have such an experience unless we go to the mountain with the Master. And such experiences are worthless unless they bring us back, as Christ and the three apostles, to daily duty and service.

He Does Something About The Weather!

When severe cold weather strikes, more people want more natural gas. This man, with his complicated gauges and control devices, sees that you get it.

The gauges tell him instantly — and automatically — the signs of increased consumption. In many places, by merely pushing a few buttons, he sends more gas on its way. To meet demands he draws on pipeline gas and his gas storage "bank account" — the vast reserves of natural gas that were stored underground during warm weather by the Columbia Gas System.

This accurate control of your natural gas supply under changing weather conditions is one more reason why this "wonder fuel" is the most dependable you can use. And modern, efficient natural gas serves you best when you use it with modern, automatic gas appliances.

Flood's 45th Anniversary Finds Area's Scars Still Visible

PLOOD WATER MARKS can still be seen on many brick homes and buildings on the West Side. This man points out the height the water reached at the Franklinton Branch Library located at Sullivant and Souder-ave. Bricks absorbed the mud leaving it lighter.

Flood waters swept away a good part of Mill's Grocery, then located at Sullivant and Cypress-ave. Even the sturdy brick walls could not stand up against the swift currents.

All that is left of the four families that resided in these two doubles are the three men standing in front waiting for the waters to recede. Many houses collided like this and then floated away together during the flood siege of 1913.

LOOKING WEST ON BROAD ST clearly shows the ravages of the flood to this city's downtown area. The only good thing that developed from the flood was the beautifying of the waterfront district following the inundation. Before the flood the west bank of the river was mainly a manufacturing area while the east bank was lined with slum-type tenements.

These two homes represent what was left of Glenwood-av, one of the hardest hit streets in the West Side area. Some houses were found miles from their original foundation when the flood was over and the task of cleaning up and reconstruction began.

Suffering Was Widespread As Water, Mud Took Toll

By Ray Shaffer

This week marks the 45th anniversary of the Flood of 1913 which swept down on the West Side of Columbus. It still holds horrible memories for both Hilltoppers and West Siders who lived in this area at that time. This issue of your newspaper carries not only an account of the happenings and sufferings but also a report on what steps have and should be taken to prevent the repeat of such a disaster in this city, again.

The year 1913 saw a rough March. Snow, sleet, cold weather and continuous rains prevailed in the Middle West states with little mercy. Disaster fell upon disaster. Omaha, Neb., was struck by a tornado and Dayton, O., just days after expressing its sympathies to that wind-struck city was swept with the worst flood in its own history.

Ohio's Governor James Cox was preparing to send aid to Dayton when the swollen Scioto River began to threaten Columbus. The morning of Tuesday, Mar., 25, hundreds of business men, laborers and young working girls went to their jobs with little thought of the impending danger. Many of these were residents of the West Side and Hilltop.

Before noon, the Scioto rose suddenly, cutting the city in half. Reports say that the bridges connecting the doomed West Side to the eastern section of the city were washed away like match sticks—a new one every hour! Ironically, the Rich-st bridge, which had been condemned, was the last one in the downtown area to give way to the swirling waters.

Those who had left their homes on the West Side for work that morning lined the eastern banks of the Scioto. They knew their families, friends and neighbors were fighting for their lives on the other side of the river but there was no possible way to get to them. Bridges gone, the swift waters prevented boats from entering the stricken district.

Reports indicate there were nearly 50,000 persons residing in the area. Of those about 1,500 refugees sought shelter in city hall, 5,000 were reported to be on Hilltop and the rest were living in second and third stories of their homes, clinging to housetops, trees and poles in the inundated areas.

Electric lights were out in the flooded area and in part of the business section. West Side water supply was cut off. Gas was also turned off in the area to prevent explosions. Despite this, fires broke out in a half dozen places causing a damage of some $30,000. There was water everywhere but not a drop that could be used by firefighters! In many cases, no one could get close enough to the fires to determine their exact location.

Levee Break

Late Tuesday afternoon police ordered all remaining persons in the West Side to leave their homes quickly, not to stop for clothes or valuables and head for Hilltop—the levee was about to give way! With a great roar the levee near Central High's present location broke and melted into the river.

Water rushed into the West Side sweeping away nearly everything in its path. The Sandusky-st. levee then collapsed, permitting the water to wash out a railroad embankment and and pour into all the low districts between the river and Sandusky-st.

Wednesday morning, the city still being torn by rain and flood waters, residents from safer sections of the city were able to see the devastation of the West Side for the first time. The governer had telegraphed the War Department in Washington asking that 50,000 tents and 100,000 rations be made available for Columbus' flood refugees.

All of the homeless were told to report to city hall where they registered their names and addresses for relatives who might be looking for them. They were issued clothes and meal tickets.

Rumor Starts Panic

Panic hit the city Wednesday afternoon when word started that the storage dam five miles up the Scioto River had broken and that more water was on its way to invade Columbus. People went crazy. Three minutes after the rumor first began, there were reportedly 6,000 people in the State House, most of them struggling to get to the dome! Within an hour police were able to report the dam had not broken and was holding up despite the on-rush of water.

When night fell Wednesday, Mar. 26, the city was without trains, telegraph, telephones, lights, streetcars and water—to drink! A cold wave hit Columbus that evening adding to the horrors. Many persons who had been clinging to roofs, trees and poles, froze, lost their grip and fell into the swirling waters—never to be seen again.

Water Begins to Recede

On Thursday it was apparent that the section between Central-av and Sandusky-st was almost totally wiped out. Half the homes on the West Side were toppled over and had been carried away completely. The water was slowly beginning to recede, making it possible for a few boats to enter the area to begin rescue work.

Families were separated; men, women and children stood night and day on the east banks of the river waiting to get some news of their relatives and possibly return to their homes—if they still had homes!

Refugees were being housed in churches, the state hospitals and storerooms. Four babies were reported born in a Hilltop school house, without any medical assistance.

Reports began to drift into the State House of extensive looting of homes, buildings and stores in the flooded area by "bandits in rowboats." Governor Cox ordered Troop B of the National Guards to patrol the ruined section of the city day and night.

Union Station was filled with trains which could neither go forward nor backward. One of the last trains to enter the city, it was reported, practically swam into the depot! Passengers were fed and all berths made up each night. For those who could not sleep in the cars, the railroad companies provided hotel rooms without expense to the passengers.

One observer estimated there was nearly 20 feet of water covering the West Side in some places. "Two story houses were floating around as if they were chips of wood. In places, Broad-st was completely filled with 'traveling homes' and wreckage."

Dayton Refugees a Burden

To add more confusion, nearly 1,000 unexpected refugees from the Dayton flood, arrived in Columbus on Saturday. As if pursued by tragedy, their landing place in the city was within the radius of the still "wet" West Side! They were fed and housed by Columbus relief committees.

The governor issued a proclamation throughout the state declaring a 10-day holiday to protect paper that might be subject to presentation.

Wednesday, Apr. 2, 1913, the total of bodies found of the dead in the city was 84. Of these all but seven had been identified. It was expected that many other bodies had been washed down the river and would never be identified as Columbus victims.

Reports From Survivors

Fifty-two persons were discovered in a West Side drug-store where they had been marooned four days. Their supplies gave out the second day and the remaining days they spent staring at drugs they couldn't eat.

George Roller, then of 79 Dakota-av, saw the flood danger early enough to persuade the family cow to enter the kitchen and ushered her upstairs where he gave her a private room. He laid in a supply of corn and hay. Result: while the flood raged he and his family had plenty of fresh milk!

C. A. Turney, now a Hilliards resident, had hardly recovered from his dreadful experiences in the great San Francisco earthquake when he found himself being pronounced dead as a victim in the Columbus flood in 1913!

He said, "I had sent my family to Hilltop but I stayed at our one-year-old home on Glenwood-av. When the flood came I found myself trapped in the house along with two of my neighbors. We were about ready to abandon the house by the bathroom window when another house floated up to mine and collided. Five persons climbed from its bathroom window into my home. Both homes were later demolished and of the eight of us I was the only one to escape death.

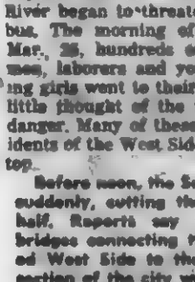
"I regained consciousness later to find myself in the temporary morgue in Greenlawn Cemetery. The doctors had given me up for dead but a small boy noticed a twitch in my neck. I was revived and treated and soon joined my family."

Mrs. Lucille Hines of 44 N. Eureka-av, was eight years old at the time of the flood but remembers walking to the bottom of the hill to watch the rescue work going on. She said there were people hanging in trees and clinging to their roof tops waiting for help. One of the worst things she remembers was the sight of bodies being carted up the hill on Broad-st. She said, that many were buried on the site where the firehouse now stands on W. Broad-st at Wheatland-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Brown of 2150 Sullivant-av, were residents of Bellows-av, at the time of the blood. Mr. Brown raised pigeons and canaries and had to turn them loose because of high water threatening their pens.

The Browns left their home to stay with relatives living near Mound-st and Central-av. Mrs. Brown said her cousin and his family, living near Glenwood and Sullivant-av, sought refuge in a large tree when the water swept down upon their house. His wife and three children fell from the tree and were immediately washed away, said Mrs. Brown. Their bodies were found in mud behind Mt. Calvary Cemetery after the water receded.

The Brown home on Bellows withstood the flood and when the tragedy was past, they returned like so many others to clean mud from their home and take up life once again on the terror stricken West Side.



Flood Safety Measures Began In '38

The Regional Planning Commission and the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District joined forces in 1938 to promote a series of improvement or "Safety devices" for flood protection. The widening and deepenig of the Scioto River channel in key locations was part of their plan. A few of these projects have since been completed and will let water flow through the city faster—but not fast enough to avert another flood, say spokesmen for the two groups.

Also included in the plans was the construction of levees. These were to be built along both banks of the Scioto near Grandview-av because this is where the flood waters spilled into the West Side in 1913. Another levee was to be constructed along the north bank of the Scioto where Dublin-rd nears the Spring-Sandusky interchange. This one is said to be under construction now as one of the phases of the interchange.

Many believe the West Side was flooded only from the side that borders the downtown civic area. Conservation authorities say, "The real danger, however, lies along the low banks on the northern border of the West Side. The high concrete walls bordering the river downtown might protect part of the area but little has been done to protect the north border.

"Many acres of forest land have been cleared for homes and businesses. There are more hard-surfaced streets, playgrounds and parking lots. These factors would contribute to a faster flow of flood water and perhaps a tragedy worse than 1913," said a conservation representative.

Guys And Dolls Usher In Spring

FIRST DAY OF SPRING — The calendar said spring had arrived and, despite cold winds and snow showers, West High students behaved accordingly. Dressed in their party finery, they danced during the fifth and sixth periods to the music of West Senior Dance Band, and junior high students elected a Guy and Doll from a field of 10 contestants. Spring's Arrival Brings Baseball Fever

BALL HANDLING—Corky Johnson, 13, of 91 S. Gift-st, a member of the Boys' Club, and Susan Borchers, 16, of 2685 Sullivant-av, a member of Girl Scout Troop 744, watch Daryl Corbett, 15, of 357 S. Columbia-av, a member of the Catholic Youth Organization, show the correct way a Jet pitcher holds a ball to throw a fast curve. All three are selling Jet Badges for 50 cents, which entitle wearers to see most week-day games free when accompanied by an adult.

Youthful baseball fans—over 30,000 strong — will again see the only penny-per game baseball in the nation this year. Starting Tuesday, April 1, Junior Jet badges will go on sale for 50 cents and can be purchased from members of the following organizations: Boy Scouts of Central Ohio, The Boys' Club, Catholic Youth Organization, the Jewish Center and members of both the YMCA and the Girl Scouts.

Badge wearers are entitled to free admission to all of the Jets' home games, except for opening day, Sundays, holidays and special occasions.

Any school age boy or girl in Central Ohio can buy a badge, but the child must attend games with an adult. The badge Sales Program closes April 16, the opening game of the Jet home [illegible].

Proceeds from the sale of badges, over their actual cost, go to these youth organizations to support activities within the [illegible].

In 1955, the Junior Jet Badge Sales Program was started when a group of civic-minded individuals bought the Jets. That year, 9,000 badges were sold. In 1956, the program was repeated by popular demand and 18,000 badge holders saw an average of 70 games for 50 cents.

So popular was the program last year that badge sales climbed to 25,000, an increase of 7,000 over the previous year. This year's sales are expected to top 30,000.

The Badge Sales Committee is headed by Richard Hahn, chairman. Committee members are: Adam G. Maurer, Joseph West, and Father Richard F. odd.

Glenwood Methodist Wins 'Y' Intermediate Basketball

Glenwood Methodist won over Westgate Methodist 62 to 37 to win the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church Basketball League. The playoff between winners of the first and second rounds of play was the climax of the Hilltop YMCA Annual Basketball Festival at West High gym, Mar. 17.

Both teams played hard, set upon seizing the championship for their church. Bob Kreig paced his Glenwood teammates by scoring 22 points. Don Gilliland scored 16; Bill Burke, 10; Steve Byerly, 8; and Ralph Williams, 6.

Dave Ewing of Westgate Methodist was pretty lonely as the high scorer for his team with 18 points. Ryan, usually on of the strong point makers, accounted for 7 points; Dunn, 4; Hill, 3; Edwards, 2; Kern, 2; and Dewitt, usually another pointmaker, scored but one.

Glenwood grabbed the lead early and maintained it throughout the game with scores of 11-6 for the first quarter, 27-22 at the half, 45-32 third and then 62-37.

Despite their lead and the difference in the final scores, Glenwood found that they had to play hard and well to accomplish their win. As one spectator observed, "It was strictly business out there tonight. The boys all played a good game."

Recreational Development Is Planned

Work will commence this summer on development of an 18-hole golf course and construction of a swimming pool on a 42-acre tract on Demorest-rd, south of Clime-rd. Edward Tonti, Hilltop contractor, is heading the project.

Tonti said that he wants to get the work done on the golf course first. All holes will be par three. After that he plans to build the swimming pool.

Tentative plans have been made to include an ice skating rink in the project in a couple of years, the contractor said.

County Commissioners unanimously okayed rezoning of the area Friday from residential-agriculture to commercial. Previously, the regional planning commission had recommended disapproval of the proposal.

Development of the recreational private club will probably not be finished until 1959, Tonti said.

Well under way is Tonti's $700,000 recreational development at the southwest corner of Norton and Johnston-rds. He plans to erect a 400 locker clubhouse this summer. The name tentatively selected for the 18-hole par 72 links is "Oakhurst Golf Course."

Cellist To Perform At Last Symphony Concert

Leonard Rose, cellist, will be guest artist with the Columbus Symphony Orchestra on its final subscription concert of the season, Wednesday, Apr. 9. He will appear twice on the program with the performances of Bloch's "Schelomo" and the Vivaldi "Concerto For Cello and Orchestra."

North High Cage Coach Taught At West High

By John Poppelmeyer

In just one year Frank Truitt has risen from the ranks of assistant coach to mentor of one of the state's top basketball brigades, the North High Polar [illegible].

Frank Truitt

And last Saturday night, at St. John's arena, this young master of the hardwood wizardry directed his aggregate as they fought for the Class AA title.

Before acquiring his present head coaching job at North, Truitt taught physical education and history at West High School for two years. In July 1956 he was a member of the Glenwood recreational staff. At the present time he resides at 1805 Ransburg-av, near Briggsdale with his wife and three children, Nancy, 2, Jean, 3, and Susan, five months.

Although his crop of youngsters succumbed to Cleveland East Tech by a meager two points in the finals, the defeat in no way reflects on the ability of Coach Truitt as a top-notch campaigner.

At Bloomingburg, in Fayette County, near Washington C. H., he waved his magic wand over the junior high quintet, the reserve and the varsity. All three won county-tournaments in the same year. It was an unprecedented accomplishment. His varsity squad took the title four straight years.

The Polar Bear's coach first met his wife while both were attending classes at Otterbein College. She is from Belmont, a suburb of Boston, Mass. Truitt had entered the college after his discharge from the United States Army. Most of his tour was spent in the European sector.

They were married in 1948. He graduated with two degrees, a bachelor of arts and a bachelor of science in physical education and history. Mt. Gilead also had his services for one year.

The hard-working mentor also instructs the North golf team, and teaches world history and problems of democracy.

Diamonds Lead Junior Bowlers

Leading team for the Glenwood Junior Bowlers last Thursday war the Diamonds with seven wins and one loss.

Second and third places went to the All Stars and the Broncos with six wins and two losses, and five wins and three losses.

High single game honors went to Larry Dulin with 189 for first place, Larry McDaniels with 176 for second place and Theresa Vacheresse with 155 for third place.

Three high honors for the two game series went to Larry Dulin, with 318 for first place, Harold Rose, Jr., with 305, for second place, and Tom Arthur, 302, for third place.

Mrs. Holt Acts—

es are to be cleaned, cars to be washed, walls to be scrubbed. The variety is endless.

Coincidence is the best term to describe how Mrs. Holt began working with the community betterment committee of the Hilltop Lions Club on behalf of the Lions-sponsored youth [illegible].

Mrs. Holt and her husband, a research engineer at the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co., have long been in the custom of adopting a needy family for Christmas. This past year they sought the assistance of chairman John Garber in locating such a family, then joined with the Lions in making the season most happy for a mother and her 12 children who otherwise would have had a bleak Yuletide. Incidentally, Mrs. Holt is making certain that every member of the same family receives new Easter outfits.

One final word from Mrs. Holt, a member of the Broad Street Christian Church and mother of two grown daughters:

"How far we go with the idea of providing week-end, after-school and vacation work for these youngsters is pretty much up to Record readers. I'm willing to give all the time necessary to bring boy and employer together."

Hilltoppers Cop YMCA Laurels

Bill Voss' winning basket in a sudden death overtime period gave the Hilltop Van Storage a 58-57 victory over Bart's Bar and the Central YMCA Class A championship. Voss emerged top scorer from the fray with a total of 21 points.

Former West High players on the team include Jerry Trabue, Ted Sladt and Ronnie Bowan.

Gene Millard, captain of last year's OSU quintet, led the league in scoring with 128 tallies to his credit. Voss took third place with 109 points.

Active J. Jones Finds Time To Run Clothing Store Too!

Managing Mogol's Men Wear Store, Great Western Shopper's Mart, seems more like a "sideline" for John E. Jones after discovering what an active man he is in clubs, sports and half a dozen hobbies!

A graduate of West High School, Ohio State University and an ex-Marine, Jones tells an amusing story of why he entered the Mogol firm 10 years ago while in college. He said he has always enjoyed buying clothes and dressing well. College expenses cut considerably into his wardrobe budget. Rather than see him cut down his buying, Mogol's offered Jones a job!

He stayed with the firm and later managed its store at Great Eastern Shopping Center before transferring to the Great Western branch two years ago.

He said the clothing business is good in this area and the people are nice to serve. Of course, he may be prejudiced because he is a "born and raised Hilltopper!"

Huron-av Resident

He and his wife, Helen, reside at 462 S. Huron-av, with their four children. Mrs. Jones' only complaint about her husband is that she doesn't see much of him! The following paragraphs should explain why:

He has been managing several championship softball teams for the past seven years. He likes to play golf and bowl. His hobbies include home movies, coin collecting, oil painting, model building and model railroading. He is now in the midst of building two trains, minature tugboat and a stage coach!

Jones is an active member of HBA, Lions Club, Order of the Moose, St. Mary Magdalene Church and is president of the Great Western Businessmen's Association.

With this roster of activities, managing a clothing store six days a week would seem more like a "sideline" than an occupation!

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Fish Reported Biting

I'll have to admit that I have not been fishing yet this spring, but it won't be long before I go. Cecil Forrest, proprietor of Forrest Lake near West Jefferson, told me a few days ago that fishermen have been catching bullheads and channel catfish out of his place for about two weeks. He said the crappies hadn't started hitting yet, but they should at any moment.

Don Veth caught his first smallmouth of the year in Big Darby Creek a week ago. It weighed a pound and a half, and he had another larger one hooked that got away.

The early spring fishing season is particularly exciting to most anglers, because they haven't wet a line since last September — and that is a long time. It's all right to start fishing as soon as the ice is out, if you know how to fish in frigid water. Even though the day may be bright and sunny, do not expect the action you would in late April and May. There are exceptions, but as a rule you won't fill your stringer with bluegills and bass until the water temperature reaches 60 degrees.

It's Bullheads, Crappies Now

The prime targets for early fishing excursions are bullheads and crappies. For bullheads you should use worms or minnows for bait, and fish them on the bottom. Its slow, lazy fishing, but that is what you need for your first case of spring fever. Lounging along a bank in the warm sunshine is what most doctors order; the string of bullheads is an added bonus.

Crappies go for minnows and small silver spinners. Fish around snags and brushpiles. When you catch one, you will usually catch a few more because they travel in schools. Most fishermen use a small bobber when fishing minnows, so that they can enjoy the scenery until the bobber starts dancing.

If the temptation to fish for bass is just too hard to resist, don't fight it. You should, however, fish your baits near the bottom and work them very slowly. Artificials should be allowed to sink, and then worked in short hops. Live baits should be drifted slowly as possible too. When fishing for largemouth bass in farm ponds this time of year, try the shallow, weedy edges. The sun warms the shallow water first, and that's where the fish like to lie and thaw out.

Fishing on the surface for bass and bluegills in early spring is practically a waste of time.

Well, I'm happy to report that the fishing rush is on. Good fishing — and don't forget to buy your new fishing license. The new tag became effective on Mar. 1.

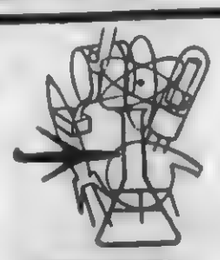
Kiwanis Club Needs Piano

If the piano you have just doesn't fit into the scheme of things in your household, but you've hesitated to break it up for kindling wood, the West Franklin Kiwanis Club can make good use of it.

The condition of the finish or its age are not important and it probably will need tuning. If it's mechanically sound, however, the club will put it to good use at its meetings. Transportation will, of course, be provided by the club.



If such a piano is available, a phone call to O. O. Tope at TR. 6-6112, will initiate immediate action.

Easter Musicale Set Palm Sunday

An Easter musical program will be presented Palm Sunday evening, Mar. 29 at Hilltop Christian Church, 130 S. Burgess-av.

Selections on the theme of the passion will be sung by the Senior Choir and the church organist, Carol Strawser. Janet Helbig is choir director. The public is invited.

Rev. George H. Alexander is pastor of the church.

HI THERE!

My name is Billy. I'm one of thousands of boys and girls who are walking today because you gave to Easter Seals. Because of the training and help I received from the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children, I'll be able to enter first grade this fall.

Right now I can't say more than thanks for myself. It's for some of the other boys and girls who are not yet as far along that I want to ask you to give generously to Easter Seals this year. They need all sorts of help . . . treatments, equipment, educational opportunities and ultimate independence . . . Easter Seals make all these things possible.

Only through your gifts can hundreds of crippled children in Franklin County look forward to a future that will let them walk, run and play like other kids.

We're counting on you. Thanks again.

REAL SECURITY

A HOME OF YOUR OWN IN EUREKA PARK

Nothing has so universal appeal and understanding as SECURITY. It is the cherished desire of every age, for every way of life, for every nationality, in every country. It's meaning can be stated, and understood in every language.

The privilege of enjoying SECURITY by owning your own home is your heritage as an American citizen. It stands out above all nations as the standard of the free way of life. It is the envy of many peoples throughout the globe. It is the one right which we will defend with our lives.

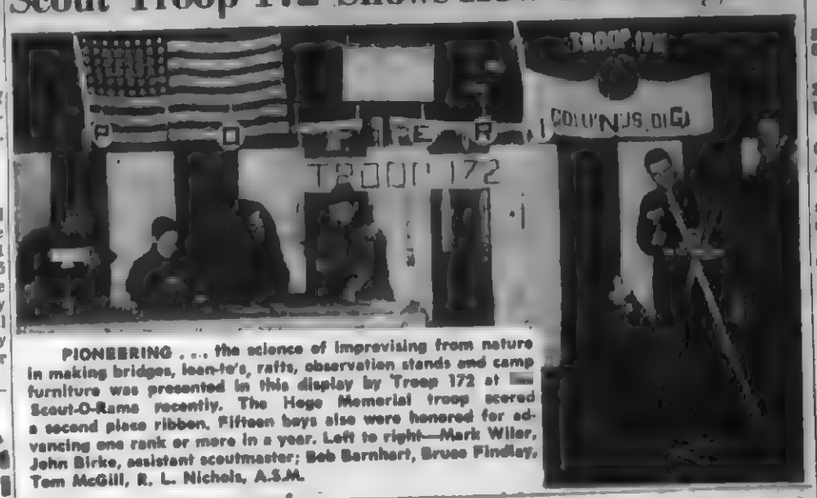
Let's talk about

YOUR WIFE



You and your wife want the best out of life. But you also want to put a "little something" away for emergencies and for the future. And what better way of systematic saving than through the medium of life insurance? Through life insurance, your wife's standard of living can be maintained if you should die prematurely; through life insurance, your retirement years can be financially secure if you survive. And the accumulation of dividends over the years increases the attractiveness of life insurance as an investment for the living.

I'm sure I am to of course. Why not give me a call? Time will be under no obligation.

Scout Troop 172 Shows How To 'Rough It'

PIONEERING . . . the science of improvising from nature in making bridges, lean-to's, rafts, observation stands and camp furniture was presented in this display by Troop 172 at Scout-O-Rama recently. The Hoge Memorial troop scored a second place ribbon. Fifteen boys also were honored for advancing one rank or more in a year. Penny For Your Thoughts

Question: How do you feel about Patrolman Larry Hoye's recent charges of laxity in law enforcement in the Vice Squad?

Mrs. Walter Britton, 117 S. Oakley-av: "I admire any man or woman who will come out in public and stand up for what he or she feels is right. Things have been going from bad to worse in this city in gambling and corruption. Mr. Hoye must be a fine Christian man."

Mrs. James Darby, 23 N. Oakley-av: "Well I believe Patrolman Hoye did the only thing he could do. I know if I were employed in any organization that was not being run as it should for the betterment of the people that I would most certainly make my criticisms public — no matter what the cost to personal security!"

Mrs. Joseph Hardy, 124 S. Algonquin-av: "I think he is wonderful and must be a wonderful husband and father. I read every item that appeared about him in the papers. I know he will be able to prove the charges he has made against the vice squad and I have no doubts that it does need a good 'cleaning'."

Floyd Love, 2261 Sullivant-av: "If Mr. Hoye has the proof to back up his charges then I say more power to him. Corruption seems to grow much bigger every year, not only in Columbus but in all large cities. When someone comes along who tries to clean it up then I think that is good and I wish we had more people like Hoye."

Three Games Staged During Fifth 'Y' Basketball Festival

The Fifth Annual Hilltop Basketball Festival provided the fans with a wide variety of basketball skills Monday, Mar. 17. Purpose of this annual event is to provide a panorama of the Hilltop YMCA basketball talent for the year.

Beginning with the youngest boys in the program, the opening game consisted of two teams made up of representatives of the five Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Clubs playing in the Gra-Y League on Thursday at Glenwood Methodist Church gym. These boys are in the 8-10 age group or "B" division.

The second game of the festival was between representatives of the "A" division teams. The team consisting of Norman Caune, Roger Chrisman, Mike Cook, Gary Myers, John Goodin, Jerry Grooms, John Coleman, Brad Cook, Carl Graves and Bud Essig won 20 to 12 from the team made up of the following representatives. Mike Uldricks, Steve Prater, Jim McMillan, Sam Link, Steve Culler, Bill Hill, Skip Sanford, Steve Cheek, Bob Abrams, and Bob Kight.

The third game of the evening was between the Coaches in the Hilltop "Y" Junior and Indermediate Church Leagues and a team consisting of two members of each of the seven teams playing in the Junior Church League. The Coaches consisted of Walt Hoovler, Bob Burroughs, Charles Landenberger, Ron Maier, Don Patterson, Howard Young, Jim McGruder, Rob Roy Jaynes, Sherman Nighbert and Harry Grashel. They won 33-8 from the Junior team. Jack Stephenson, Steve Takos, Gary Reynolds, Joe Massey, Mike Simpson, Mike Turner, Bill Kern, Jerry Shady, Jim Walsh, Jerry Buck, Gene Albrecht, Lyn Ward, Dave Davis and Bob Keefer. Coach was Bill Kuhn.

Climax of the evening was the playoff for the Intermediate Church League Championship between Westgate Methodist, champions of the second round, and Glenwood Methodist, champions of the first round. In a well played, hard fought game Glenwood won a 62-37 victory over Westgate to repeat as champions.

Gearhart's Has Color Machine On Display Here

Along with an era of color consciousness that's hitting the nation is an ingenious new machine which makes colors to order for decorators. Called the "Magic Mixer" it is now being demonstrated at Gearhart Hardware, 2387 Sullivant-av.

It is capable of producing an infinite range of colors to suit the desires of amateur as well as professional decorators.

For practical purposes, more than 1200 shades have been pre-selected and are on display. Practically all popular colors in rugs, drapery fabrics and wallpaper can be selected.

The machine consists of a large drum, flanked by dials and pushbuttons. When a paint buyer picks a color, its code numbers are set and the machine takes over. Many types of paints can be mixed in the machine.

Norm Davis, Carl Wasem and Jack Boyer invite the public to view the new invention any time during store hours.

An Innovation

The following bit isn't original but has some merit

TO ALL EMPLOYEES

Due to increased competition and a keen desire to remain in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy—

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

We are asking that somewhere between starting and quitting time and without infringing too much on the time usually devoted to lunch period, coffee breaks, rest period, story telling, ticket selling, vacation planning, and the rehashing of yesterday's T.V. programs, that each employee endeavor to find some time that can be set aside and known as the "WORK BREAK."

To some, this may seem a radical innovation, but we honestly believe the idea has great possibilities. It can conceivably be an aid to steady employment and it might also be a means of assuring regular pay checks.

While the adoption of the Work Break Plan is not compulsory, it is hoped that each employee will find enough time to give the plan a fair trial.

The Management.

Something to Think About

The Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea are made of the same water. It flows down, clear and cool, from the heights of Hermon and the roots of the cedars of Lebanon. The Sea of Galilee makes beauty of it, for the Sea of Galilee has an outlet. It gets to give. It gathers in its riches that it may pour them out again to fertilize the Jordan plain.

But the Dead Sea, with the same water, makes a horror. For the Dead Sea, has no outlet. It gets to keep.

WE GROW AS WE GIVE.

This is something to think about as this community is raising funds for the purpose of constructing YMCA and YWCA buildings

This community has much to get from their giving in this drive

Every individual professional man, business man or resident of this area will be doing much for this community by means of his contribution.

We grow as we give!

Thousands Expected At Egg Hunts

Thousands of kiddies will leave "nary a stone unturned" Saturday morning in three big simultaneous Easter egg hunts in West Columbus

Egg scrambles will begin at 9 a.m. at Sunshine, Glenwood and Westgate Parks. Record crowds are expected. Taking part will be "toddlers" on up to eight-year-olds. In most cases the hunts will be divided into two age groups

Hidden, brightly colored eggs will be worth prizes ranging from five cents to five dollars for the lucky finders. Civic groups are supplementing the prize eggs with hundreds of boiled eggs. At Sunshine there will be candy eggs.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club and Hilltop Lions in cooperation with the Hilltop Community Council and Ohio State Journal are sponsoring the Glenwood and Westgate events

Kiwanians, under the direction of Bill Jones, will hide 1100 dyed eggs at dawn at Glenwood. The Lions will distribute 1400 eggs, in addition to the prize eggs at Westgate Park. Bob Myers is chairman of the Lions project.

Youngsters are directed to report to the judges in the shelter house immediately after finding an egg. It will then be evaluated for a cash prize. One gold egg, worth $5 will be planted in each park. There will be 10 silver eggs worth a dollar apiece. These premium eggs are not to be eaten. In all, 250 prize eggs will be supplied to each park by the Journal.

For kiddies who come to the parks early there will be movies from 8 to 9 a.m. Bud Martin of the Hilltop "Y" will show them. These and coffee and donuts for all adult workers are under the auspices of the Hilltop Community Council. Highland Avenue PTA will serve at Glenwood and Westgate PTA will handle refreshments at Westgate Park.

"The egg hunts will be held rain or shine, said Noble Allen, Jr., HCC publicity chairman. "And, again this year we want to urge parents to send only youngsters eight years of age or younger."

The West Side Board of Trade will cooperate with the Journal and staffs of Sunshine Center and West Side Branch Boys Clubs in the Saturday morning fun at Sunshine Park, Sullivant and Sandusky-st.

Youngsters will meet in the parking lot north of the gym. In case of rain they will assemble in the auditorium. Children will be divided in the six through eight age bracket and those five and under. No adults will be permitted on the field.

The board of trade is supplying chocolate eggs again this year.

Committees are headed by John Comtess of Boys' Club and Jack Miller of Sunshine.

Suburbs' Rates Would Be Established On Costs

An exhaustive study of financing and administration of a sewage collection and treatment system for the Greater Columbus area was made public this week by the Water and Sewer Committee of the Development for Greater Columbus at a luncheon in the Fort Hayes Hotel

Major recommendations contained in the 142-page report, presented by Committee Chairman C. Carlton Hartley to the gathering of Development Committee sponsors and public officials, include

The $30,500,000 program of trunk sewers needed immediately by the area should be started by issuing $3,000,000 of 40 year general obligation revenue bonds in 1959, supplementing this by any sewer surplus which might accrue.

A 10-year construction program would thus result.

Regarding administration, the committee recommended that the City of Columbus continue as the primary administrator of the sewerage system through a system of contracts with suburban municipalities. The committee recommended these contracts meet five requirements, including agreements to construct the Master Plan of trunk sewers, be of a term long enough to insure proper financing, provide rates based on cost of service and directly related to the Columbus rate, provide adequate means of settling disputes, and limit taps to existing corporate limits except as agreed otherwise by legislative bodies of the participants.

Hilltop May Get Another Library

City Council Monday night accepted for public hearing an ordinance permitting construction of the second Columbus Public Library branch on the Hilltop. Library officials are hopeful that the proposed building on the northeast corner of Wheatland-av and W. Mound-st will be opened in September.

The city planning commission recommended the necessary zoning change last Wednesday and a public hearing on the rezoning city ordinance will be conducted by the council zoning committee at city hall on Monday evening, May 5, following council's session.

Mrs. Ed Ferguson, 3048 Crescent-dr, a member of the library board of trustees since 1936, said that the need on the Hilltop for additional branch library facilities is urgent.

"The present-day Hilltop Library at 2955 W. Broad-st, has been the busiest branch in the city since 1954 and is just not large enough to service properly the growing Hilltop population," she declared.

The branch on W. Mound-st would serve the Hilltonia neighborhood and other growing communities south and west of the service area envisioned at the time of the construction of the Hilltop branch

The new building will be constructed to library specifications but be owned by Dr. Nelson R. Embrey, a Lancaster dentist. The library board has given its oral agreement to lease the building for 10 years

It would house some 15,000 books, with floor space of 2500 square feet to meet the needs of both adult and juvenile patrons

Builder's plans call for an almost square one-story building 56 by 50 feet. Constructed of brick and 12-inch block, it would feature four large picture windows in front. A stone planter box would run the length of the front on both sides of the door.

The Hilltop Library was built by the library system and dedicated in March 1950.

Its last year's circulation of 171,420 books to some 13,000 registered patrons is very close to the 1956 circulation of 182,184 books at the main library. There are some 19,000 volumes housed in the building.

Campbell strongly urges all members to attend the meeting

Sewer Program . . .

year's intensive study by the committee and Development Committee staff the report provides a detailed analysis of financing and administrative solutions open to the Greater Columbus area in support of its recommendations.

The Water and Sewer Committee was organized in December, 1956. It immediately began a review of the 1954 Master Plan for Sewers and Sewage Treatment prepared for the Regional Planning Commission. In July, 1957, the committee recommended this plan, as modified for developments of intervening years, be adopted and construction begin on a program totaling $38,165, 000, as already available.

On Pay-As-You-Go Basis

Predicting that a maximum $27,576,641 will be available between now and 1960 for capital improvements the report states that, should the maximum amount be realized, the "immediate needs" program could be completed by 1969 on a pay-as-you-go basis. Issuance of bonds with a maximum term of 40 years in annual amounts of $3,000,000 each year for 10 years could be accomplished within the present structure, however.

"It should prove practical, and is therefore the recommendation of this committee," the report stated, "to start the improvement program under the method of issuing $3,000,000 per year in 40-year bonds and supplementing or expediting this capital improvement program to the extent possible through any surplus which might accrue . . ."

This would require that 40-year bond maturities for sewers be given to cities, instead of the present 25-year limit, but, "the normal amortization of sewage treatment facilities over a 25-year period and sewers over a 75-year period would tend to support a move on the part of cities to get the next General Assembly to amend the state laws to permit such financing."

Since maximum revenues must be made available, the committee recommended that a proper cost accounting system be installed and that a comprehensive rate analysis be made, utilizing the best consultant services available.

After these two steps are taken, "it would be possible and is therefore recommended that a more appropriate construction schedule be balanced against an appropriate rate schedule," the report continued.

Assessment Plan Defined

Since consruction of the main trunk sewers recommended in the 1954 Master Plan would require the companion development of sub-trunk sewers estimated to cost 50 per cent of the trunk sewer cost, the committee urged that a combination of assessments and funds of the Trunk Storm and Sanitary Sewer (acreage) fee be used to construct sewers. This would place the cost upon the persons directly benefited, instead of from general sewer revenues.

Recommendation that the City of Columbus continue as the primary administrator of the sewerage system was made after an extensive investigation of possible alternate administrative solutions. Five general types of administrative solutions — consolidation, functional transfer, functional consolidation, city-county consolidation and separation and federation—were studied for both general desirability and application under Ohio law. Retention of the present system of Columbus contracting with suburban municipalities for sewer service, subject to certain conditions, was recommended "because none of the other methods studied would have significantly greater advantages, nor could they become operative in time to provide the facilities needed immediately."

Conditions on these contracts, as outlined by the committee, include.

"1. The City of Columbus, as evidence it intends to shoulder responsibility for constructing the master plan of sewers, should adopt said plan and agree in contracts with various municipalities to use sewer rental funds to construct all trunk sewers set forth in the master plan in accordance with a priority schedule.

"2. Contracts with suburban municipalities should be of a sufficient term to allow for proper financing of the master plan improvements. This would produce a degree of permanence in sewer planning not now evident.

"3. Contracts should provide for rates based on cost of service by the City of Columbus as determined by proper rate analysis. Likewise, these rates should be directly related to the rates in the City of Columbus and subject to automatic adjustment up or down when the Columbus rate changes.

"4. Contracts should include adequate means of settling disputes over rates and service short of cancellation of contracts.

"5. Additional sewer taps in suburbs should be limited to existing corporate limits except as agreed otherwise by the legislative bodies of the participating bodies."

The committee recommended further that line extensions in unincorporated areas be made only on an emergency basis and regulated in such a manner as to promote the corporate growth of the City of Columbus, since its assumption of the master plan construction would require the central city to be as strong as possible.

These contracteral terms differ somewhat from those set forth in ordinances approved by City Council in 1954 and followed by city negotiators in their talks with suburban municipal officials since that time. Present policy is for two-year contracts, with no provision for construction of the Master Plan trunk sewers outside Columbus included.

Necessary Sewers Listed

Sewer facilities included in the "immediate needs" program recommended by the city include: Alum Creek trunk to Morse Rd., Big Walnut trunk to Broad Street, Olentangy trunk to Worthington, Scioto and East Scioto main trunks, Big Run trunk, second Southeast Treatment Plant near Lockbourne, and trunk sewer along Big Walnut Creek from its juction with Alum Creek to the second treatment plant.

In developing the report, the Water and Sewer Committee met with representatives of both Columbus and suburban municipalities, experts in the field of sewage treatment, and others interested in the problems of the Greater Columbus area.

Members of the committee in addition to Chairman Hartley are: Arvin J. Alexander, [illegible] Brenholts, Edmund A. Donnan, Henry A. Flaharty, J. Parker Garwick, L. A. Gusso, Paul J. Jones, Robert K. Levy, Harry E. Mayfield, Don E. Weaver and Allen W. Lundstrum.

Youngsters Overrun Great Western In Search Of Prize Eggs

Top right—Cameraman's view of a portion of the children, estimated at between 2,000 and 3,000, who swarmed in for the Easter egg hunt at Great Western Shoppers' Mart last Saturday morning. Scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., the crowd of youngsters was so large that more than 100 managers and assistants of Great Western stores were unable to restrain the children, who "jumped the gun" some five minutes early. Eggs, hidden in straw piled on the parking "islands" at the east side of the shopping center, represented prizes totaling more than $2,000.

(Above) Children and parents line up at prize table to present their eggs and receive awards. It took more than an hour to make the distribution.

Auditor, Recorder's Job

County Keeps Many Records

By State Representative Archer E. Reilly

County government is concerned in record-keeping — literally hundreds of thousands of records. And they are vitally important to anyone in the county with either an interest in real estate or a stake in a legal action. The Recorder's office and the Clerk of Court's office are the repositories of such records.

The Recorder's office is primarily involved with providing public notice via recording of interests in property. This is, of course, very significant to purchasers and future owners. Generally, the priority of such rights or interests is determined by the time of recording. The often quoted rule is, "First in time, first in right."

REILLY

The Recorder maintains indexes of all records. From the individual's point of view, they represent the key to finding any records in the office. For, without the indexes, finding data among 8,000 separate record books contained in the office would be nearly impossible. These records date back to 1803.

The Recorder's office does not want for business. During the course of a year, there are approximately 25,000 deeds filed; along with 18,000 real estate mortgages; close to 100,000 chattel mortgages and over 1,000 leases. The present Recorder is James Schaeffer.

The Clerk of Court's office is also a very busy place. It is, in fact the focal point in the county legal system.

Roy King is the Clerk of Courts. His office is involved in every official step in a county legal action. In a civil suit it is here that the petition, service of summons, answer and judgement are duly filed.

In a criminal case, the Clerk's office is involved from the time the bond is issued until the case is concluded with either a dismissal, an acquittal or a conviction.

Making Things Hot

This is the principal function of the main office located on the second floor of the old Court House.

The Divorce Division is a separate unit situated in the Juvenile Center across Mound-st from the Court House.

The office plays an important part inprocessing child support payments through its juvenile department.

It is here that all money, paid by parents and others for child support, is received and disbursed. This is quite an operation involving 9,000 checks per month.

The Ohio Certificate of Title Law, by its provisions, places a great emphasis upin the certificate itself.

The clerk is responsible for the issuance of all certificates of title on motor vehicles purchased in the county along with notations concerning liens and mortgages recorded therein.

This is round-the-clock mass production operation. Every effort is made to speed title processing. In that connection two new mechanical index machines have been installed to make the work as mechanized as possible.

This department includes 25 employes which makes it the largest single department in the Court House.

The Clerk's office is responsible for maintaining all court records and allied papers. This involves quite a filing operation as there are over 3,000,000 of these records. At the present time the office uses microfilming for the older papers.

The clerk handles all court costs. This amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars every year and requires a full time bookkeeping department. It also processes the filing of many miscellaneous legal documents and a variety of licenses.

The importance of these two offices is often underestimated. Public records are very much like personal portant part in processing for granted. But when they are needed, they may be needed badly. Thus, the efficient operation of these two offices is significant to the entire county.

YMCA, YWCA Provide Lessons In Moral Living

This is one of a series of topics by distinguished citizens of Columbus, bearing on the purposes, programs, and the activities of the YMCA and the YWCA.

The word "informal" is sometimes applied to education in a disparaging sense. This is unfortunate. Education is a continuous process, in school and out. We are educated by our vocations, friendships, recreations, by our reading, and by our participation with others in the activities of church and state.

The completion of a formal course of education is merely the beginning. The acquisition of a degree is no assurance that one is educated. The formal part of our education is comparatively brief, but informal education continues until our departure from earth. It is the larger part of our education.

If we expect freedoms in America to flourish and grow, we must look to the quality of our citizenship. This depends on education. One of the several virtues of democracy is the privilege of making choices, which means we are confronted with alternatives. Unless we know what the alternatives are, and can weigh them on the scales of education and experience, our choices may be unwise or irresponsible.

Most of our acts involve morality, often popularly and erroneously construed as merely a curb on human passions and appetites. Justice, benevolence, veracity, temperance, and tolerance are sometimes ignored.

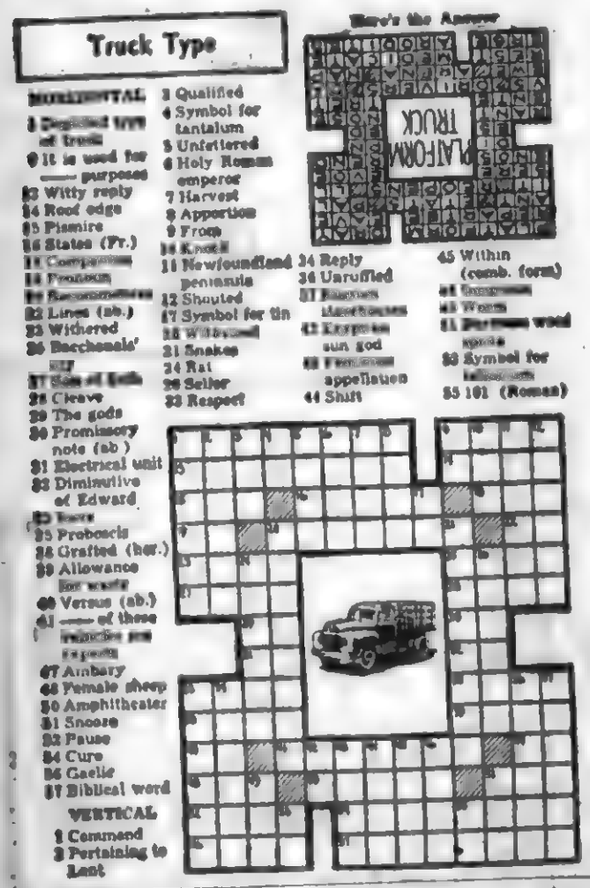
Dr. Harold H. Bibler
Superintendent of Schools
Columbus Board of Education

Lapses in the public conscience are due, in no small degree, to the general failure to recognize morality for what it really is.

Morality lies at the core of life. "It is a necessity," says Ralph Barton Perry, "imposed on man by the undeniable fact that his life, whether personal or social, is composed of a multitude of needs, wants, desires, and wills, which conflict with one another if they are allowed freely to run their several courses.

"Conflict breeds war — between rival impulses, between members of the same household, between one man's demands and his neighbor's, between the interests of different classes within society, and between the ambitions of the several nations and groups of nations that compose mankind."

Morality saves us from self-destruction by creating some order in life and harmonizing conflicting interests. The ultimate cure for our lapses in public and private conscience must rest in education. A mere recital of precepts and aphorisms is not enough. Such education must begin early, in the home, the church, the school.



But we must utilize every organization which has proved its value in the realm of character development. Immediately the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association come to mind. For more than a century they have provided young people with a world-wide fellowship based on the enduring principles of Christianity. Through their programs and facilities they have supplied an "informal" education in living and working together.

Their members are encouraged to make the right choices in life, to value Christian morality, not by bans, threats and penalties, but by recognition of the fact that it is fun to practice such virtues as faith, hope, love, prudence, justice, courage, honesty, and unselfishness.

If we want a better world, we can help to make it by supporting the YMCA and the YWCA in their effort to improve people — at the age when they are susceptible to improvement.

'Trailer-Sailors' Have Backyard Docks

INSIDE ON FIVE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Boat trailers have made boat ownership possible for millions of people who do not live "on the water." Now, many central Ohioans pack on the boat, fishing gear, and the family for an enjoyable day of fishing and boating.

John Seidel and I spent one of the most pleasant fishing days I can remember, on Lake Erie in his outboard boat when the white bass were running.

John, a Columbus architect, goes up to Lake Erie a half dozen times a year, but doesn't want to leave his boat there permanently. So he takes it back and forth with him on a trailer.

When not in use, the boat is in dry dock in John's garage. It could just as easily be "docked" in the backyard and covered with plastic or some other weatherproof material.

This do-it-yourself docking formula has been discovered by thousands of land-locked sailors and fishermen during the past ten years. It has given rise to a whole new breed of outboard boating enthusiasts—families who live long distances from water but spend their weekends and vacations afloat

Trailer Sales Spurt

Further indication of this trend on a national level comes from a series of surveys made by the Outboard Boating Club of America, which reports that in 1947 the total nationwide sale of boat trailers was 3,790; by 1957, a short ten years later, this annual figure had risen to 165,000. One trailer is now sold for every two boats which the public buys.

Boat trailers of today are more than racks on wheels on which to carry boats. They are, in fact, mobile launching ramps. And the modern trailer, with its engineering innovations, has made the launching and loading of a boat, even one as large as an outboard cruiser, virtually a matter of pushing the right button.

Many a two-week vacation is now planned to include a day or two of motoring to get to the water, and then to spend eight or ten days fishing and boating. John Seidel, for instance, takes his boat to Canada on fishing trips. The boat is as much a part of his standard equipment as fishing tackle.

Big Boost to Boaters

The boat trailer has made more water available to more people than any other single development in the boating field. At one time, boat ownership was virtually limited to persons who possessed lake or riverfront property. Now the man with a garage or backyard finds himself with "riparian rights," and boat ownership becomes not only possible, but a delightful prospect.

"If at first you don't succeed, that makes you just about average."—Warren Hull.

Indian Guides and Gra-Y boys swarmed out to the Hilltop "Y" Bunny Hunt Saturday afternoon. This annual event is sponsored by the Hilltop Y's Men's Club and "Y" Indian Guide Longhouse.

In the sports program of the Hilltop Gra-Y Clubs, basketball season closed with West Mound Club winning the "A" division, and West Broad winning the "B" division. Interests of these fourth, fifth and sixth grade boys now turn to prospects for a softball league.

News of the annual learn-to-swim campaign put on by Boys' Branch YMCA downtown reached the Hilltop schools this week. Six free swimming lessons are offered to beginners in grades 3 to 6. Additional information is available from the Hilltop Branch or Boys' Branch YMCA's.

Schedule for the week follows:

Wednesday, Apr. 2 — Gra-Y Club, John Burroughs School, 3:30 p.m.; "Y" Indian Guides, Mohawk, Sioux, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Apr. 5 — "Y" Indian Dancers, Hilltop YMCA, 9:30 a.m.; Jr. Church basketball Glenwood Recreation, 12:30.

Monday, Apr. 7 — "Y" movies, Hilltop YMCA, 3:30 p.m.; "Y" Indian Guides, Cayugas, 7:15 p.m.; Y's Men Bowling, 8:30 p.m.

Hilltonia Cubs Receive Awards

Awards were presented by Cubmaster Harold Alexander to the following cubs:

Den 1, Larry Long, assistant denner, Keith Eaton, Lion.

Den 2—Alan Hane, Lion; Paul Kline, gold arrow and denner; Rickey Dehman, assistant denner.

Den 3, Steven Clark, gold arrow; Richard Barton, Wolf; Johnny Miller, Wolf.

Two-year pins were presented to Mrs. Ruth Kelly, Bruce Kelly and Thomas Jester. Keith Eaton, Bruce Kelly and Alan Hane were promoted to the Webelos Den.

Eight boys graduating into Boy Scout Troop 387 of Hilltonia Church were presented with a chow kit. Robert Dings, assistant district commissioner; Harold Arnold, assistant district commissioner, and Sheldon Hatzer, neighborhood commissioner, were present.

Boys, welcomed into the troop by Charles Huff, junior leader, were Steven Bringardner, Billy-Rexer, Mike Doane, Kenneth Snider, Mark Leathers, Richard Find, Richard Sherer and Donald Schumacher.

Recognition was given to Mrs. Richard McClung and Mrs. Robert Miller who were instrumental in organizing the pack.

Roll Of Adhesive Tape Saves The Day!

HERO of the annual YMCA Matchbox Racer Derby this year was Mark Inks, center. Despite a 'pit stop' to tape together a broken wheel, he came through to win three heats and the championship trophy. Eighty-four racers built by Hilltop "Y" Indian Guide members and their fathers competed Mar. 15, at Central YMCA. Other cup winners seen here with Mark are Fred Grace, left, best decorated racer; and John Kuhn, Class B finalist. John wears a racing T-shirt given by the Hilltop Y's Men's Club.

GIVEN PERMIT

Herman Peduck, 3204 Whitehead-rd, has been granted a permit to build a two-car brick garage.

RETURNS FROM TOUR

Robert Mumper and Ray Vermillya, teachers at Dearud Piano Studio, returned this week from touring New York and other eastern cities with the Ohio State University Symphonic Choirs. Vermillya was a member of the choir and Mumper, accompanist.

Politeness is the art of choosing among your thoughts.

Outer Space Gardens Are Popular Now

Since United States and Russia began racing to conquer outerspace, and to reach the moon, there has been an increased interest at Franklinton Branch Library in books on astronomy, space travel, rockets and missiles, weather and other scientific subjects.

According to your librarian, Mrs. Anna Kelly, the library at 840 Sullivant-av, has books on all these fields.

Spring time is garden time. The Hilltop Branch Library, at 2966 W. Broad-st, announces an excellent collection of books and magazines that will help gardeners, experts or amateurs, with many of their most vexing problems. Mary Elizabeth Keyser, librarian, and her helpers will help you select the material you want.

Ask Churches To Honor 'Y' Community Service

More than 400 churches in Columbus and Franklin County are being asked to observe Sunday, Apr. 13, as "Y Sunday" in recognition of the contribution of the YMCA and YWCA to religious and spiritual life of the community.

In a letter to ministers of the area, Rev. G. Weir Hartman, executive director of the Columbus Area Council of Churches, and Rev. Albert O. Kean, president of the Columbus Area Ministerial Association, suggestions are made for acknowledging the Christian aims of the two associations in their educational and recreational programs for youth. Both organizations have approved the observance.

A special folder on "Y Sunday" is being offered for insertion in church bulletins. Sermons on youth and its needs are suggested, with special honors to the "Y" members of each church. Some ministers will invite young "Y" representatives to offer brief testimony on what these associations have meant to them.

Although the YMCA and YWCA are engaged in a joint $2,500,000 campaign for construction of four new buildings and modernization of two downtown structures, no solicitation and no collections will be conducted in churches.

In addition to Reverends Hartman and Kean, the Church committee for "Y" Sunday includes the following from this area: Rev. S. H. Alexander, Hilltop Ministerial Association; Rev. C. F. Jenkins, Spring Street; Rev. Joseph M. O'Morrow, vice-president Columbus Area Ministerial Association, and Rev. Clarence D. Mulkin, South Side.

Seventy-five per cent of the freshmen admitted to the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago were in the upper quarter of their high school graduating classes.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR

Protein Foods—ham, turkey, chuck roast, large eggs.

Vegetables — carrots, salad greens, frozen peas and spinach.

Fruits—Bananas, pineapple, Winesap apples, prunes.

HAM FOR EASTER DINNER

A big juicy ham, glazed and beautifully garnished, has become an American tradition for Easter dinner. And luckily so, for you'll find ham is one of the best meat buys at the market this week. Since ham fits nicely into almost any meal pattern, consider a whole ham . . . at the present it is the best value.

Types Available—Fresh ham . . . no curing has been done, and must be fully cooked before eating.

Tenderized ham . . . partially cooked; needs additional cooking.

Ready-to-Eat or Fully Cooked Ham . . . heated to temperature where safe to eat; flavor improved with further cooking.

You may have these types in a variety of forms, namely, smoked skinned ham, skinless-shankless ham, boned and rolled ham, or canned ham. In figuring the cost in comparison with other meats, remember that a regular smoked-skinned ham yields about 75 percent of its weight in edible portions, while about 90 percent of the skinless-sankless ham is edible. Remember, too, that each additional service done to the ham for you adds to the cost.

Care — Ham is a cured meat, unless specifically labeled as fresh ham. It should be stored tightly covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. While freezing is not generally recommended for ham, portions of the Easter ham can be frozen and kept up to three months if wrapped in a moisture and vapor-proof package and stored at 0°F.

EGG COLORING TIME IS HERE

Because white shells dye in clear, bright colors, eggs of this color are generally in heavy demand the week before Easter. Sometimes this pushes the price up, while in some markets there may be specials in eggs for coloring.

Brown or speckled shells do not take color in quite the same way as white shells, but they do give unusual color effects, and they are often a good buy for special decorating with decals, transfers or a fine paint brush, for example.

Mothers frequently ask whether children should eat dyed cooked eggs. A statement that the color is harmless may be found on the package containing Easter egg dyes. Though the dyed eggs are hard cooked, it is best to refrigerate and eat them within a day or two.

Your favorite cookbook has many ideas for using hard cooked eggs. Among the suggestions you will find are stuffed egg appetizers and main dishes. Try varying deviled eggs with deviled ham or finely minced meat or fish, chopped parsley or green pepper. Hard cooked eggs are good in salads . . . try adding them to tossed salads.

Creamed or scalloped eggs and their many variations make good protein main dishes.

Custom Homes Granted Hearing On Rezoning

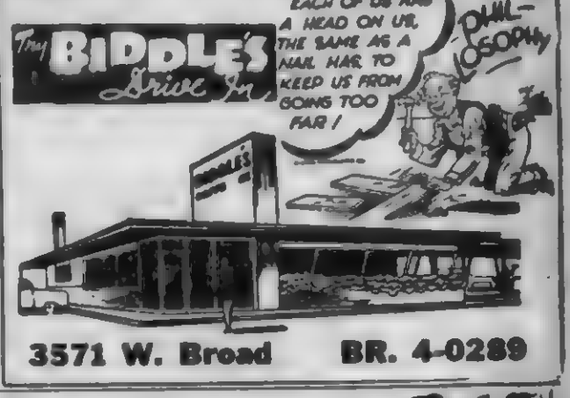
Franklin County Board of County Commissioners will give a final hearing in connection with a rezoning request at the corner of Sullivant-av and Derrer-rd, Apr. 11 at 10 a.m. The session will take place at the Franklin County Court House.

Filed by Custom Built Homes, Inc., the request asks to change a 132 by 255 foot tract from a single family residential zone to an apartment zone at lot ten in Franklin Heights subdivision.

Pet goldfish belong to the carp family and are reduced in size by selective breeding. Given unlimited food and room to expand, as in an outdoor pool, they lose their striking appearance and come to look like wild fish.

'Y' Informal Classes Begin Next Monday

Spring Term of the Informal Evening School of the Central YMCA will begin the week of Apr. 7. There will be 41 classes offered to all men and women regardless of educational background.



The non-credit classes are designed to increase competence in social skills, increase awareness of mankind's common problems, and increase personal expression through creative art activities.

Reduced fees are offered all "Y" members and to husbands and wives who enroll in the same course.

Details may be obtained by calling CA. 4-1131.

Attend Church Easter Sunday

This Message Sponsored By The Hilltop Kiwanis Club

Easter Sunday

The glory of Easter Sunday shines brightly in the hearts of men, women and children, the world over. In our observance of this most joyful of all days, may each one of us find the inspiration of hope renewed, of faith fulfilled. May all of us find new spiritual strength in the heartening promise of life everlasting, given to all the world on that first Easter Sunday, almost two thousand years ago.

Let us gather with family and friends in church this Easter Sunday. Let us join our voices with the choir in those beloved old Easter hymns. Let us see in the profusion of Easter flowers, the miracle of spiritual rebirth. Let us life our hearts with the glory of the age-old Easter message. Let us return to our work-a-day worlds, refreshed in spirit by all the wonder and beauty that is Easter Sunday!

ENOUGH TO LIGHT UP THE EYES of any old fisherman is this array of prizes for the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest. Here Henry Jones and Rod Cochran, writer of our weekly column, "Inside on the Outdoors," look them over.

From the looks of the picture you might get the idea that Christmas is coming a little early this year. This is not the case how-

The two fellows are simply looking over some $300 worth of prizes to be awarded to fishermen in this area in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest.

Anglers will have to "work" for these prizes—if work is what you want to call it—by catching some big fish in Madison Lake.

Hartley Newspapers are sponsoring the contest in an effort to interest more people in the healthful outdoor sport of fishing, and to reward fishermen who bring in trophy catches.

Madison Lake was chosen for the contest because it offers public fishing close to this area, and the fishing is usually good. It covers 106 acres and is located 10 miles west of Darbydale on State Route 665. The lake offers ample opportunity for you to catch some lunkers this year.

Contest Starts Apr. 15

If you're like us, this list of prizes will make you "itch" to go fishing. All fish caught after Apr. 15, 1958, are eligible for the contest, so that you can enter the fish you catch on your next trip to Madison.

You can enter as many fish

Here Are The Prizes!

Do We Deserve A $350,000 'Y'?

Residents and business people of this community are being asked to contribute $100,000 to the YMCA-YWCA Development Fund Drive now under way.

This amount of financial support represents a fair share in the county-wide total in the drive for $2,520,000.

When this drive is successful the Hilltop will in turn receive a new $350,000 YMCA building to be erected on the ten-acre site at Valleyview and Hague. When has this community had such a grand opportunity to get such a huge return from such an investment?

Contributions to the drive at this point in no way measure the interest in this building program. For ten years people here have asked for this building. Now it is on blueprints awaiting the successful conclusion of this drive. Getting it under construction will come only when you, and you, and you have made your fair share pledge to this campaign.

Every individual and business firm in this area should support this drive to the best of their ability. Make your pledge for an amount you can afford to give and pay it in installments over a four-year period.

Large business and industry of the city have indicated their willingness to participate and have already pledged over $550,000.

When a worker calls at your home or place of business, be prepared to make a decision and a contribution while he is there. The worker will in turn be encouraged to give more of his efforts to the drive.

If the Hilltop does not meet this challenge and raise this amount of money we do not deserve this fine building. In turn we are not fair to our youth.

velopment of a future city park at "grass roots" level Tuesday afternoon.

City and school officials watched as the pupils planted 500 white pine, ash and maple seedlings in the new Hilltop Community Center, west of Valleyview Elementary School.

While serving to beautify the new center, the trees will also provide a workshop in forestry and conservation for local schools. Ultimately 6000 trees will be planted by youngsters from the fourth grade on up.

Probably one of the proudest to witness the mass planting was Miss Mary W. Baker. As biology teacher at West she has long sought a forestry lab for her pupils. She praised the help many have given her in planning the project.

Cooperating were the local and city school heads, City Division of Parks and Forestry, and Ohio State University.

Representing these groups at Tuesday's initial planting were Dr. Harold Eibling, Dr. Carl S. Johnson, Ray Dietz, William Walton, Joe Davis, Forest Rader, Miss Harriette Brown and Miss

Fluoride

Its Effect On You!

Editor's Note: Much discussion of possible fluoridation of Columbus water has prompted an inquiry into the subject by this newspaper. The effect of fluoridation is important, not only to Columbus, but to other cities and villages which either receive Columbus water now or are contemplating the use of fluorinated water in the future. Two opinions on fluoridation are expressed here by Dr. Ollie Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner, and Dr. Jonathon Forman, chairman of the National Committee for the Evaluation of Fluoridation.

An Advantage

Fluoridation of city water is safe, effective and a positive health asset, says Dr. Ollie Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner.

"People of Columbus have been drinking chlorinated water for years with no ill effects. Chlorine, iodine and fluorine are all lethal in large doses! If a person drank gallons of chlorinated water daily, or ate fantastic amounts of iodized salt, these would prove fatal.

"Fluorine is the same way and it has been proved by the nation's leading scientists that one part of fluorine to one million parts water is positively safe and will curb tooth decay by 60 per cent in America's children!

"In Texas, where the effects of fluoridated water on tooth decay was first discovered, children and young and old adults have been drinking naturally fluoridated water for generations with no ill effects other than stained or mottled teeth caused by the high uncontrolled amount of fluoride in the water.

"Right now, there are 20½ million people drinking fluoridated water in the United States. A large segment of these have been drinking it all their lives without physical harm!

"Of course, there is a better way to prevent tooth decay! That would be to have the teeth of every child cleaned by a dentist three times a year! For one thing, there aren't enough dentists to handle a job like that!

"Even if there were enough dentists, people who can afford proper dental care for their children often neglect to have it done. Those who can't afford it are just out of luck.

"Fluoridation has proved that it can safely, economically, efficiently and effectively reduce tooth decay by 60 per cent in most cases.

"Even if it would only reduce it 10 per cent, in my opinion, it would be worth the cost to the city to offer this protection to our children and their children!

"Many have labeled fluoridation as a 'mass medication' which is contrary to the beliefs of some organizations and religions. However, so was pasteurization of milk. Ten years ago pasteurization became a legal requirement for all milk to be sold in this city.

"Those who do not choose to drink 'cooked' milk must go out of the city to buy it and it should be the same in the case of fluoridation!

"If a few people feel they don't want to drink fluoridated water they should go out of the city to buy their water! Fluoridation should come to Columbus to benefit the majority, which it will, and should not be voted out because of the minority.

"In 1956, the Columbus Board of Health passed a resolution recommending the fluoridation of the Columbus water supply being standardized to one part per million. It is safe, effective and cheap and I hope our Columbus children will have the opportunity to benefit from its protection!"

A Danger

Fluoridation of Columbus water would be definitely be wrong, according to Dr. Jonathan Forman, offices at 130 S. Grant-av.

Dr. Forman, an allergist, is a past president of the Friends of the Land organization and has studied the effects of fluoride on people, animals and soil. He is now chairman of the National Committee for the Evaluation of Fluoridation.

He stated the following reasons why Columbus water should not be fluoridated:

"Fluoridation is a therapeutic treatment which is definitely in the poisonous range for many people even in the now 'standard proportion' of one part to one million parts of water.

"Proponents of fluoridation insist that since chlorine has been used in city water supplies for many years without ill effects that fluorine can too. We must remember, however, that chlorine is placed in water to treat the water while fluorine treats people!

"Records I have examined of towns in Colorado which have 'naturally' fluoridated water show that residents of these towns had signs of fluoride poisoning, especially evident by mottled teeth. In some towns, as many as 80 per cent of the residents showed signs of poisoning from fluoridated water.

"Fluorine does not smell and does not taste. When the fluoridated water is boiled the chemical is concentrated; unlike chlorine, it does not go off as a gas. Fluorides are strong inhibitors of enzymes, especially those concerned with the utilization of sugars and starches.

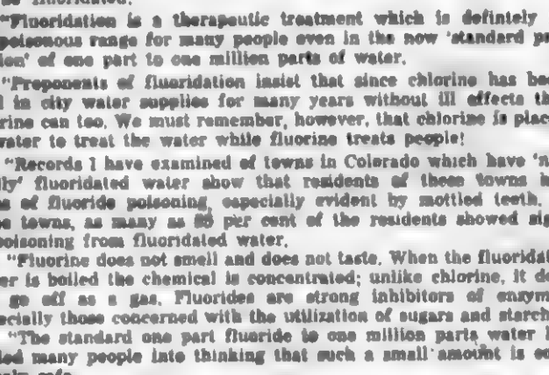
"The standard one part fluoride to one million parts water has fooled many people into thinking that such a small amount is completely safe.

Yet, other drugs as powerful as fluorine are used in much smaller amounts than this fluoridation standard and will have a definite effect on the person to whom it is applied.

"About one-quarter of one part of another drug can reduce a man's blood pressure effectively. Small quantities of powerful drugs do not necessarily guarantee safety.

"Fluoridation is artificial medication and the use of it should be decided by the person involved, not by a health department staff! It is an entirely unscientific method of treatment and a haphazard dosing of the people."

When asked if there was a better way to cut down on tooth decay, Dr. Forman replied, "every druggist has fluoride available in bottles. Proper dosage can be prescribed by the dentist. It is inexpensive and assures that a person receives only the amount of fluoride that is safe for his or her physical makeup.



"Those persons who drink soft drinks or other beverages made in cities that have fluoridated water, are already getting fluoride. Some people work in occupations where they receive more fluoride, such as welding, soldering, etching, laundry work and the manufacturing of bricks, glass, enamel and fertilizers. There is every possibility they will be receiving too much fluoride if their city water is treated with it, too.

"It doesn't actually prevent tooth decay but delays it! A boy nine years of age who has been drinking fluoridated water may have 60 per cent less tooth decay than a boy nine who hasn't. But, compare the nine-year-old who hasn't with a boy 11 who has been treated with fluoride through water and you'll find about the same amount of tooth decay!

"Fluoridation doesn't work, it is expensive to install and operate, unscientific dosage and dangerous!"

Prosecutor, Too

Sheriff Holds County's Most Dashing Office

By State Representative Archer E. Reilly

Law enforcement is a fundamental part of county government. It is also cloaked with an aura of romance and action, for the Prosecutor and Sheriff are established heroes of the American tradition.

REILLY

Actually, their duties in a metropolitan county involve important civil functions, as well as law enforcement. Nevertheless, the modern Prosecutor and Sheriff are still essentially law enforcement officials.

The Prosecuting Attorney in Ohio represents the state government in the county where a crime is committed. Legally, a crime is an offense against the state. Thus, a criminal case involves "The State of Ohio vs. John Doe."

The Prosecutor officially enters the picture when a proper authority holds that there is sufficient evidence of a crime by a party in question to present evidence to the Grand Jury. He is responsible for the presentation of such evidence. If the Grand Jury decides to indict a person for a crime, it is the Prosecutor's office which presents the case for the state.

This involves the selection of a jury; the presentation of witnesses in behalf of the state along with physical evidence; cross examination of witnesses and a summation of the state's case to the jury. Conviction requires proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

In the event of appeal, the Prosecutor's office represents the state in the Appellate Courts.

The present Franklin County Prosecutor is Samuel L. Devine.

The Sheriff is also primarily concerned with law enforcement. As part of this responsibility he actively polices all of the unincorporated area of the county. This requires a constant, roving, motorized, uniformed patrol consisting of nine full time men.

When an arrest is made, the procedure is clear cut. The suspect is brought into jail, an affidavit is filed, and the matter is set down for a preliminary hearing before a municipal judge who, under the new system, sits in the Court House.

If the court decides that there is sufficient cause, the suspect is bound to the Grand Jury.

The Sheriff is in charge of the county jail. This is quite a housekeeping operation in itself. Among other items it involves the serving of between 500 and 600 meals per day along with the custody of an average complement of between 175 and 200 prisoners of whom 10 or 15 are women.

It also operates a convoy service for the courts; and averages two trips a week to Lima State Hospital taking prisoners to and from observation periods. The Sheriff is also responsible for transporting persons committed to state institutions to the appropriate institution.

The present Sheriff is Stacy Hall. His staff includes one captain, three lieutenants and ten sergents. The uniformed members of the staff are furnished uniforms along with annual cash allowances to replenish worn items.

A modern sheriff, despite the fact he neither dresses nor acts like the old time frontier figure, has in fact the same function. For essentially, he is still responsible for maintaining law and order in the county.

The Prosecutor and the Sheriff are entirely different functions. However, their objectives have much in common and they cooperate with one another in many matters.

YMCA, YWCA Must Keep Pace With Growing Area

Robert Lazarus, President of The F. & R. Lazarus & Co., Columbus, Ohio

Much of our past, present and future prosperity rests on one important factor—growth in population.

A machine in the Department of Commerce in Washington registers one birth every eight seconds, one death every 21 seconds, the arrival of an immigrant every two minutes, and the departure of one every 24 minutes.

While it took the nation 273 years to acquire its first 50 million population, the second 50 million came in 35 years, the third in 34 years, and the fourth is scheduled in 1967, gained in 18 years. The experts now estimate that the next 50 million will come in just 14 years and that only 12 more years will be needed to reach 300,000,000, due in 1993.

We are marrying earlier and raising larger families. Last year more than four million babies were born. Before World War II, the annual baby crop was less than two and a half million.

This is all very promising in some respects. A great deal of the enormous expansion in manufacturing and distribution facilities during the last decade was based on this sure source of demand for a greater volume of products of all kinds.

The burden of the rapidly rising youth population, however, falls especially heavy on schools, churches, and the YMCA and YWCA which are acutely concerned with the development of young people.

Since 1950, the metropolitan population of Columbus has risen about 25%, but children in the 1 to 14 age group have increased 92% and actually constitute nearly 34% of our total population!

In the 1960's when the babies of 1946-47 reach the most frequent marrying age —20 for women; 23 for men—wedding bells will ring frequently and the annual rate of family formation will rise again.

One can hardly expect the YMCA and the YWCA, whose facilities have not expanded in more than thirty years, to nurture the mounting army of youngsters seeking outlets for their energy, ambitions, and aspirations in the programs and buildings of these old and tried youth organizations.

Once a child has reached school age and begun to associate with his fellows, the home loses some of its influence. Boys and girls commence to form in groups, sharing the interests and recreations common to their age. The concern of all of us is with the leisure time of our young people. Undirected idleness is one of the main causes of juvenile delinquency.

Every parent should be happy to invest something in such youth organizations as the YMCA and YWCA which for more than a century have provided fellowship for boys and girls of all races and creeds.

We have enormous resources in our youth. Let us encourage and develop the characteristics that make good citizens. Good citizens make a good city.

YMCA

Nothing Great Is Possible Without Plan

LATELY we hear a lot about social planning. Possibly, both in the church and in society, there is too great emphasis on organization, especially where it is divorced from life and specific tasks and goals.

But we know that nothing great or permanent can be accomplished without planning. We see that Christ was not only preeminent as a teacher but also as a strategist. He considered carefully just how His words and public life could be most effective.

If our modern nations had shown as much strategy as Christ, we would not be in the plight we are in.

In Christ's method we see the importance of something that is fundamental to evangelism. All that He organized was based on the idea of hand-to-hand contact, of man with man. The preaching of His gospel was not something theoretical; it was a matter of direct action.

It is a grave question whether in our modern religious work we have not gone too far from this basic method, depending upon brilliant sermons, mass movements and various other factors, all worthy enough in themselves, to do what can be done only by more directly personal contacts.

The 70 men whom Christ sent out evidently went into individual homes as a modern pastor. Their work was not to get crowds to listen, but to do the patient, quiet work of, preparing the ground for the seed the Master would sow.

This wasn't easy. Christ compared the men to lambs going forth into the midst of wolves. But what a marvelous tribute He paid them—these chosen, devout souls—when He said, "Blessed are the eyes that see the things that ye see."

It's GIRL SCOUT Cookie Time Again

Starting on Friday, Apr. 11 (after school hours) and continuing through Monday, Apr. 21, members of the community are asked to cooperate in this annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

There will be three types of cookies available this year for the same price of 40c per box, i.e., regular four-flavored sandwich creme, the ever-popular thin mint and "Savannah" which is a peanut butter sandwich cookie.

Proceeds from this annual cookie sale will be used to balance the Girl Scout Budget. Each troop will earn 5c per box sold which will be used for their own troop programs.

Goal this year is 250,000 boxes. This will aid in carrying the Girl Scout program into six counties and increased enrollments. There are over 12,000 girls registered in the Ohio Trefoil Council.

Each girl is planning to sell twenty-five boxes, so when your "scouts" come to your door – cooperate and also treat your family to good cookies. Note to the thrifty – these cookies will keep perfectly in your freezer indefinitely, so buy for today and tomorrow, as well.

Lily Parade Nets $720 In This Area

Receipts of the lily parade sponsored by the Braces of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children amounted to $720 in the west area. This was about 20 per cent of the county totals.

Mrs. James Hay, chairman, credited success of the drive to high school girls and other volunteers.

Proceeds will be given to the Easter Seal fund for crippled children, said Mrs. Hay.

When rinsing dishes before washing use cold water for milk and eggs. Hot water cooks them to the pan.

ARCs Plan 'Rag Day' To Buy School

Local residents are urged this week to save their rags and magazines to help build a new school for retarded children.

Dubbed "Operation Rag Drag," a county-wide rag collection to raise funds has been set for Friday and Saturday, Apr. 18 and 19.

Sponsoring ARCs of Franklin County, who aid retarded children, will offer eight S&H or Top Value trading stamps in exchange for one pound of rags and one stamp for one pound of magazines.

Huge trucks parked in Great Southern, Town and Country, Great Eastern, Graceland, Northern Lights, Lane Avenue, Great Western and Central Point Shopping Centers will serve as collection points. ARC women will weigh the rags, issue the stamps and load the trucks.

Timing their project to arrive with spring house cleaning season, the ARCs are giving housewives two weeks to unearth discarded rags, clothing, blankets and curtains. Magazines may also be exchanged for stamps, but newspapers are not wanted.

Proceeds will be earmarked for a new school for retarded children and turned over to the Council for Retarded Children.

The 70-year-old Mt. Vernon Avenue School, recently operated by the Council for Retarded Children, was condemned following a fire in January and a permanent building is being sought.

Stairway To Nowhere!

A recent song began, "When you climb the highest mountain—suddenly there's a valley." Anyone climbing this object would suddenly find nothing! It's a staircase . . . all that remains of one of the last houses left on E. Sandusky-st. The site will soon be covered by concrete and will become a hustle-bustle expressway—part of the ribbon-of-roads that will wrap Columbus up like a Christmas package!

How Much For Food?

From time immemorial the cost of food, like the weather, has provided a common ground for conversation. Today, with food one of the most important products of our vast industrial system, the cost continues to provide conversation.

In order to help us know exactly what we are paying for when we purchase food, why food prices change, let us take a food inventory of today's grocery basket.

Many important changes have resulted in a far better grocery basket than ever before.

- Increased quantity available
- Improved quality
- More variety the year round
- Improved in taste
- Convenience foods

Your Food Dollar

The average American spends more on food than for any other single item in the budget. In 1956, food and tobacco made up 32 percent of the total expenditures; clothing took 10 percent; housing 12 percent; household operations 14 percent; transportation 12 percent; and other expenses and services 20 percent.

Try This for a Month or Two — Are you judging your total expenditures fairly? You may not be spending as much to feed your family as you think, if you base your estimates on the money you paid at the grocery store. Not all items on the grocery shelves these days are foods.

To get an accurate figure on what it costs your family to eat, you may need to subtract not only paper supplies, notions and drugs from the itemized grocery slip, but also cooking utensils, clothing items, cosmetics, magazines and toys.

When you check your purchases against your register stub, mark through all non food purchases. Try this for a month or two. The total amount of money spent only for food may be encouraging.

It's Twentieth Anniversary For Fozzy's

Marking his 20th year in the garden supply business, Howard "Fozzy" Foxnaugh, owner of Fozzy's Nursery, 1040 Georgesville-rd, recalls the opening of his first store in 1938.

He had been employed by the State Department of Agriculture and became interested in landscaping. He opened his pottery and garden store at 3230 W. Broad-st. In 1950, he moved his operation to its present location to provide larger display area and parking facilities.

Three years ago, Fozzy further expanded his business by adding several pieces of large equipment to fulfill industrial and highway seeding contracts.

This year, in honor of his anniversary, Fozzy extended his under-roof display area of evergreens and garden supplies plus the addition of drive-in service.

Associated with him are his father, Howard Foxnaugh, sr., and his son, Howard "Robin" Foxnaugh.

as you wish, but only one prize will be awarded to a

Other rules of the contest: Fish must be caught at Madison Lake and entered at Carner's Boat House (a convenient location right at the lake). An entry blank will be filled out there and will include species of fish, date caught, the length to the nearest quarter inch weight to the nearest ounce, and girth to the nearest quarter inch.

A point system will be used in scoring fish, and a point will be given to each quarter ounce and each quarter inch as determined from the measurements. Decisions of judges will be final.

Prizes will be awarded at the close of the contest, midnight, Sept. 15, 1958.

Well, there you have it—the rest is up to you! The rules are simple, and the list of prizes impressive. We'll keep you posted from time to time on the progress of the contest.

Do not be bashful about entering a fish that you may think to be too small. It's surprising sometimes how high a fish will score using the above point system.

Remember, take your fish to Carner's Boat House and not to the newspaper office. The boat dock will be headquarters for the fishing contest.

HE IS PLEDGED TO PROTECT YOUR INTERESTS

Don't take a chance on what may be the most important financial transaction your family may ever undertake!

When it comes to real estate, the wisest decision you can make, is to consult a broker entitled to call himself a REALTOR—one accepted for membership in the local real estate board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Why?

A Realtor knows today's market. He handles hundreds of similar transactions. He can get you a fair price, quick sale.

A Realtor has a list of prospects who are honestly interested in finding a home. He shows by appointment, eliminating the stream of casual lookers who otherwise would troop through your house.

A Realtor screens out the prospects who are financially unable to meet your price. No wasting valuable time showing your home to those unqualified to buy.

A Realtor is prepared to arrange the intricacies of financing to complete the deal.

A Realtor has the technique and "Know how" necessary to close the transaction properly.

HE IS PLEDGED TO PROTECT YOUR INTERESTS

Don't take a chance on what may be the most important financial transaction your family may ever undertake!

When it comes to real estate, the wisest decision you can make, is to consult a broker entitled to call himself a REALTOR—one accepted for membership in the local real estate board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Why?

A Realtor knows today's market. He handles hundreds of similar transactions. He can get you a fair price, quick sale.

A Realtor has a list of prospects who are honestly interested in finding a home. He shows by appointment, eliminating the stream of casual lookers who otherwise would troop through your house.

A Realtor screens out the prospects who are financially unable to meet your price. No wasting valuable time showing your home to those unqualified to buy.

A Realtor is prepared to arrange the intricacies of financing to complete the deal.

It Wasn't A Good Friday At Sullivant Airport Last Week!

Trouble was heaped upon trouble last Friday at Sullivant-Avenue Airport, 3911 Sullivant-av. Two light planes crashed only two hours apart and a policeman broke his leg in a motorcycle spill.

In the second crash seven power lines were snapped at Sullivant-av and fell across the auto of a terrified driver, M. C. Marsh, 2090 Cleveland-av. Some homes and stores in the area were without power several hours.

Still in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital this week are the policeman, Raymond E. McKnight, 2036 Doren-av and the two passengers of the first plane, Joseph Dahm of Arnold, Pa., and Charles R. Langstaff, New Kensington, Pa. While escorting a police ambulance McKnight's motorcycle skidded on the wet pavement at Georgesville and Clime-rds.

Robert S. Reid, Milwaukee, pilot of the second plane escaped serious injury.

Dahm and Langstaff were flying a Cessna 140 in at noon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bradford of 4786 Amesbury-wy. Dahm said the plane did not feel right and got out of control southwest of the airstrip. It bounced into a tree and flipped on its back.

Reid, in a Piper Tri-Pacer was slowed by gusts as he approached from the north at 2:00 p.m. The plane, belonging to a Dayton firm, snagged 13,000 volt wires over Sullivant and immediately blew circuit breakers in the Wilson-rd power station. The plane plummeted only 65 feet away and the pilot emerged unhurt. Possibly even more shaken was Marsh whose car was covered-ed by the high lines. Electric company officials said he was in no danger, however, because the circuit was thrown immediately.

Gomer Jones, manager of Jones Flying Service at the airport, has been interested in the reaction of residents in the area. "So far no one has called me to complain of any hazards" said Jones who long has sought city ownership or at least a vote of confidence from city council toward continuance of the airport."

Something Wrong in Civil Service Dept.

There's been a lot of commotion recently down in city hall in the civil service department with two members of the commission sounding off with criticism of the secretary of the commission, Gale Reeder.

Never let it be said that any man is above criticism but this particular situation is taking on an unpleasant flavor.

Gale Reeder has been on that staff for 25 years and is known to have long time knowledge and ability in the operation of that department. Columbus has had a good civil service department probably because Reeder was known to be the type of person who never did anything in his job unless it conformed to the instructions by the commissioners, yet at the same time he never did the special bidding of anyone.

The fire and police departments have found no fault with his work.

It will be a very regretable situation if Columbus loses the services of Gale Reeder and politics take over in the civil service commission.

A Salute to the Jets!

It was our pleasure to be present last Saturday evening at the reception given in honor of the Columbus Jets and Pittsburgh Pirates by John Galbreath at his Darby Dan farm west of town.

Columbus is fortunate in having a fine baseball club (and we predict that very thing for the Jets this year) and further fortunate that men like Mr. Galbreath are civic minded to the extent that they make so many opportunities for young men of today.

Grand Opportunity To Get Rich Quick

Glorious Opportunity to Get Rich—We are starting a cat ranch in Lacon with 100,000 cats. Each cat will average 12 kittens a year. The cat skins will sell for 90 cents each. One hundred men can skin 5,000 cats a day. We figure a daily net profit of over $10,000. NOW WHAT SHALL WE FEED THE CATS? We will start a rat ranch next door with 1,000,000 rats. The rats will breed 12 times faster than the cats. So we will have four rats to feed each day to each cat. NOW WHAT SHALL WE FEED THE

A Word For The 'Ys'

Throughout the world the YMCA and the YWCA are known and respected for their work with youth. Every city welcomes them as strong influences in the development of character and responsibility. The FBI commends them for their preventive work against juvenile delinquency.

Our YMCA Branch — the Hilltop is one of our finest community resources. Thousands of boys and girls are active in its clubs, teams, groups, and committees. Scores of volunteer leaders provide their services for the good of the community and its young people.

But the possibilities of our Hilltop Branch cannot be achieved in the existing building. Without a pool, gymnasium, auditorium, and adequate club and committee rooms, the 'Y' program is hampered.

This situation can be rectified if the Hilltop community responds now. Hilltop shares in the funds raised by the $2,520,000 YMCA-YWCA Joint Development campaign. It has an opportunity to join in the creation of a center at Valleyview and Hague Avenues unexcelled in the city. Millions are being invested there in schools, churches, and playgrounds.

Now is the time for our community to show initiative, wisdom, generosity, and self reliance. Unless we display these characteristics by action we can hardly ask others to share in providing a new 'Y' building.

The campaign now being conducted on the Hilltop should enlist the support of every resident. The YMCA, and YWCA are actually extensions of the home, church and the schools. They have sought no capital funds in a generation. They cannot serve your children unless you serve them.

Let us continue the progress for which Hilltop is distinguished by giving sacrificially in time and money to a project that deserves our help because it is for our benefit.

School Board Lets Westmoor Bids; Approves Huge Building Program

The Columbus Board of Education took a long stride forward in its program of providing adequate classroom space for the ever-increasing number of Hilltop youngsters during a meeting held late Tuesday.

In four separate actions, the board awarded contracts totaling $1,175,807 for Westmoor Junior High School, to be built south and west of Valleyview Elementary; approved plans for a six-room addition to West Mound Street School; purchased ground on Briggs-rd at Lindbergh-dr for the construction of a new elementary school, and approved plans for the proposed new nine-classroom building.

The program of enlarging West Mound Street School and constructing a new elementary building, planned to accommodate children living in the newly-annexed areas of Rainbow Addition and Georgian Heights, is contingent on the approval of the State Board of Education to the transfer of both areas from Southwest School District to Columbus District.

Annexation, for municipal purposes does not automatically transfer the school jurisdiction.

Columbus Board will petition the State Board of Education, during a hearing planned for May, to transfer the areas from Southwest to Columbus District.

If the transfer is approved, the additional classroom space will be ready in time for the new school year in September.

School bond issue for $12,900,000, approved by voters in September, 1956, provided funds for the extensive building program.

Construction of the new Westmoor Junior High will get underway within a few days. The building, designed for an enrollment of approximately 900, is expected to be ready for occupancy by Feb. 1, 1959.

Five contracts, totaling $1,175,607 were awarded Tuesday, with the general and electric contract going to General Maintenance and Engineering Co. for $847,894. The company will, in turn, assign electrical work to the American Electric Works Co.

Plumbing, heating and ventilating contract was awarded to Roland A. Esswein for $282,317, and the contract for bleachers, folding partitions and backstops in the gym, to Brunswick-Balke-Callender Co. for [redacted].

Stage curtains will be supplied by Beck Studios for $2,135 and kitchen equipment by N. Wasserstrom & Sons, Inc., for $23,783.

The board approved preliminary drawings, working drawings and specifications for the six-room addition to West Mound Elementary School and set May 29 as the date for bids on the project.

The additional classroom space, designed to house 200 students, is planned to accommodate children living in the newly annexed Rainbow Addition.

The enlargement, third since the school was opened in September, 1952, would bring total number of classrooms to 22. A four-room addition to the original 12 room building was added in 1955.

The proposed new elementary school, to be built on Briggs-rd at Lindbergh-dr would be patterned after the new Cranbrook School at 906 Bricker-blvd.

Plans for the nine-classroom building provide for easy expansion and, in the future, could closely resemble Cranbrook.

Appointment of William R. McDonald, architect of Cranbrook, for architectural services on the new building was approved, as were preliminary drawings, working drawings and specifications for the building.

The new school would also serve children living in the eastern portion of Sirms Elementary School District, freeing desks and seats for youngsters in newly-annexed Georgian Heights.

Purchase of an eight and a half acre tract of land, south of Briggs-rd at Lindbergh-dr, from Mildred and Henry Reeb, assured a suitable site for the building.

Expansion of West Mound Street School and the construction of the new building will hinge on the approval of the state board of education for the transfer of the annexed areas to the Columbus School District. An early decision is expected.

Both programs are expected to be completed in time for school enrollment in September.

E-RAT-ICATION BEGINS

Rat 'Paradise' Is Uncovered

If the city ever needed a Pied Piper of Hamlin it needed him this week!

The legendary rat-ridding character could have found a steady job, city sanitation officials agree. Revealed to them several days ago was the largest rat colony they had ever seen.

A virtual "rat city" affecting 160 acres or more between Broad-st and Sullivant-av, just east of the Eshelman Grain Co., has been discovered and extermination already begun.

A quarter-mile walk along the New York Central railroad west from Broadlawn Addition presents an awesome sight.

Hundreds of rat holes three and four feet apart are burrowed into the fill and surrounding ditches. Gravel which supports the tracks of speeding NYC passenger trains has been undermined by the rodents. Rat paths extend in all directions . . . toward Westgate Manor, Terrastedt, Georgian Heights and even to the northern extent of Josephine-av.

The situation was brought to light 10 days ago when the Charles Stewart family, 3732 Sullivant-av, complained about a rat problem to their landlord, William R. Maurer of Dublin. The Stewarts feared for the safety of their five small children who saw rats by the dozens in their barn and around the farm house.

Mounds of Holes

Maurer walked into his 16-acre field and found a mound of dirt pock-marked with rat holes. He discovered that the animals were burrowing down to a drainage tile and were using this as a subway to his house and elsewhere.

Center of the rat paradise apparently is a fenceline dividing Maurer's land and acreage belonging to the railroad. Mounds of shelled grain, apparently the sweepings from trucks, have accumulated over the last four or five years furnishing an ideal "supermarket" for thousands of rats. Lowland springs and ditches give them water . . . the gravel fills and hillsides provide dry shelter.

Most of the area was annexed to the city a year ago. Part of it is still in the county.

"We have never seen anything to beat this," exclaimed Wade King, city sanitation supervisor. "For years the government has tried to build an ideal "rat city" for scientific studies, but they've never been this "successful" he added wryly.

King, accompanied by US Division of Fish and Wildlife men, took pictures of the situation. The films would mean much in combatting rat problems elsewhere, he said.

Clean Grain

Eshelman officials Friday agreed to comply with orders to clean up the grain piles after completing a mass extermination, probably with cyanide gas. Earlier, some poisoned bait was tried but officials discouraged its use because of the nearness of animals and people.

"We think we may have found the answer to widespread complaints of rats in West Columbus," King said. "We've had calls from Westgate Manor, Georgian Heights, Franklin Heights and Broadlawn Addition," he said.

Mrs. Betty Jewell of 3643 Harding-dr, told Hartley Newspapers she and her husband debated whether or not to put out a garden this spring . . . the rats took it last year, she said. Mrs. Helen Burkhart, 3629 Harding, said her family feared to go near garbage cans in the back yard. Rat shooting has become a Saturday afternoon past-time in some areas.

Last year the corn field of Clarence Sealy, between Terrastedt and GM Union Hall, was reportedly riddled by rats.

Officials said gaseous extermination of the rodents in their holes will be the only answer. "If we bulldozed the area, as some have suggested, it would raise havoc," King declared. "The rats would have to go somewhere and then we would really get complaints," he added.

King said complete removal of the menace would require cooperation from several landowners before the problem is licked . . . "but it can't be done overnight," he insisted.

Wade King, principal sanitarian, points out heavy rat infestation of a hillside within city limits.

Highland Avenue Friends To Build New Church On Sullivant Avenue Site

Construction of the new Highland Avenue Friends Church on a five-acre site on Sullivant-av across from Westgate Manor, will get underway this spring. The educational unit, shown at right on the architect's prospective, will be constructed first and the congregation will occupy that portion until the sanctuary, at left, is finished. The educational unit, expected to cost approximately $120,000, will include Sunday School rooms, pastor's study and administrative office space, kitchen and multi-purpose room to be used for social meetings, dining hall, and worship service until the sanctuary is completed. Plans for the future include building a parsonage next to the church. (Story on page 13).

'MEET THE BUSINESSMAN'

'Carriage' Denotes Quality In Cleaning Firm's Name

Charles H. Weaver

For some people, the "arts" are not confined to just music, literature and art. Charles H Weaver, Jr., owner of the Westgate Carriage Cleaners, 7 S. Westgate-av, said he feels that there is a certain amount of "art" in dry cleaning!

"That's why I entered the field of dry cleaning as a vocation. Good clothes that are designed to look well and wear long deserve the best in dry cleaning. I try to treat each garment as if it were from my own wardrobe," said Weaver.

"While I was in service I trained in the field of dry cleaning" reports Weaver, "and followed it up after my discharge from the Navy with six years as a cleaning instructor for the National Institute of Dry Cleaning in Silver Spring, Md."

Born in Covington, Va., Weaver came to this city in 1953 and was made manager of the Columbus Lace Cleaning Company. Two years ago, he opened his own Westgate firm and followed it 11 months later with the opening of a North Side branch, Cramer's Dry Cleaners, 1481 N. High-st. The later firm is managed by his wife, Ann.

Explains Shop's Name

The word "carriage" in the shop's name has drawn many questions, said Weaver. He explained, "in horse and buggy days, the term 'carriage trade' referred to the wealthy or quality class of people. The phrase is still in use today and to me the word carriage means quality — something I strive for in my business."

The Weavers reside at 1947 Northwest-blvd. He said he does like to fish but his business interests prohibit much outside activity. His travels are limited to tours during which he gives dry cleaning instruction.

He is a member of Hilltop Business Association, North Columbus Optimist's Club, Ohio State Association of Dry Cleaners and a Silver Spring Methodist Church.

Auto Safety Check Plan Set For May

The first voluntary vehicle-safety check program will be conducted in Columbus and Franklin County from May 5 to 10. The MAPS (Motorists and Pedestrian Safety) Committee has endorsed the safety-check program.

"We've set 75,000 vehicles as our goal to check during the week-long program," said Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club. Gordon Jeffery, highway safety director is honorary chairman.

Plans have been made for setting up check lanes in locations at shopping centers, schools, business and industry, the University, military installations. Members of the Automobile Dealers Association and used car dealers are cooperating in the program. Armed Men Rob Finance Firm Friday

Two men, armed with pistols, walked into the Modern Finance Co., 2500 W. Broad-st, late Friday afternoon, fired a shot over the heads of the three employes and forced one to open the safe.

Employes James Oyler, 23, of 940 S. Harris-av, and Robert Storts, 28, of 2661 Bonnie-av, Grove City, were told by the robbers to lie on the floor. Manager Pete Scholten, 33, of 1601 N. Hague-av was forced to open the safe which the robbers cleaned.

Police report the bandits fled east on Broad-st, north on Eldon-av and west in an alley to an auto parked nearby. The robbery took place at about 5:35 p.m. after the finance firm was officially closed. The amount stolen has not yet been determined.

New Home Project Is Slated Here

As "recession chatter" continues everywhere, Hilltop growth remains optimistic. Tentative approval was given by the City Planning Commission last Wednesday for the construction of a new housing development here.

The area is a 66-lot tract north of Briggs-rd, between S. Harris-av and Parma-av. Land owners involved were Josephine B. Chaney, Brookshire Methodist Church, Village Green, Inc., and Wilshire Homes, Inc.

A spokesman for the developers, Tonti Brothers' Sales and Rentals of 2506 W. Broad-st, explained the firm is eager to get started on new housing with the arrival of good weather and plans a construction start in June. Final approval by the commission is expected within a few days.

The development will begin with 50 custom-built three bedroom units of brick, frame or stone. The homes will sell from $18,000 to $21,000. The area has not yet been given a name.

Stamp Savers Benefit Selves, Retarded, In 'Rag Drag' Effort

These ARC members will give trading stamps for old rags when they launch "Operation Rag Drag" at all major shopping centers this week-end. From the left are Mrs. Charles Geddes, 1627 Reaver-ln; Mrs. Claude Wood, 1640 Reaver-ln; Mrs. William Cavan, 4234 Orders-rd, and Mrs. Joseph Cook, 867 Smiley-rd.

Thousands of stamp-saving housewives are expected to be attracted to Central Point, Great Western or Great Southern and other major shopping centers Friday and Saturday, Apr. 18-19 to exchange their old rags for trading stamps and to help build a school for retarded children.

Rag doners will be able to claim eight S&H or Top Value stamps for every pound of rags or old clothing they bring. One stamp will be given for each pound of magazines if tied or in cartons. Newspapers cannot be accepted.

Sponsors are the combined ARCs of Franklin County and will provide funds toward a much-needed school for mentally retarded youngsters.

Huge trucks, bearing banners will serve as collection points in the centers. ARC members, organized to aid retarded children, will weigh the material and issue the stamps from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The county-wide project has been timed to coincide with the spring house cleaning season. Discarded rags, old clothing, blankets and curtains are desired.

Proceeds will be earmarked for a building fund and donated to the Council for Retarded Children. Mt. Vernon Avenue School, recently operated by the CRC, burned in January and was condemned. The 161 pupils enrolled have been holding classes temporarily at the Indianola Presbyterian Church and Columbus State School.

Accent on Athletics

YMCA, YWCA Build Children For Future

Richard C. Larkins

Chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at Ohio State University.

We are a sports-minded people. Our newspapers devote from 13 per cent to 17 per cent of their space to sports: baseball, boxing, football, basketball bowling, golf, tennis, horse racing.

Most of these sports, however, are in the hands of professionals. Our interest is largely in the development of champions. Public participation is limited to filling the stands.

Sand lot games have steadily declined, public school sports are not general, and intramural sports are waning.

This vicarious interest in sports and physical development extends even to our children, whose excess energy would normally be expended in suitable sports.

Tests of some 10,000 school children in comparable communities here and abroad indicate our children cannot meet six simple physical tests that are easy for European children.

The Kraus-Weber tests, appraising the strength and flexibility of key muscular groups, resulted in 57.9 per cent failure for American children but only 8.7 per cent for the Europeans!

Dr. Kraus concluded that the lack of automobiles, school buses, elevators, and labor saving devices in Europe forced the children to take more exercise.

Are our luxuries creating anemic youth? There is much support for this belief in the Selective Service reports.

What should we do about it? One thing we can do is to support physical education on an organized basis, preferably where it already exists. The oldest and best physical education classes exist in the YMCA and the YWCA. Modern physical education was born in the YMCA's Springfield Training College, where Dr. Luther Gulick introduced the recreational training curriculum that became world famous.

With their gymnasiums and pools, the Associations provide facilities essential for group training in health education. Under skilled physical directors, programs and classes are adapted to all age groups.

The YMCA and the YWCA are intent on providing health education for all youngsters, not training a few stars for championships. Their interest is won by the weak child, the timid boy, the shy girl, to whom Nature has given only meager physical equipment.

In a city or a nation, it is not the strength or skill of a few champions that count but the vigor and vitality of the whole body of citizens. The YMCA and the YWCA can meet the demands of an increasing army of young people only by foresight in planning facilities. This is being done now. The Columbus YMCA will erect three new branch buildings on new sites previously acquired, replacing old buildings in less convenient locations. It will remodel portions of the Central Branch and alter and repair some of the facilities at Camp Willson.

The YWCA will demolish its 50-year old residence hall at 64 South Fourth Street and erect a modern building on the same site.

Since both Associations are non-profit organizations, they have no reserves for new buildings. It is up to you and to me—and to every company and individual with an interest in youth — to help them do the job that benefits the community.

Honesty Is Heart Of Religion

HONESTY is at the very heart of true religious profession.

For years men have used profession of religion as a cloak to cover dishonesty and insincerity. Sometimes this is sheer hypocrisy because it may be socially advantageous to seem to be what one is not.

When Christ came into the home of a Pharisee who had invited Him to dinner, He sat down to eat without first washing His hands—an offense against Jewish custom and a disregard for common practice of cleanliness.

Christ must have done this purposely because He knew the pretentiousness of some who were present and because He wanted to teach them a lesson.

In strong language He stressed the fact that mere outward observance could not satisfy the real purpose of the law to which these Pharisees professed to be so devoted.

Christ pointed out that many Pharisees made a point of giving all tithes and were very strict about formal requirements but had no regard for justice or the love of God. He said they should observe the matters of the law but they should not leave the greater and more important things undone.

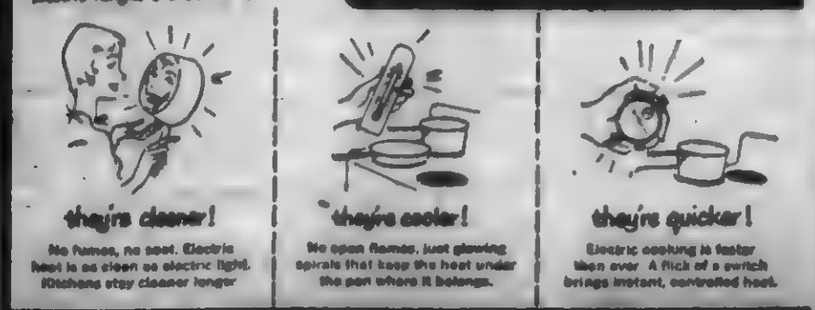
Franklin County Owes $5,000 To Columbus

Franklin County owes the city of Columbus $55,000 according to Service Director Lloyd C. Bedick. He has asked the city attorney's office for help in collecting it.

Residents of Franklin Heights, New Rome, Lincoln Village and W. Broad-st paid the county $13,354.33 for use of water between Apr. 2 and Oct. 31, 1957, according to Bedick. This money plus $61,915.47 for main line charges in the same areas has never been turned over to the city he stated.



Beef imports increased considerably in 1957, principally from Canada and Mexico, but this amounts to less than two per cent of total production in the United States.

Yours when you attend a demonstration of an electric range at your neighborhood appliance dealer's
Here's how you get 'em: Your neighborhood electric appliance dealer will conduct an interesting demonstration of modern electric cooking between April 7th and May 17th. Look for your invitation in the mail or through newspaper announcements. At the demonstration, your dealer will give you your free packages of Stouffer's Macaroni with Cheese and Cherry Upside-down Cake. Couldn't be easier, could it?

Electric ranges are better because:

they're cleaner! No fumes, no soot. Electric heat is as clean as electric light. Kitchens stay cleaner longer they're cooler! No open flames, just glowing spirals that keep the heat under the pan where it belongs.
they're quicker! Electric cooking is faster than ever. A flick of a switch brings instant, controlled heat.

'Panel Of Experts' Decides Crappie-Time Has Arrived

Springtime is crappie (pronounced croppie) fishing time — so it was decided by our panel of fishing experts at the barbershop the other day. April, the month of showers, brings about a decided change in barbershop talk. From here on it is baseball, golf, and fishing — right now crappie fishing.

Crappies are among our most popular panfish, and for some anglers crappie-time is the highpoint of the season. There are two kinds of crappies, the white and the black, and both have been widely stocked in this area. You can fish for them in most streams including the Scioto, Olentangy, and Big and Little Darby Creeks. It's best to try the larger pools and stretches of quiet water.

Several Spots Good

Lakes are probably the best crappie haunts. However Hoover Reservoir was a real hotspot for them last spring, and good catches are being made now. Lake Madison seems to harbor unusually large numbers of crappies, and they offer plenty of good fishing every year.

Remember the HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS FISHING CONTEST at Lake Madison this year — the prizes in the crappie division are: Garcia Gold Bond spinning rod, Johnson Century reel, and two dozen lures (a selection of Williams, Hofman, and Hubbe Hubbe spinners).

Crappies belong to the sunfish family, but they're "suckers" when it comes to silver spinners that imitate minnows. The spinners or spoons should be small, and they can be used on flyrods as well as spinning tackle. Crappies will take wet flies, small plugs and other artificials. But stick to spinners and spoons if you want to fill your stringer with crappies.

Most crappie fishermen do not use elaborate flyrods or spinning tackle to take these harbingers of spring. A cane pole, with a light line, and a No. 6 or 7 hook is all the tackle you need. Attach a small pencil-type bobber and perhaps the tiniest split-shot sinker you can find. Hook on a medium sized minnow, and you're in business.

Divulges Fishing Secret

Fish around submerged stumps, brushpiles, and boulders for crappies. These fish travel in schools, so if you catch one keep fishing the same spot. Paddy Wheaton, and a few other old timers, carry two fishing rigs when crappie fishing. The first fish Paddy catches, he leaves securely hooked and allows it to swim around in the water. The hooked fish keeps the school in the vicinity, and Paddy catches "specks" like crazy for a while.

If you ever set the hook cautiously, now is the time to do it. Crappies are nicknamed "papermouths" since the tissue around their mouths is paper-thin. A good yank on your line will pull your hook out every time. More fish are lost by pulling in too soon, than are lost by setting the hook too late. This is especially true in crappie fishing — so take your time.

Well, by this time my hair was cut, and our fishing panel sort of dissolved into thin air. I think they scattered to round up some "minnies" to try for crappies. At least that's where I went.

Council Approves Land Purchases

Ohio sportsmen may have an additional 1600 acres of land available for public hunting this fall, following land purchase approvals by the Ohio Wildlife Council, Chairman B. K. Jones said.

Options were taken on nine tracts of land by real estate agents for the Wildlife Division. They involve 1,014 acres costing $74,900. Final negotiations await approval of the state controlling board which must release funds for the actual purchases, Jones said.

RATS? We will feed the rats the carcasses of the cats after they have been skinned. NOW GET THIS! We feed the rats to the cats and the cats to the rats, and get the cat skins [illegible]

The above was the prospectus of a cat-and-rat ranch enterprise launched in Lacon, Ill., about 70 years ago. It was brought to mind this week when we read the local rat story as told in this paper today.

Possibly here is a real get-rich-quick opportunity right in our community. Actually the Lacon project was a hoax but brought forth a lot of gullible people who bought stock in such projects.

Applying for a Job Different Today

Reaching his 80th birthday at an insurance company in New York, where he rose to the top from a job as office boy, Frederick H. Ecker produced a letter which he wrote in 1883 asking for a position at $4 a week, according to H. I. Phillips, a columnist. It follows:

Dear Sir: Knowing that you know of a situation for a boy, and being desirous of obtaining one, I will with your permission apply for it. I have graduated from Wilson School and have my diploma. I would like to get a position where I would have a good chance of advancement. Yours respectfully, Fred H. Ecker.

Raised in an age of luxury, smooth going, big money, and cradle-to-grave protection, and general scoffings at from-the-bottom-up routines, a kid today writes the letter this way?

Dear Sir: Knowing that you at times have an opening on your staff for a boy and having given the matter of going to work some consideration, I might be interested. When could I begin? I have no diploma but can show you school pictures of me at rock-'n-roll shindigs, etc. I want a job where hours and wages are right and I could not start at less than $80 a week. This means take-home pay. As for hours I am a late riser and do not get up much before 9. I like to knock off for the day around 4, so I can get home and dress for tennis at 5. What would be my pension rights with your company? Would social Security and unemployment compensation be paid by you? How about a bonus? And do you provide incentive pay? I hope your company has a big parking lot, so I can park my car without trouble. How big an office will I have and can I bring my Hi-Fi records? Let me know by return mail. I could not start until after the world series.

Buster Brown

P.S. — Does the company have a swimming pool? About coffee breaks, I am willing to start with two every hour and work up.

'Friends On Paper' Meet After 12 Years

Miss McLaughlin, who is spending a year in Canada, was an overnight guest of the Orrs during a 10-day visit to the States. Ohio held a few surprises for Margaret when she learned: that this was once Indian territory, that centrally heated homes are quite warm, that there are such things as sassafras and sweet potatoes and that April sunshine here is brighter than that in England.

For Your Thoughts

Question: Do you believe in high school students "going steady?"

Mrs. Lawrence V. Geyer, 459 Columbian-av: "I think it depends largely on the maturity of the teenagers involved. It is very nice to be assured of a steady date often in high school. Today, going steady doesn't mean that the boy and girl are always going to be out alone. In school these days there are a lot of dances, skating parties, theater parties and various group gatherings to which couples double and triple date. Under those circumstances I don't see that going steady could hurt either the boy or the girl."

Mrs. William C. Knotts, 1017 Bellows-av: "If the students are in their junior and senior year, I think it is fine for them to go steady. However, in their freshman and sophomore years I think they would be better off to 'play the field' and date a variety of persons to determine the personality traits they like in the opposite sex."

Mrs. John H. Manbridge, 931 Demorest-rd: "I can't see anything wrong with going steady, however, I do think the boy and girl should try to respect their parent's wishes in the matter. I don't believe they miss any fun by being 'tied' to one person as long as they plan their activities in a way that will permit them to meet many other people of their own age. In groups they will be able to judge whether or not they are satisfied with their 'steady' in comparison to others they meet."

Mrs. Milton E. Weese, 312 N. Warren-av: "I think it is a mistake for teenagers in high school to go steady. For one thing, it very often interferes with their school work and interests. Secondly, they become used to one person and often feel too insecure to try to date someone else. They mistake this for love and may end up in an unsuccessful marriage."

Local Girl Scouts Financing Troop Trip To Mexico With Proceeds From Series Of Dances And Sales

Sombreros and serapes, rather than chemises and cloches are the preferred fashion for a group of West High girls these days.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 234 are planning a month long trip next summer with stops at New Orleans and the Alamo, and a two-weeks' stay at the International Girl Scout Cabana near Mexico City.

Accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. George Ralph, Mrs Jim Jenkins and Mrs. Clara Bruno, the girls will travel by bus.

Cost of the entire trip will be $300 each, and the 20 troop members are financing the adventure with a series of cookie, greeting cards and baked goods sales, and by sponsoring dances.

Next dance is scheduled for Apr. 19, 8 to 11:30 p.m. at St. Agnes School Hall. Policemen's Band will provide music for dancing and refreshments will be available.

Sue Hubbard and Dick Williams, TV personalities, will be on hand to award prizes for the jitterbug, chicken and waltz contests. Tickets are available at the door or from any troop member and the public is invited.

Planning for the trip has been underway since the troop went to Washington during the summer of 1955. Reservations at the new Scout Cabana, to be opened this summer, have already been made.

Designed to accomodate three of four troops at a time, the cabana is planned for Girl Scouts from throughout the world.

Members of the troop are Lois Bryant, Carol Blum, Barbara Barnhart, Karyl Bricker, Jean Casselman, Chriss Carfrey, Kay Francis, Linda Fuller, Polly Fisher, Jodee Jenkins, Jane Irvin, Susie Moore, Ruth Ann Ralph, Barbara Staley, Carolyn Birle, Sharon Blakely, Becky Wilson, Carolyn Sears, Lois Wheaton and Judy Castle

MEXICO-BOUND—Modeling the Mexican togs each member of their girl Scout Troop hopes to be wearing next summer are Chriss Carfrey and Lois Bryant. The troop is planning a trip to Mexico during the summer of 1959 with funds earned through such projects as their dances, planned for Apr. 19 at St. Agnes School.

Grandma And 'Her' Youngsters Find Quiet Happiness Together

By Ray Shaffer

Life is simple, sweet and good for "Grandma". Danny, and Mike, a family that lives together in harmony, though not blood-related.

"Grandma," as the boys call her, is actually Mrs. David Crishbaum, of 1593 Withers-av. For the last nine years she has devoted her life to children who need special physical care. These children, except for their physical handicap, would be placed in institutions because of their lack of parents or as a result of broken homes.

Her huband, who was a retired woodworker, helped her care for the children until his death three years ago. Mrs. Crishbaum has two married children of her own, Robert Spillman, 828 S. Hague-av; and Thomas Spillman who resides at the corner of Ninth-av and High-st.

The children are boarded out to her through the County Child Welfare Board. She has had many transient children live in her home until they were physically able to be placed in a proper institution or returned to their homes. Some of these included spastics, deaf mutes, heart cases and blind children.

Mrs. Crisbaum said she has come to love all of these children as if they were her own. She is thrilled to see them recover but hates to see them leave her home.

Mike Has Stayed Longest

Mike is the first child she ever boarded. He came to her when he was 19 months old and "grandma" is the only family he has ever known. He celebrated his 10th birthday Apr. 9 and Mrs. Crishbaum invited neighbor children to his party. "I got mostly money," he said smiling, "because I want to buy some puppets so I can put on some puppet shows for grandma and Danny."

Mike is a hemophiliac and has had 47 blood transfusions during his lifetime. He is growing stronger but is well aware of his handicap and takes every precaution to protect himself from even the slightest bumps or scratches that can prove serious.

Mrs. Hunter is Tutor

Mrs. Affradilla Hunter, a teacher at Prairie-Lincoln School, has been assigned by the county as a private tutor for Mike and following her school day goes to the Crishbaum home to give him an hour's instruction.

Danny, five, through the help of many physicians and surgeons has conquered his several handicaps, which upon request will remain unpublished. He is a spirited boy with lively eyes and a profound love for both grandma and Mike.

Grandma and the boys spend most of their days and evenings reading or watching television. When friends drop in they are thrilled for that is one of the big treats in their lives.

On Sundays, the local Sunday school bus passes by to take "grandma", Mike and Danny to church where they worship like any other family — for that is what they are, a family interdependent in love and affection.

Letters To The Editor

SEES FLOOD MENACE

How right you are about the danger of flood to the West Side and to the buildings on the east bank.

The "supposed" wall is filled with trees growing in and spreading the dividing lines in the concrete.

I have called this to the attention of the county engineers and even to Ralph Lazarus—with not even an acknowledgement of my letter.

Thanks for your editorial.

Y Drive Is Everybody's Business

A photo elsewhere on this page today shows a group of Hilltop boys as they make a contribution to the Hilltop Special Gifts Division in the current YMCA-YWCA building fund drive.

Youngsters of the community are thus showing their interest in this project and by their actions setting a good example for others.

Hilltop's quota in the current drive is $100,000 in the special gifts division. To date the local organization has not reached the half way mark. This however is no indication of the interest of local people in the drive.

Actually, those who have responded have been very generous in their giving. Workers who have made their calls are to be congratulated on the fine job they are doing. There is every indication that the Hilltop will come through to meet or better this quota.

This drive is everybody's business. This building will belong to the whole community and be used by the whole community. Locally we are being asked to contribute $100,000 and in return stand to receive $350,000 for a new building to contain swimming pool, club and meeting rooms.

Your community needs your assistance . . . NOW. If you have not been contacted for your pledge why not call in now and signify your interest and a worker will see you very soon. Such action will be encouraging to the success of the drive. We'll be happy to help you at BR. 9-9444 or BR. 9-4411.

Community Loses A Friend

This community is saddened by the death of Joe Davis.

That he was a good business man who was popular with the people he served for so many years is attested by the fact that his West Side department store bearing his name continued to progress from year to year. Few neighborhoods have the benefits of such a merchandise outlet in their immediate community.

The business will continue to be operated by his son, Joe Jr., who learned the business from the best of teachers, his father. We express the sincere best wishes of a very large number of friends.

Congratulations To Clintonville Booster

This week marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Clintonville Booster, community newspaper serving the Clintonville area.

We extend our sincere congratulations to Rand and Don Hollenback, a father and son combination doing an exceptional job in producing a good community newspaper for a fine community.

In addition to the many services provided in their roles as newspaper publishers both find time to take an active part in numerous civic affairs that have far reaching effects for good throughout the city and county.

We are proud to have the friendship and friendly cooperation of the folks at the Clintonville Booster and wish them every success in years to come.

J. A. Davis, Local Business, Civic Leader, Dies At 62

Death last Thursday morning of Joseph A. Davis, Sr., 308 S. Southampton-av, took from the West Side one of its best-known merchants and civic leaders. Services were held Monday on his 62nd birthday.

He died as he was being taken into Mt. Carmel Hospital by the fire department emergency squad. He had been stricken with a heart attack, a few minutes before in his Davis Department Store, 1250-1254 W. Broad-st, where he had been in business for 40 years.

His store on the corner of Chicago-av was the "shopping center" of the neighborhood.

Mr. Davis was born at 150 Chicago-av and, while attending West High was stock boy in the J. G. Hartsough Co. Store at 1254 W. Broad-st, on the corner of Chicago-av. Later he was a salesman at the Old Dunlap Shoe Store downtown, but soon returned to his neighborhood and opened a department store in 1919 at 1292 W. Broad-st. From there he moved to the former Hartsough store at 1254 and in April, 1926, into the store at 1250 W. Broad-st. Three years ago he enlarged the store to include both addresses.

After his son, Joseph A. Davis, Jr., came back from service abroad in World War II and completed a business administration course at Ohio State University, he joined his dad in business.

The business was a three-member partnership since 1944, including Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Davis and Joseph A. Davis, Jr.

the West Side Board of Trade, helped promote the annual West Side Jubilee and he seldom missed the annual banquet of the organization. He enjoyed the Columbus Zoo and he worked often for the Zooligans, promoting zoo memberships.

Many railroad workers in the Chicago-av neighborhood were Joe's customers. He knew their wives and their children, and outfitted two generations of some of the families.

Mr. Davis and the former Margaret Porter were married in [redacted]

He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Norman Haldy of Landsdale, Pa.; seven grandchildren; two brothers, Loren and Charles of Columbus; and two sisters, Mrs. Clyde Maurey, 1560 Walsh-av, and Mrs. Robert Kinney of Mansfield.

Services were held at Shroyer Funeral Home with burial in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Scout Leaders Will Receive Advanced Work

About 100 local adult leaders in Cub, Boy and Explorer Scouting are expected next Saturday at an advanced training session at Westgate Methodist Church, 345 S. Brinker-av.

Clayton Martindale, 177 Lechner-av, chairman of the Southwest District leadership training committee, said the course would be held between 1 and 9:30 p.m. The workshop will supplement basic training given leaders earlier.

Rites Held For Mrs. E. King, 79

Mrs. Estelle M. King, 79, 433 S. Burgess-av, widow of Charles E. King, former clerk of courts of Franklin County, died Saturday at a local hospital.

She was a member of First Christian Science Church and Minerva Chapter, OES.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews and one stepson, Joseph King.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Jerry Spears Funeral Home with burial in Union Cemetery.

Extermination Progresses On Rat Infestation

Extermination continued this week on the huge rat colony at the western city limits which was revealed to health authorities about two weeks ago.

Wade King, principal city sanitarian, said test fumigations show there are still some rats in the area but the numbers are decreasing. Esbelman employes and a private exterminator have been using cyanide gas and lately put out poisoned baits.

An OSU student reportedly is doing research to see if the rats are carrying disease, King said.

The sanitarian said that the mounds of grain sweepings long used by the rats as a food supply, will not be removed until the rodents are eliminated.

City Council Okays Tract Annexation

City Council Monday night accepted the annexation of a 16.2 acre Franklin Township tract at N. Powell-av and Valleyview-dr.

A petition for annexation to Columbus signed by 28 residents of the area was submitted Nov. 1, 1957. County commissioners approved the annexation last Feb. 11.

The area is bounded on the south by Valleyview-dr, on the east by N. Powell-av, on the north by the Pennsylvania Railroad and on the west by the existing city corporation limits.

Principal land-owners in the newly annexed area are Mr. and Mrs. George Neff, 495 N. Powell-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neff, 491 N. Powell-av.

Eakin Road Extension Is Cleared

Following months of extensive negotiations, the city has finally acquired the triangular piece of land that has blocked the extension of Eakin-rd between S. Hague-av. and S Harris-av. The tract was turned over to city engineers, Apr. 14.

Early last fall, it was announced that Eakin-rd would be extended between the two streets making it a through street between Harrisburg-pk and Demorest-rd.

Because of land acquisition snags, city council passed a resolution Jan. 13 giving City Attorney, Russell Leach power to step-up the Eakin-rd negotiations and to take the case to court if necessary.

City Engineer Robert Werner said Tuesday that plans for the extension are about 80 per cent completed. He said actual construction, however, would not begin until late this summer.

$65,000 Fund Drive Set For New Church

A building fund campaign, to liquidate the indebtedness on the present Frank Road Church of the Nazarene parsonage-chapel and finance the building of a new church will get underway Apr. 28, second anniversary of the church's organization.

Approximately $65,000 will be needed to pay the $11,500 balance due on the present building, used as parsonage and worship center, and to provide a fund for construction of the church.

Location of the church, at 1945 Frank-rd, includes one and two-thirds acres.

Organized two years ago, church membership has reached 70 and Sunday School, 156.

A canvass of members and friends of the church for funds will be directed by Rev. Joe Scurlock, building fund chairman. Pastor is Rev. Loran [redacted]

Rites Held For Lillie A. Skipper

Miss Lillie Amelia Skipper, 64, member of a well-known Hilltop pioneer family, died in Mt. Carmel Hospital Sunday, after a short illness. She entered the hospital Thursday.

Miss Skipper had lived in the house where she was born, 148 N. Richardson-av, until a year ago. At the time of her death she was living at 2518½ W. [redacted] st.

Surviving are four brothers, I. V. of Alton, Ill., George S. of 4271 Trabue-rd, E. Leroy of 3513 Fisher-rd, and Archie C. of 145 N. Terrace-av; an aunt, Mrs. L. E. Laird of Columbus; nieces and nephews, great nieces and nephews.

She was a member of Highland Avenue Friends Church.

Services were held Tuesday at Noble L. Allen Funeral Home with burial in Alton Cemetery.

Curtain Drops On Hilltop's Oft-Honored Male Chorus

By Marcus Orr

Another Hilltop tradition has sung its swan song.

The Hilltop Male Chorus has finally gone the way of the Saturday night band concert, the ward party, minstrel shows and excursions to Buckeye Lake.

In a quiet Saturday morning visit to the Hilltop Branch Library final officers of the much-honored male chorus presented their entire music library to the community.

"This valuable collection was built up by Hilltop men, said President Bill Grace, "and we feel it fitting to keep the books available to the Hilltop to any singing group." Accompanied by Howard Hitt, chorus secretary, Grace turned over the contribution to Mary Elizabeth Keyes, branch librarian. Harold DeGray, vice president, was unable to be present.

At the same time they presented a check, residue of the chorus treasury, to Al Hollewell for the benefit of the Hilltop YMCA.

Roster Reached 60

In their hey-day up to 60 proud voices got together every week at any convenient place and rang out with the stirring strains of "Men of Harlech" or hummed the plantive "Clementine" and many others. The chorus was formed in 1931, mainly to supply the needs of the Hilltop Minstrel Show. The minstrels were inspired by the Hilltop Business Men's Association in 1929 and were patterned after those produced by the late Al G. Fields, a native of Columbus. The chorus last participated in 1940 and became totally inactive in 1954.

"Times have changed. We just can't get fellows to come out now, even though plenty of engagements are available," Grace lamented. "Pinpointing the blame isn't easy. Sometimes television has everyone by the seat of the pants . . . could be."

Nevertheless, the old Hilltop Male Chorus was Mr. Hilltopper's best excuse to get his weekly night out back in the '30s. And all this collective tonsil-tickling paid off handsomely. The chorus' fame grew. Traveling to the famous Eisteddfods, (Welch singing contests) each year the Hilltoppers usually came back with a first or second prize.

Secretary Hitt's minutes record some $1500 in prize money won. In 1941 the group, together with the Hilltop Female Chorus, won a $700 first prize. Dale V. Gilliland was director and Fern Buckingham, accompanist, at that event. Eisteddfods were usually held in Jackson, Ada, Marion, Lima or [redacted]

Through the years the male chorus has given many concerts for churches, high schools civic and business organizations. The first director was W. Haydn Jones, who served nine years until 1939. Gilliland directed from 1940 until 1947 and Clark Eberle served in 1948 and 49. Remembered as accompanists are Ethel Grieser, Fern Buckingham, Robert Nash, McKendree Tooill, Wayne Springer, William Marot, Robert Johnson and Miss Page.

Chorus presidents are recorded as Clifford Koha, E. H. Gildersleeve, William J. Walker, Elzie Radcliffe, E. B. Graham, Adrian Page, William Marot and Bill Grace.

Institutions Preparing For Mental Health Week

"We must be able to assure in leading the nation in building the families of persons in institutions that their loved ones are in true hospitals, not warehouses of humanity," asserted Gov. C. William O'Neill at a gathering here Tuesday. Ohio is leading the nation in building new facilities for the mentally ill, O'Neill said.

Community leaders, assembling at the Columbus State Hospital heard about the efforts of many in providing better understanding of the mental health picture.

Serving as a kickoff for Mental Health Week, which begins Sunday, the meeting was sponsored by the Franklin County Mental Health Association. In the group of nearly 70 were school, church, city and village officials, representatives of many civic and volunteer groups and the press. Mrs. A. J. Glockner, FCMHA president, presided.

Talks were also given by, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, Dr. Robert E. Haines, state mental health chief, and others associated in mental hygiene work. Mayors from this area attending were D. J. Kuns of New Rome and W. Ernest Hysell of Grove City.

"We must further enlist our community leaders in advancing work on mental health," declared O'Neill. He reaffirmed remarks of Dr. Haines that Ohio is declaring an open-door policy in its institutions. The governor praised the "many volunteers

Snakeskin Belt, Anyone?

MEET THE BUSINESSMAN

19-Year-Old Holley Realty Firm Now Employs Thirty

One Hilltop realtor was torn between two vocations in his youth—to follow his mother's wishes and enter the real estate game or to walk in his father's footsteps and become an engineer. He did both!

At the ripe old age of 17, Arthur Holley, owner of Holley Realty, 2992 Sullivant-av, built and sold his first home through the financial backing of his mother. At 20, he designed and built his own airplane, not a model, but a single place plane which he flew for many years in the vicinity of his hometown, Irepton.

Although Holley still maintains a stationery engineer's license, he said he has always preferred the real estate business and that it has been good to him.

Arthur Holley

In Business 19 Years

A Hilltop realtor for 19 years, 10 years in his present location, Holley has branch offices in Barnesville, O., and Fairview, O. They are managed by Elmer Getts and C. J. Wheeler. The Holley firm employees 30 persons.

Holley said his employes are reliable and because of this he is able to "take off" and go fishing or boating when good weather arrives. "I like to work but I think business men should arrange their affairs to permit ample time for living," said Holley.

He and his wife, Anna, reside at 2580 Sullivant-av. They have on son, Ralph, who is a civil engineer for the State Department of Highways.

The realtor enjoys travel and he and his wife make several trips a year to Fontana, N. C., and Florida.

He is a member of HBA, Columbus Chamber of Commerce, YMCA and the Apostolic Gospel Church.

If any extension cord must be used in the home, it should be be able to carry at least 1000 watts.

For Your Thoughts

Question: "How well do you think the Columbus Jets will do this season?

Mrs. Joseph F. Carter, 301 S. Wayne-av: "Well, judging by the team's terrific start, I think they should have a tremendous season! My husband and I didn't go to many of the games last year, but I believe we will this season. It looks like a bright year for the Jets."

Mrs. Alfred H. Veabury, 262 N. Oakley-av: "Well, I'm just sorry that because of illness in the family I won't be able to go to their games this year. I think they will have a fine season. I'll be listening to every game on the radio. I'm right behind them 100 per cent but I don't believe Columbus people back the team with confidence as much as they should!"

Mrs. Charles E. Shute, 566 S. Warren-av: "I'm not sure myself but my son has great hopes for them! That's all we hear around our house between my son and my husband. I'd go more often but my daughter isn't particularly a fan of baseball."

Mrs. James E. Mallen, 688 S. Hamilton-av: "Judging by the Jets' games so far I would say things look better for them this year than they ever have before! I'd like to see them really come out on top in 1968."

Mrs. Lewis G. Letsinger, 1947 Fairmont-av: "I think they'll win all the way! Of course, I must admit I'm influenced by their first couple of games this season and by the fact that I'm just a proud Columbus backer!"

Voters To Ballot On Welfare Issue; Funds Needed To Erase Board's Deficit

A one-half mill tax levy for Child Welfare and Relief will be on the Primary ballot May 6 for approval of voters throughout the county. The emergency measure requires a 55 per cent majority.

Thousands of children and familes are facing a health and welfare crisis. The financial situation of the Child Welfare Board and the Welfare Department is desperate. The County is short of funds. The levy must pass to prevent human misery and suffering.

The Child Welfare Board gives temporary care to 1400 children . . . children who have been neglected by their parents . . . children who are dependent upon the community.

More than 10,000 families will be helped by the Welfare Department this year under programs of Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Disabled, and general relief.

Because of the lack of funds and growing budget deficits, agency staffs are too small. Services are inadequate. Here's how services have fallen down:

1 One-third of the children are removed from their families needlessly!

About 190 out of 570 children could have been served better in their own homes last year. But the agency staff was too small to carry on this important service.

2 Because there aren't enough staff members, children stay in the care of the agency too long.

3 Because there isn't enough money to meet basic living needs welfare budgets for food and milk are only 80 per cent of minimum standards. Unless the levy is passed budgets will have to be cut even more—to 70 per cent of the minimum standard.

Such inadequate diets contribute to malnutrition and serious health problems. In fact, 8,094 children, men and women received medical, dental or hospital care through the Welfare Department last year. The cost was $750,353.

Other factors which make it necessary to raise additional money for these services are the rapid growth of the child population and increased costs of maintentenance and medical care.

Passage of the levy will erase the deficits, will mean the preservation of hundreds of families. Enough new staff workers can be added to work with children in their own homes where possible.

It will cut down the length of time children are deprived of family life. Welfare budgets for food and milk will continue at about the same level as last year.

Based on the present tax duplicate of Franklin County the levy can produce $780,000 a year. It will run two years.

Already in effect is a one-half mill levy for Child Welfare and Relief which was passed in 1954. Both levies expire in 1960. A committee of the Community Chest and the Council of Social Agencies is developing plans for financing these services after 1960.

Economical Curry Pinwheels Glamorize Hamburger Dish

Ground beef pinwheels with curry sauce make a tasty and economical entree for your table.

CURRY Pinwheels not only glamorize ground beef, but they are also economical! The "no-lump" curry sauce is delicious, too.

Both use nonfat dry milk to add flavor and valuable nutrition to the menu. It is actually the heart of the milk and is very inexpensive.

Curry Pinwheels (6 servings)

Three tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1½ pounds ground beef, 2 cups biscuit mix, ⅓ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, ¾ cup water.

Melt butter in skillet; remove half of the butter. Saute onion and meat in remaining butter until browned. Combine biscuit mix and instant nonfat dry milk powder.

Add water; stir quickly, only enough to dampen ingredients. Roll on a floured board to a rectangle ¼-inch thick. Spread meat mixture over dough. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; seal ends with a little of the remaining butter.

Cut into six slices; place on greased baking sheet. Brush with remaining butter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Serve with Curry Sauce.

Curry Sauce (2 cups)

Two cups water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 5 tablespoons flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon peppers, 1 teaspoon curry powder.

Combine ingredients in top of double boiler; beat with rotary beater until thoroughly blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens.

One Should Watch Only Own Destiny

SOMEONE among those following Christ along the wayside was concerned about the destiny of the human race and the number of those who would be saved.

Christ reminded those with Him that the thing which primarily concerned them was their own destiny. He advised them to make sure of their own salvation by properly attending to their character and conduct in immediate decisions and commitments of life. "Strive to enter in at the straight gate."

In what sense is the way to salvation a straight gate or a narrow door? Christ made it plain. Salvation does not come by chance and not by association merely.

It would not be enough even for these to say, "I knew the Lord; I ate and drank with Him, and I heard Him teach along the wayside roads and in the streets."

What Christ was emphasizing was that the way of regeneration, of the new birth, is the only way to salvation.

Then someone urged Him to go into hiding because Herod, the king, desired to kill Him. Christ made it clear that He wasn't going to interrupt His work because of any threat from Herod, though he was in an earthly sense a king to whom Christ owed his allegiance.

It is a false use of scripture to suggest that there is sanctity attaching to earthly rulers, independent of their character or conduct.

The Bible doesn't uphold any rus divius of kings but only their obligation, as well as subjects, to obey the will of God and serve their fellowmen with justice and truth.

Natural gas pipelines have to be protected to give many years of trouble-free service while buried in the ground.

In some areas, before it is "put to bed", the pipe is coated with enamel and wrapped in a combination of glass fiber and felt. This, and other methods, help prevent rust and corrosion for thousands of miles of steel pipe that brings natural gas into your home.

Such precautions allow you to enjoy a steady supply of Nature's "wonder fuel" for heating, cooking, and many other uses—uses that are so natural in this area where natural gas was originally discovered and put to work.

Bicycle Safety Starts At Home

OPTIMIST MEMBERS John Soldel and Max Heaney (l-r) go over safety check-list in connection with Bicycle Safety Week, the week of April 21.

Optimist International has set aside the week of April 21 as Bicycle Safety Week.

Local Optimist clubs have joined together to promote bicycle inspection. "The following list of items if checked by the parents and corrected, if defective, will lend a great deal to keeping our children safe this summer," said Frank C. Timmons, 845 Harrisburg-pk, chairman of the campaign: Brakes, light and reflector, warning device, wheels and rims, tires, handle bars, saddle, crank assembly, frame and fenders and cleanliness and lubrication of bike.

Children who agree to live up to all safety rules and whose bikes pass parents' inspection will be eligible for a Safe Bicycle operator's license and a safety sticker. This is obtained by sending the parents' signature with the name of the child to P.O. Box 88, Columbus 16, O.

In August all members of the Safe Bicycle Rider Club holding an operator's license will be admitted to Jet Stadium free to see one game. The date will be announced later.

It's Going To Be There A Long Time!

Natural gas pipelines have to be protected to give many years of trouble-free service while buried in the ground.

In some areas, before it is "put to bed", the pipe is coated with enamel and wrapped in a combination of glass fiber and felt. This, and other methods, help prevent rust and corrosion for thousands of miles of steel pipe that brings natural gas into your home.

Such precautions allow you to enjoy a steady supply of Nature's "wonder fuel" for heating, cooking, and many other uses—uses that are so natural in this area where natural gas was originally discovered and put to work.

OPTIMISTS SAY—

Bicycle Safety Starts At Home

OPTIMIST MEMBERS John Seidel and Mac Hennay (l-r) go over safety check-list in connection with Bicycle Safety Week, the week of April 21.

Optimist International has set aside the week of April 21 as Bicycle Safety Week.

Local Optimist clubs have joined together to promote bicycle inspection. "The following list of items if checked by the parents and corrected, if defective, will lend a great deal to keeping our children safe this summer," said Frank C. Timmons, 945 Harrisburg-pk, chairman of the campaign: Brakes, light and reflector, warning device, wheels and rims, tires, handle bars, saddle, crank assembly, frame and fenders and cleanliness and lubrication of bike.

Children who agree to live up to all safety rules and whose bikes pass parents' inspection will be eligible for a Safe Bicycle operator's license and a safety sticker. This is obtained by sending the parents' signature with the name of the child to P.O. Box 86, Columbus 16, O.

In August all members of the Safe Bicycle Rider Club holding an operator's license will be admitted to Jet Stadium free to see one game. The date will be announced later.

ONWA Gives 'Hattie' To Mrs. Brogenhardt

By Peg Warren

Saturday, Mrs. A. F. (Clara) Brogenhardt, 1926 Fairmont-av the only living charter member of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association received the annual "Hattie" Award for meritorious and distinguished record as an Ohio Newspaper woman.

Mary Ellen Wolfe, Dayton, ONWA's president, made the presentation.

In her favorite chair surrounded by mementoes, newspaper clippings and a gallery of pictures, she was 19-years-old again remembering how she talked her father, the late Charles E. Markeson into letting her be, of all things, a news reporter.

In those days there were no specialists in assignments. She covered the police station, the courthouse and all the society social functions, meeting and making friends with people from all walks of life.

While working for a news syndicate in New York she met and married her late husband who was with the Swedish diplomatic service.

Clara Brigenhardt can look back on a long and varied life. Besides newspaper work, her first love, she was also a director of public relations for different social agencies and was instrumental in organizing our present city day nurseries.

Still active, she drives her own car, does her own shopping, watches TV, reads Westerns and is interested in politics. At election time she works in the voting booth close by her home.

300 Business Leaders Tour Columbus Schools

Schools throughout the Columbus Metropolitan area played host today to approximately 300 businessmen and industrialists on the fourth annual Education-Industry-Business day.

Sponsored by local public and parochical school systems, Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, Columbus Industrial Association and Columbus Retail Merchants Association, EIB day is designed to promote understanding between education, business and industry.

All EIB participants attended a general meeting at Central High School at 9 a.m. Following the short general session, buses transported groups to each of the participating school systems.

Guests and platform speakers at the general meeting at Central included Supt. Harold E. Eibling; superintendent of the other sponsoring school systems; Lester W. Huber, principal of Central High; Paul L. Jones, president of the Columbus Industrial Association and members of the Columbus Board of Education.

Each visiting group had an opportunity to visit an elementary, junior and senior high school building. Units arrived at their assigned senior high in time for lunch at noon. Following a guided tour of the school, teachers and guests attended an assembly.

Senior high students were dismissed at 2:05.

During EIB day last year, educators were the guests of business and industry.

For the first time in history the number of life-long hospital patients is beginning to decrease, despite the growth in population, O'Neill noted. He outlined present usage of about half of the recent $150 million bond issue which is directed toward mental health. In all, 500 beds are being added to the vast Columbus institutions, he

Mental health work can be likened to art, Mayor Sensenbrenner said. "We are using our abilities to mould human clay into something worthwhile." Sensenbrenner also called for a better informed citizenry through service clubs, churches, etc.

Calls For City Clinic

"The city needs a subdivision of the health department and allocation of funds for mental health," Sensenbrenner stated. A few minutes later Dr. Ollie Goodloe, city health commissioner predicted that a clinic for 'preventive' mental hygiene would be in force before the end of the year.

Victor Ewald, co-ordinator of volunteer services, directed a tour of the 90-year-old institution.

The State Hospital will hold open house for the public Sunday and Monday, Apr. 27-28 and Friday, May 2, at 1:30 p.m.

The Columbus State School, 1601 W. Broad-st will hold a similar event, May 4, 9 to 11 a.m. and 12:30 to 4 p.m.

The Columbus Psychiatric Clinic, 1960 W. Broad-st, will be open to the public on Monday, Apr. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2280 W. Broad-st, will hold open house on Thursday, May 1, 1 to 4 p.m.

Classes for retarded children, which are now being held at the Columbus State School, will be open to visitors all week.

Truth in Advertising

John Wanamaker's first advertising man refused to tell anything but the literal truth in his ads. The buyer of neckties sent for him one day and asked him to get up an ad along these lines: "You can have these beautiful neckties for 25c, reduced from $1." The ad man looked at the ties, felt them, then asked, "Are they any good?"

The buyer said, "No, they're not."

The ad man went back to his office and wrote this ad:

They're not as good as they look, but they're good enough—25c."

Wanamaker was buying cheap ties for three weeks to supply the demand.

APATHY — CURSE FOR A COMMUNITY

Nothing is worse for a city — like a person — than an "I don't care" attitude. And a city is after all, only a sum of its parts: people, you and I. With Clean Up-Paint Up- Fix Up time here, its is time for us individually and collectively to rid ourselves of any indifference and support the campaign.

If we continue to dump trash on that vacant lot down the block, scatter fruit peels and wrappers from car windows, and ignore garbage and trash regulations, we will soon have a reputation for messy unconcern.

Tourists, visitors, new business are not attracted to that kind of city any more than you want to become better acquainted with an unkept, rumpled-appearing person.

Let's each make a firm resolution to obey our city's disposal ordinances, stop littering streets and sidewalks, and otherwise blemishing our collective property. If we do, and then clean, paint, and repair our individual share of the city, whether it be room, apartment or house, apathy's curse will be soundly defeated by energy's dividends.

Fishing's Hot At Hot Springs

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Your roving fishing reporter usually roves no further than the area between the Scioto River and Madison Lake, but right now I'm enjoying the warm spring weather along the shores of beautiful Lake Hamilton.

The fishing is sensational here—and the bass and crappies really come BIG. The Hot Springs area is far enough south to allow fish to grow virtually the whole year, and I'm still a little bug-eyed after seeing a few Arkansas whoppers.

The first morning here I strolled down to the lake there from our cottage, and on my first cast caught a bass. Twenty minutes of fishing stocked the larder for the day.

To be sure, the fishing hasn't been as fast and furious since, but the fish are cooperating enough to provide plenty of action. I have used spinning tackle exclusively, because I like to make long casts in large water. The baits I started with are the typical spinners and plugs I use back home. Anything that will catch bass in Ohio will catch them here.

After the first day or so, however, I switched to buck-tail jigs. These are the favorite baits of the local fishermen here, and I succumbed to their advice. Joe Spinar, proprietor of Knollwood Lodge where we are staying, praised them highly—and sure enough they worked. I have found that I catch larger fish with them than I do with spinners, so today I alternated between orange, black, and white jigs.

100-Mile Chain of Lakes

Lakes Hamilton, Ouachita (pronounced Wash-i-taw), and Catherine make up a hundred-mile chain of lakes in the Hot Springs area. I've been devoting most of my time to Hamilton simply because it's at my doorstep, but I did break away for a day on Ouachita. John Bono, the owner of Bono's Spillway Landing, was looking for an excuse to get away that day, so we went fishing together.

Ouachita is the newest—and largest of the three lakes, and it's nestled in the middle of huge Ouachita National Forest. The lake has only been in existence for about six years, and much of the shore is lined with dead trees that provide almost unlimited cover for fish. We worked the boat in and around these dead trees until we found a hole, and then caught a fish or two from almost every opening.

Georgann, John's wife, had a delicious fish dinner waiting for us at their cafe when we returned to the dock. It was a day I'll not soon forget.

Lakes Hamilton and Catherine are older, and not surrounded by the wilderness of a National Forest. They are ringed with attractive homes, and family resorts. Knollwood Lodge, for instance, is ideal for fishermen, and provides aluminum boats, motors, fish cleaning facilities, etc. Seldom does an entire family enjoy fishing, so a sand bathing beach has been built by Joe, complete with a floating swimming dock. Water skiing is available, along with swings and other playground equipment for the children. Joe and Ethel Spinar have made every effort to make our stay here enjoyable—even to the point of lending us an alarm clock and an ironing board.

No Lunkers Yet

Well, I guess I've been beating around the bush a little because I have to admit that I haven't caught any really lunker fish. I have had my heart set on an eight-pound bass, just as every fisherman who goes to Wisconsin expects to catch a muskie. I have seen a couple of fishermen with bass that weighed over eight pounds, and several with six pounders. The Annual Hot Springs Fishing Derby opened yesterday, and the best six bass entered weighed a total of 42 pounds. So I know they are here — the problem is to catch them.

If you will excuse me, I think I'll sort through my tackle box again to see if I can find a real killer that will do the trick. Tomorrow is our last day here, so I'll give you a report of the outcome when I return to Ohio.

Vegetables — Kale, cabbage, green onions, carrots, frozen peas and asparagus.

Other Foods — Fryers, liver, large eggs, dairy products.

Homemakers are asking us how to keep Vitamin C in the family fare in light of the present shortage and high prices of fresh fruits and vegetables. In fact, this essential vitamin, needed every day, is apt to be short in American diets at any time. A recent survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture showed that one family in every four was not getting enough vitamin C.

Though unfavorable weather in Florida this winter has affected the supply and price of fresh and processed citrus, canned grapefruit and citrus combination juices are expected to continue selling at reasonable prices. Serve them very cold to bring out their nippy flavor. Fresh pineapples are selling at bargain prices. While they are not nearly so rich in vitamin C as the citrus fruits, they contribute their share, as well as a piquant flavor, to salads and fruit cups.

Strawberries — another fruit rich in vitamin C, will soon be coming into their peak marketing season. Large shipments of Louisiana berries are expected to arrive late this month. Remember, too, that at this season processors are cleaning out old stocks of frozen berries which will mean attractive prices. Later in the season these will be cantaloupes which also rate high.

Vegetables—as well as fruits may be counted on to contribute this vitamin. Excellent dark green kale is here now from southern Ohio. In May, large quantities of a variety of fresh vegetables are due on markets. Many green leafy vegetables contain large amounts of vitamin C, especially the green leaves — spinach, kale, collards and broccoli — if properly cooked. Canned tomatoes and tomato juice are notably inexpensive sources of this vitamin the year around. Potatoes, sweet potatoes and cabbage are good buys for vitamin C much of the year.

Vitamin C is the most fragile of vitamins. Because it can be destroyed by exposure to air and is soluble in water, careful preparation and cooking are necessary to save it.

Suggestions for Saving — (1) Try to pare or cut vegetables just before you cook them; (2) Cook vegetables only until just tender and in as small a quantity of water as possible; (3) Remember that boiling potatoes in the skins saves vitamin C as well as time, and that generally each time you re-heat a vegetable more of the vitamin is lost; (4) Use vegetables raw in salads or as relishes, and serve them while they're fresh and crisp.

You probably have already observed the recent reductions in butter prices. Some local merchants have reduced butter prices since the U.S. Department of Agriculture reduced dairy support prices Apr. 1. It is expected that this price cut is a temporary situation. However, while it lasts it gives butter lovers a little break.

Butter, wrapped in moisture-vapor proof packages and stored at zero degrees fahrenheit, will keep its quality in the freezer for six to nine months.

AT LONG LAST

Britain's House of Lords, the upper house of Parliament, will soon have women members for the first time in its 780-year history.

Paint Brush Use

Grip the brush on the metal ferrule, the handle between the thumb and forefinger. Use a long steady, even stroke. Lift the brush gradually at the end of the stroke to feather out the edge. Never ride your paint brush. Dip the brush only half the length of its bristles and tap off paint against the side of the can opposite you.

Test Your Neighborliness

1. Do you cut your grass regularly, dispose of leaves, weeds, and cuttings neatly, prune trees and get rid of dead branches? Is your alley-side as attractive as your front yard thanks to cleanliness and camouflage of flowers.
2. Are your porches and steps sturdy and recently painted, your concrete walks even and free from cracks, your railings firm?
3. Is your garage cleared of greasy rags, flammable materials, piles of paper and junk? Is the garage a storage spot for the car plus neatly placed tools rather than an eclosed junk heap? Is your garage door sturdy? Have the windows been washed recently? Have you oiled the door?
4. Do you have separate containers for garbage and trash complete with lids? Are the cans placed out of sight or attractively enclosed?
5. Have your gutters and downspouts been cleaned out? Is your drainage planned to taper off rather than flowing swiftly over other's property?
6. Is the outside of your house gleaming with paint? Though individual, does your color scheme fit in with adjoining houses? Has your porch and garden furniture been paint-freshened this year? Are your garden tools an attractive-identifying color rather than a chipped-off brown?
7. Do you sweep the alley back of your house periodically to eliminate broken glass and spilling trash?

A "yes" answer to every question means you are a person everyone would like to live next to. Even one "no" indicates your disregard for those living closest to you. During Clean Up-Fix Up time, repair, remodel, plant and paint. From now on be a good neighbor!

How Clean Up Pays You

You may have thought of the cost of fixing up and decorating your home during the coming clean up - paint up - fix up program. But do you realize that a small outlay of time and money is going to actually pay you large dividends.

A house and yard that have been thoroughly cleaned, repaired and planted will give you added realty value should you wish to sell. Clean premises will considerably reduce the chance that you will ever stand over a rubble of what was once your home and your cherished possessions, gutted by fire.

Your family will enjoy better health as mosquitoes, flies and rats lose their favorite homes of filth. There will be fewer chances of accidents to toddlers and elderly persons since you will have followed clean up safety suggestions.

Your children will learn the thrill of working together for a common goal in contrast to challenging society as juvenile delinquents. And you will have increased enjoyment from living in clean, attractive surroundings.

So, you see, you can't afford NOT to clean up - paint up - fix up, starting right now.

Aids In Estimating Paint Needs

With the advent of Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up time, you're probably planning to wield a paint brush or roller. To save time, money and paint, you should have an accurate idea of the paint you'll need.

The first figures to remember are the AVERAGE spreading rates for paint:

1 gallon covers approximately 500 square feet
1 quart covers approximately 125 square feet
1 pint covers approximately 65 square feet
One-half pint covers approximately 30 square feet
One-fourth pint covers approximately 15 square feet

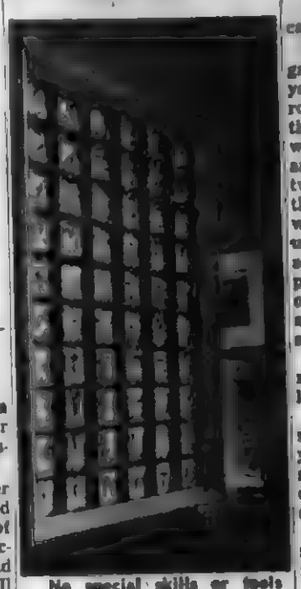
More exact figures are indicated on each container.

To estimate the amount of gallonage required for a room, you multiply the length of the room by the height and double the total. Then you multiply the width of the room by the height and that total is doubled. Your two totals added together are the area of all four walls. A window or door is not deducted unless it is greater than 100 square feet in size. If you have picture windows in your room or a greater number of windows and doors than average, you should make a deduction.

Ceiling and floor are determined by simply multiplying length by width.

To determine the quantity of material which will be needed, you divide the total number of square feet in an area by the coverage the desired type of coating provides.

Cabinets and radiators are a special consideration. On cabinets, measure the front area and multiply by five while radiators require that you measure the front area and multiply by seven.



For the exterior you follow a similar procedure as you did inside. Multiply length by height, doubling that figure, then multiplying the width by height and then by two and adding the two results.

Gables or any triangular-shaped surface, measure the width and multiply by one-half of the height. This total should be added to the 2,520 square feet figure.

The range of coverage of type of finish recommended (indicated on the can), the number of coats, the type and condition of surface all must be considered.

With these ideas in mind, you will find paint estimating less of a mystery and as a result you'll avoid waste and save money.

Panel Easy To Assemble

No special skills or tools are needed to assemble a panel like this windbreak in foyer of a midwestern home. Decorative glass block are bolted together at corners to form a wall—quickly, cleanly and easily. Plastic rosette-nuts in clear, red and yellow add decorative features to design. Different patterns of glass block, offering, varying degrees of light transmission and privacy may be combined in same panel.

Old Porch Becomes Useful Room

Porch enclosed with window units of ponderosa pine adds year around living space, new exterior beauty to this house. Use of old screened porch below was limited.

Wood window units can make conversion of a porch into a year-around room easier and less expensive than you'd imagine.

This is because window units of ponderosa pine, such as the ones used in the photographs, are available in stock from building material dealers and can be installed quickly with a minimum of labor.

The units come with frame and sash made to fit together. Hardware and weather stripping are attached, and the unit needs only to be fastened in place and painted.

The large glass units in the porch above have fixed sash at the top with an awning window section at the bottom. A bank of six individual awning units was installed on one side. These awning windows open outward for full ventilation. They also can be left open during a rainstorm, since the glass becomes a tiny "roof" that keeps raindrops out.

The porch shown was converted by a professional. However, these and styles of other window units of ponderosa pine can be installed by a home-handyman with an average amount of skill.

Three Colors

When decorating a room, stick to three colors in floor covering, walls, furniture and draperies. Use one bright color for interesting accents. Choose the colors for walls and floor coverings first because these are the biggest areas of color. Light-painted walls always contrast well with dark floor coverings. Don't hesitate to repeat the same colors over and over in the same room. Color repetition will unify the room and its furnishings.

DOES TRIPLE DUTY

Chaise, chair or bed is triple role of convertible aluminum cot that folds flat for carrying. Its weather resistant fabric is in brilliant plaid colors.

Dehumidifier Saves Damage

Humidity — one of the big causes of home damage — can be eliminated by using a dehumidifier.

Electric dehumidifiers are one of the fastest-growing home appliances in the country, with more and more people realizing how harmful moisture in a home can be.

High humidity will warp wood, damage floors, windows, doors; cause tools and machinery to rust and corrode; clothes to become damp, musty, or mildewed; paint to peel.

Newest feature of some dehumidifiers is a built-in "humidistat" which automatically maintains the exact level of humidity desired, turning the unit on or off as needed. This automatic operation makes the unit more economical because it operates only when humidity is above the pre-set level.

Another new feature is a unique "air freshener" that forces a non-allergic vapor into the room to neutralize odors and freshen the air. It is particularly valuable in eliminating musty odors frequent in damp basements.

Paint & Varnish

The difference between paint and varnish goes right back to the make-up of the two materials. Paint is made by grinding pigments (color) in drying oils. Varnish is made by melting transparent resins and mixing the melted resins with similar drying oils, after these oils have been raised to a high temperature. Paint is opaque and is intended to hide surfaces. Varnish is transparent and is intended to reveal surfaces.

FOR BEAUTY

Bringing outdoor beauty indoors is easy through the use of panels with floral and foliage designs. Embedded in the acrylic panels are actual flowers, ferns, leaves and grasses.

Painting A House Can Be Like Eating A Steak

Until American homeowners learned how to do things themselves, most thought that painting a house was something like painting an elephant — too big to tackle. But now they know that painting a house is like eating a steak. When you divide the whole thing into bite-size sections, the undertaking is simple.

If your house is overly large or terrifying tall, you may still feel hesitant. If this is the case, you'll be interested to know that it's usually possible to find a painting contractor who will take the "high road" while you take the "low one." Such cooperative contractors will give you pointers on procedure while you work as a member of the team.

Check for Repairs

To begin with, it's important to check over all exterior areas of your house to see where repair work is needed. Boards may have rotted and should be replaced. Peeling paint is a warning that destructive moisture has forced an entrance. Its source needs to be traced so the devilment may be stopped. Rusted metal also needs careful attention. All rust must be taken off with sandpaper, steel wool or wire brush.

Where new wood is added—or old coatings are completely removed—the surface must be primed. Nail head indentations should then be leveled with putty. Where rust is removed, the bare metal should be coated with a primer devised for the purpose.

It goes without saying that all rough areas should be sanded smooth and that all cracks should be filled with either putty or caulking compound. Loose dirt should also be whisked off with a dusting brush.

Gather Materials

After your surface preparation is complete, it's highly important to round up all the tools and materials you'll need so you'll have them within reach, once you begin the actual painting. Check to see that you have stirring peddles, solvent for cleaning brushes, wiping rags, drop cloths to protect the shrubbery, strainers—if the paint has been previously opened, a paint can opener, necessary ladders and brushes of the proper sizes. For siding, you'll need a 4-inch brush, for trim, a 2 or 3-inch one and for window sash, one of the brushes designed for the purpose.

On upper sections of the house where a ladder is needed, paint the trim before you paint the body of the house. In this way you'll avoid marring newly painted areas with the top of your ladder. When you are working near the ground, however, you can reverse the procedure, if you wish, and paint the trim last.

A favored way of painting the siding on a clapboard house is to paint first the under edge of the board where it overlaps its adjoining neighbor. Next, with a full brush, unload spots of paint along a single width within the area in which you are painting. These spots should be quite close together. Finally, draw your brush through the spots, merging the paint and completely covering the board with the fresh coating.

Dry Weather Needed

The best time to paint a house is during a dry spell when the humidity's low. Don't start in the morning until the dew has dried from the surface. Then follow the shade, if possible. When painting the side of a house, start at the high est point and apply paint in horizontal strips about three feet wide. Never stop in the middle of a strip for any great lenth of time.

You'll have fun with your painting. Furthermore, you'll enjoy the fruits of your industry for a long time to come. Your newly painted house will delight your eye and renew your pride in your home. The new coat of paint will also give you the satisfaction of knowing that it's standing guard over the important investment your home represents.

Year 'Round Light For Plants

Regardless of outside weather, delicate plants bask in even, glare-free daylight the year around in this addition an Ohio flower fancier built to his back porch. Built-in prisms in the prefabricated skylighting units, known as Teplite, "select" only the most desirable rays of the sun—allowing cool north light and low-altitude rays to enter, but rejecting hot rays of high summer sun. Hollow glass units provide insulation in winter, making it easy to maintain constant temperature and eliminating condensation.

Wax And Cracks

Before painting a surface which has been waxed, remove all traces with turpentine or one of the products prepared especially for that purpose. Clean rags should be used for the final clean-up. If your painting job involves hiding cracks, rough or patched plaster or dry wall seams, try using a texture paint which is thicker than regular paint. First brush it on. Then stipple with a brush or sponge.

FOR LIGHTING

Simplified shapes and lines, enriched by interesting colors and materials, are seen in new lamps and lighting fixtures.

LIGHTS PREVENT FALLS

Indoors, a reluctance to use [illegible] of furniture can be seen contributes to more than a few troubles. Persuade everyone in your home to use light whenever they are unable to see the floor or stair distinctly. Some will be obliged to put on their spectacles too.

FOR SEATING

Newest sectionals are chairs. Tub-chair units — armless, with arms or one arm only — can be used separately or combined to form many seating arrangements.

"That's Right, Johnny.....

...More Use Is Made Of Natural Gas In Our Ohio Homes....More Than In Any Other State!"

..... This is true even though Ohio is no longer a major natural gas producing state. Most of the gas we use in our Ohio homes comes from the big gas fields in Texas and Louisiana — through a great system of pipelines that cost millions of dollars to build.

And yet, Ohio's natural gas rates for homes still are among the LOWEST IN THE COUNTRY — even lower than in some of the major gas producing states!

One of the big reasons why Ohioans pay less for natural gas is UNDERGROUND STORAGE. In summer, when gas is not needed for house heating, your gas company stores tremendous volumes of Southwest gas in huge underground reservoirs in Ohio ..... This gas is withdrawn from storage in winter, to help meet customers' heating needs.

More than half the gas used to heat homes here on a cold winter day comes from underground storage.

..... An adequate gas supply, a modern pipeline system, underground storage, and reasonable rates ..... these are just some of the reasons why Ohio families are enjoying more and more of the modern comforts and conveniences provided by natural gas in the home.

The Columbia Gas System's dramatic sound, color movie, "The Underground Story of Natural Gas", is available for showings for schools, churches, club groups, and other organizations. Call your local Ohio Fuel Gas Company office about it.

Variety Of Loans Available To Ease Improvement Jobs

Whether you're thinking of adding a room, installing a new heating system, putting in new plumbing or doing some papering or painting, you should have little trouble financing the job with a low-cost loan that you can pay off on a convenient monthly basis.

The first thing for you to do is get estimates from reliable contractors. If someone solicits your business who's a stranger to you, you'll do well to check his reputation. An established contractor will gladly give you references, including the names of satisfied customers.

Determine Capacity

As soon as you know how much the work will cost, you should try to figure out how much you will need to borrow, and how much you can repay monthly.

With these preliminaries taken care of, you are ready to talk to a bank, savings and loan association or other lender to make whatever financing arrangements may be necessary for the project you have in mind.

It isn't necessary, incidentally, for you to be a depositor with the lender you go to—banks welcome home improvement loan applications from depositors and non-depositors alike—and you needn't feel the slightest embarrassment about asking for a loan.

In fact, the attitude with which banks would like you to approach them is that you're not asking for a favor any more than you are when you discuss any other type of financial transaction with an interested party. Making loans is an important part of their business and they are just as eager to serve you as you are to get advice and aid from them.

Four Different Loans

There are four principal types of loans which may be available for home improvements through commercial banks, trust companies and other financial institutions—conventional bank installment loans, government-insured Title I loans, open-end mortgage advances, and supplemental loans obtained through mortgage refinancing.

1. Conventional Bank Installment Loan. In making such loans, the bank's major concern is that the improvement will substantially protect or improve the basic livability or utility of your home, and that you will receive real value for the cost incurred. The amount and terms will depend primarily on the nature of the improvement and your ability to pay back the loan without hardship. Since these loans are made by the banks on their own, and hence are not subject to the regulations of FHA Title I loans, they are generally more flexible with regard to the purpose, the amount and terms of repayment. While the interest rate is usually slightly higher, some loans not covered under FHA plan may be obtained through the bank's own home-improvement loan program.

2. Title I Loan. The Title I plan permits a bank or other qualified leader to advance the money you need under an insurance arrangement with the Federal Housing Administration. The maximum amount that can be borrowed under Title I is $3,500 and the maximum repayment term is five years for loans over $600. The interest charge is generally $5 discount per $100 per year. ("Discount" means that the full charges are deducted from the amount of the loan at the time the money is borrowed.) Title I financing can be used for most basic home improvements. It cannot serve, however for certain items not considered essential to a home such as swimming pools, greenhouses or outdoor fireplaces or for appliances and items not substantially built into the property. Your local financial institution will be able to give you the specifics on the items eligible for Title I financing.

3. Open-End Mortgage Loan. If your mortgage contains an "open-end provision, additional funds on the same mortgage may be available to you for home improvement purposes. It is usually necessary of course to have built up a substantial equity in order to obtain such an advance. In other words, before you can borrow money in this manner, the bank or other mortgage holder usually requires that you shall have made earlier mortgage payments totaling at least as much as the new advance. Your monthly repayments may be increased slightly to pay off the additional debt, or the time of repayment simply extended beyond the original expiration date.

New Mortgage

4. Mortgage Refinancing. If you have a conventional rather than open-end mortgage, you may be able to obtain the money you need by retiring the existing mortgage and obtaining another in a new amount. Although this ordinarily involves a new title search, recording and other extra fees, your interest rate will be lower than under Title I or other short-term loans.

Home improvement projects can also be financed, of course, through personal loans obtained from banks, credit unions and small loan companies. However, many state laws limit the size of these loans, and repayment periods are usually shorter than for special home improvement loans.

Beautiful Entrance Walks Add Distinction To Home

Beautiful walks around the home are indications of distinction in living, both of the family and with respect to neighbors and friends. Beautiful walks are just as applicable to the very small property, as to the large estate. On the smaller properties they are even more necessary because of the less space available to beautify. A flower-bordered approach to a door always seems to provide a gay, almost eloquent "welcome."

Everyone can have a lovely walk to front or side door, or both, using favorite flowering and evergreen plants that quicken the pace and brighten "homecoming" every day in the year.

In planting and beautifying walks, there are a few rules to observe in order to get the most out of the planting, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

1. Usually at the beginning of a walk on the street side two shrubs, one on each corner of the walk should be somewhat higher than the plantings bordering the walk. They may be small trees if they are planted further back so they do not cover the walk as they grow.

2. A ground cover should be planted along a narrow strip on each side of the walk, so that the bare earth will not show.

3. With the ground cover, a wide range of small evergreen and flowering shrubs may be planted including roses, azaleas or perennials, and evergreen foliage plants to give color in winter. Ask your nurseryman's advice as to ground cover and other plants for your locality. The planted strip need not be wide, perhaps only three feet or so on each side of the walk.

Proper planning is essential. Know beforehand exactly what you intend to do. Plant plants that will not grow too high. A small diagram can be made of the walk beforehand, spacing the plants so they will not encroach one upon the other but will retain their individuality.

Fabrics containing nylon, acetate, orlon, dacron, acrilan, or dynel should be pressed with a warm iron only. Always test the temperature of the iron on the seam edge first

Tips On Safe Ladder Use

Ladders are handy tools around the home in maintenance and repair work, but like most tools there is a right and a wrong way to handle a ladder. Avoid hazards by following these few hints and prevent accidents during the Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up period, as well as throughout the year.

Never stand on the top of any step ladder. Make certain a step ladder is fully opened and locked before you use it. The bottoms of all ladders should be on a solid footing, or otherwise anchored securely.

To be safe, also place rung type ladders at proper pitch so the distance from the bottom of the ladder to the house is approximately one-fourth of the length of the ladder. (If angle is greater, the ladder may break, or, if too close to the house, the ladder may tip).

Set ladder properly to avoid the mistake of over-reaching or leaning too far to one side, which is dangerous. Always face a ladder when ascending or descending and don't carry large or heavy objects—use a rope lift. Grip ladder firmly with hands and be certain your shoes and the rungs or steps of ladder are free from oil, grease or mud.

Do not use makeshift or patched up ladders. Take good care of your ladder. Do not leave it out in the weather to deteriorate.

A ladder is a great help in renovation work. Use it correctly and be sure you respect it as you do other good equipment and always keep safety foremost in your mind.

USDA studies by the Agricultural Marketing Service show there was a rise in the annual average marketing charges in 1957, and there may be another rise this year. But prices farmers receive for food products probably will remain about the same.

The Treasury Department has a wry sense of humor. It circulates a little pamphlet entitled, "Know Your Money," and then takes the stuff away from us before we can get acquainted with it.—Wall Street Journal.

Lincoln Society Plans To Erect Memorial Center

The Ford Foundation has been asked by the Lincoln Historical Association of Ohio, Inc., to give financial aid for the construction of an Ohio Lincoln Memorial Center.

Attorney Emile Reim, of 29 N. Wheatland-av, who is secretary of the Lincoln organization, said the foundation has been asked to help pay for the structure and the site which will cost an estimated $1 million.

Reim said the building will be a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, the war dead of Ohio Civil War. Plans would call for a library, museum, auditorium, recital room, LHAO offices and youth activity rooms.

Reim said the building's auditorium, exhibit hall and dining facilities would be rented for special occasions but that admission to the center would be free.

Let's talk about

YOUR RETIREMENT
We all look forward to happy retirement years. Our time will be our own and we will be free to do those wonderful things we had somehow never found the time to do before. But whether our plans include travel or a house in the country or golf or painting, we will need an income. Remember that life insurance can provide the necessary income to allow you to maintain your accustomed standard of living. It also assures your family of financial protection through the intervening years.

I'm sure I can be of service. Why not give me a call? You will be under no obligation.

Sell Papers

A truck load of newspapers was sold by Briggsdale's Troop 146 last Saturday, climaxing nearly two months of gathering them. The money from the sale will go into the troop's camping and equipment fund.

Troop 146 has recently rechartered, registering 15 scouts. Since then they have had two new members, Gary Tigner and Roger Mounts.

TO CELEBRATE

Post 225 will have a gigantic birthday celebration this Friday, observing the first anniversary of the post. To be held at the home of George Sesler, the party will be complete with a birthday cake, dancing, games, prizes and music. Decorations will be in the Explorer theme of green and white.

Horseback riding was enjoyed by the post Sunday afternoon. Larry Rennie and Carl Hott were the event directors.

WHY KNOT?

Troop 89's boys are hard at work on their knots these days, preparing for a knot relay contest with the Sullivant Gardens Girl Scout troop. The most skillful patrol from Troop 89 and the best five finishers in Girl Scout Troop 103 will compete in about two weeks. Watch for the results.

Several of the explorers in Crew 89 were able to get jobs at the Veterans' Memorial Saturday, Apr. 19. The occasion was the obedience trials of the Columbus All-Breed Training Club.

West Squad Tally Shows 4 Won, 2 Lost

By Cliff Shoemaker

West baseball squad is having a good season as their record shows, four wins and two losses.

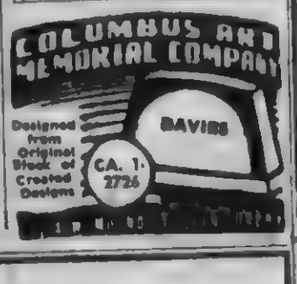
Cowboys defeated London 3-2 but in a return game the Londonites downed the Cowboys 2-0.

The Cowboys unleashed their power against Marion Franklin and scored 25 runs while Larry Goodin held the losers to two hits and no runs.

Don Furry pitched a two-hitter against South but the Bulldogs won as they scored the winning tally in the eighth frame.

St. Charles hosted the Cowboys and were defeated 6-4 as Paul Hosler came in relief of Larry Goodin and did a fine job.

The Cowboys in their third city league start downed Eastmoor 9-0 on the losers' diamond. Larry Goodin and Don Furry pitched the game for the Cowboys and were both very effective.



West Cowboys have a good defensive squad with very good pitching. The only questionable item is their hitting. They have been explosive in one game, but in the next couldn't get hits when they were needed.

Outfield has Terry Briggs, Fred Ash and Bill Ingle. The infield is uncertain at first and third but the second base slot and shortstop are filled by Capt. Vaughn Ammon and Don Barnes, Vaughn Ammon and Don Barnes, respectively.

Lots Of Things To See . . .

When School Kids Tour The Art Gallery And Conservatory

A LITTLE BIT MODERN but fifth grader Dixie Reinhart, of 605 Wrexham-av, is determined to figure out what the artist was painting! She is among the West Mound Street Elementary School students who visited the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts and the Franklin Park Conservatory.

AN INDOOR JUNGLE, the Franklin Park Conservatory, complete with rare flowers and banana trees, provided an interesting tour for fifth grade students at West Mound Street Elementary School last Tuesday. The teacher, Mrs. Margaret Taylor, 284 Oxley-rd, is pointing out some unusual plant life to Jerry Pipes of 589 Butler-av, while James Brown, 2265 Union-av, looks on.

"STRANGEST BIRD I ever saw," said Richard McCullough, of 616 Townsend-av, as he studies a rooster made of boiss wood chips. The bird was part of an exhibit in the Gallery of Fine Arts displayed by Ohio State University architecture students.

For many years the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts has sponsored tours of the gallery for fifth grade students in the city's elementary schools. The tours are designed to instill art appreciation in children at an early age.

West Mound Street Elementary School's fifth graders and their teacher, Mrs. Margaret Taylor, were guests of the gallery last Tuesday morning.

The tours are conducted by Mrs. C. F. Browne and volunteer helpers who try to explain the exhibits in an appealing way to the children.

Mrs. Taylor's students were shown the "why and how" of classic, contemporary and extreme modern art. They especially enjoyed the architectural models on display by Ohio State University students.

Following the gallery tour, the group visited the Franklin Park Conservatory to inspect plant life rare to this vicinity.

Other local elementary schools who have made the tour this season include Westgate, West Broad, John Burroughs, Chicago, Dana, Franklinton, Highland, Avondale, Greenlawn, Bellows, Sinns and [illegible].

Tour Planned For Cinerama

Columbus YMCA Art League will sponsor a round-trip bus tour to Cincinnati to see cinerama film, "Search for Paradise," Saturday, Apr. 26. Buses will leave the Central YMCA, Long and Front-sts, at 3 p.m., and arrive in Cincinnati in time for dinner at the Netherland Hilton, before the show.

Members of the YMCA Art League include localites Shirley Nix, 261 Powhatan-av; Lucille Timmes, 163 South Hampton; Max Hall, 201 Wilcox-rd.

Cost of the tour includes round-trip transportation by chartered bus, reserved seat to "Search for Paradise," dinner at Cincinnati's Netherland Hilton Hotel, taxes and tips. Tickets may be purchased from the program office of the YMCA, CA-4-1131.

Local Drive Nets $31,774 For New 'Y'

Pledges in the current Special Gifts Section of the YMCA Building Fund Drive had reached a total of $31,774 last Thursday according to Bill Jones, chairman of the Hilltop division.

Next report meeting of the group is set for Tuesday, May 6 at Great Western office of the Ohio National Bank. Several good reports are anticipated and are expected to boost the total considerably.

In the local drive the team headed by Mrs. Mose Williams was leading the field with a total of $7,839, followed by the team of Dr. E. E. McNamee with $4,310. Roy Agin's team totaled $3,264.

Other teams are headed by Sam Alford, Ray Anderson, Ray Coffman, Bill Curtis, Robert Dent, John Dickson, Roger Essig, Bill Grace, Elmer Hegenberger, Ed Johnson and Paul Wichterman.

In the county-wide campaign it was reported a total of $700,816 has been pledged, about one third of the campaign goal. Numerous large gifts are scheduled to be reported soon.

Members of the Hilltop 'Y' board announced that complete plans for the new Hilltop building, including swimming pool and numerous meeting rooms, are ready to be let out for bids just as soon as the success of fund campaign can be assured. Workers are being urged to complete their task of soliciting prospects as quickly as possible in an effort to try to get the building under construction this

Buckeye Boys State Delegates Chosen

Charles Huff | Don Morris | Roger Street | Les Wilson | Richard Norris | Don Uldricks

Camp Chase Post 96, American Legion, has announced its '58 delegates to Buckeye Boys State . . . "a workshop for the apprentice in citizenship."

Five eleventh grade students from West High School and one from Franklin Heights were chosen.

Teachers selected 12 candidates. From this list a special panel selected six for the trip honors and named the remaining six to be alternates.

Chosen to attend were: Charles Huff, 248 Columbian-av; Dan Morris, 789 Binns-blvd.; Roger Street, 103 N. Brinker-av.; Don Uldricks, 221 S. Westgate-av; Les Wilson, 2977 Palmetto-st, all of West High; and Richard Norris, 1120 Georgesville-rd, of Franklin Heights.

The local youths will join 980 other Ohio boys June 13 at Camp Perry, Ohio National Guard Camp on Lake Erie, for nine days of intensive study and practical experience in the organization and operation of the American form of government.

Each evening they will hear outstanding speakers, many of them top government officials. Upon arrival, the boys will be split into two political parties. They will then select their candidates, campaign and make speeches in an effort to get their candidates elected for every post from the governor on down. The Ohio State Patrol also will take part.

Besides a rigid political pace, the boys will enjoy swimming, basketball, baseball and the Boys State band.

Sponsors of one delegate each this year are Hilltop Business Association, Hilltop Lions, 12 Club and the American Legion. Hilltop Kiwanis Club is sponsoring two boys. The panel making selections included Orain Menz, Ray McVay, Harry Richter, Les Swinford, Roy Voalns, Austin Brown, and Jim Ford. Jim Foote is chairman of the Boys State committee.

Alternate candidates for Boys State are: Paul Varnell, Ray Horky, Joe Jacobs, Tom Harrison and John Henderson from West and Ted Smith, Franklin Heights.

Combined bands include more than 160 students.

Refreshments will be served after the concert by the Band Parents Club.

Seventeen reasons why the West High Band has been one of the outstanding musical groups in the city will be graduating from West in June. They are: Bob Langdon, Janice Witherman, flute; Ken Brady, Carolyn Hanthorne, Joyce McClintock, Sandra McNamee, clarinet; Bob Arthur, Gary Longstreth, trumpet; Verne Benson, Janice Blumgren, Norman Geist, Don Hessler, horn; Jim Williamson, trombone; Dale Gleason, Jim Hardy, Paul Wilson, Lee Kazee, bass.

There will be 43 eligible to try out for Senior Band next fall to replace these 17 graduating.

There will be beginning and advanced classes arranged for those interested in the summer school classes held at West High.

All elementary, junior and senior high students are eligible.

Ted's Helping The Lions!

Fill her up!

These will be the words of the day on Saturday, May 3, when Hilltop Lions Club members take over Schroeck's Service Station at Elden and Broad for a big "gasoline party".

Entire net proceeds of the day will be given to the Lions Club. There will be free balloons and suckers for the children that day.

Diagnostic Center Is Open To The Public Tomorrow

In connection with Mental Health Week, the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 1280 W. Broad-st, has invited the public to tour its school, hospital, chapel and living units of the children, during its open house tomorrow, between 1 and 4 p.m.

Children come to the center from Ohio's 88 juvenile courts. Their residence here is for approximately eight weeks, at the end of which they are returned to the local court with complete findings and recommendations. The Diagnostic Center has had more than 58,000 children sent to it for observation since its founding in 1913.

A $3,500,000 building program is now underway which will provide the center with a reception and classification unit and a treatment unit when the project is completed in October, 1959.

These Mental Health Week open houses still remain on the calendar: Columbus State Hospital, 1960 W. Broad-st, Friday, May 2, at 1:30 p.m. Columbus State School, 1601 W. Broad-st, Sunday, May 4, between 9 and 11 a.m. and 12:30 to 4 p.m.

Mamie's Loyalty To Her Job Rare By Today's Standards

MAMIE RAETHER AND HILLTOP are synonymous to many people because she has served the area's residents for nearly 30 years. Here, she stands beside the almost legendary sauerkraut cutter made by her grandfather more than 100 years ago. She has been renting it out for years and said that it has been all over the Hilltop. Even in this day of modern canned goods, she still gets a request for it once in awhile!

By Ray Shaffer

Mamie Raether could be called "the loyal employee" personified since she has more than 40 years service behind her in Hilltop's store of "1000 and one items" to back the claim!

At 76, Miss Raether looks back on her devoted career at Economy Variety Store, 2402 W. Broad-st. She smiles as she remembers the cow strolling around the small farm that was just across from the store when it began in 1917.

She said the only things she has really wanted out of life was "to be around nice people and to be unnoticed!" Part of this has come true for she has made many friends through her association with the store. However, she has not gone unnoticed because Mamie Raether is well known throughout the Hilltop for her friendliness and eagerness to serve.

When her late brother, Fred, founded the store, she was living with his family and helping care for the children. She wanted to go into the store but Fred didn't feel she was cut out for retail selling. However he did give her a try and she has been proving herself to be more than adequate for the position ever since!

Store Is Oldest Business

Economy Variety is the oldest Hilltop business firm to be in continuous operation in one location. It was an advertiser in the first Hilltop Record published nearly 42 years ago.

Mamie said—she loves children and taught Sunday school at her church, St. John's Lutheran, for many years. Born in Steubenville, her real name is Marie but she said no one has ever called her anything but Mamie or "auntie." Even people much older than myself call me Auntie!" she chuckled.

She has watched the community grow with pride and pointed out that though the area has a very large population, its residents have retained the attitude of "small town friendliness." Now a resident of 203 S. Huron-av, she recalls her first Columbus home on Ogden-av when the area was mainly woods, farms and fields and there were only three houses on the street!

Mamie's versatility is further discovered by glancing at photographs of her riding donkeys through the mountains of Colorado! She has traveled through much of the United States but says she always wanted to go abroad. When asked why, she replied, "I think the boat ride would be fun!"

She doesn't care much for movies or television and would rather spend her spare time crocheting baby booties that she sells in the store. Her nephew, Jack Alkire, now owns the store and says she's a good worker and can still keep up with him!

Mamie said even though the store has always kept a large variety of stock, most of the items have sold well with the exception of the large old-style rat traps! "We had the same supply of those rat traps for years and years, but we did manage to sell at least one every year! I thought we'd never get rid of them!"

Paul Ward In Race For Ohio Atty-General

Paul F. Ward, Columbus attorney and member of the state Democratic executive committee, is a candidate in the May 6 primaries for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

An experienced attorney with a state-wide practice, as well as past administrative experience as secretary (administrator) of the Industrial commission of Ohio and special counsel for the World War II compensation fund, and special assistant attorney general of Ohio, Ward believes his background of legal and state government training qualifies him for the office of attorney general.

While working in the steel mills of Steubenville, Ward earned a scholarship to Bethany College and completed his education at Ohio State University's law school.

Ward, 42, is married and the father of three children, twin daughters and a son. He and his family live at 2606 Camden-rd, where Mr. Ward is active in many fraternal and civic organizations.

McKinley Sees Need For Tax Saving Program

Hugh McKinley, candidate for general assembly, this week made this statement:

"Being a property owner has made me tax conscious. Serving 10 years as a school board member has convinced me that I can affect a direct saving to taxpayers. By revision of existing legislation and closer study of the tax structure with new legislation in mind I believe the tax burden can be more equitably distributed, particularly in the area of school finance.

"Our county, village and township governments depending on state revenue find themselves in financial difficulties at this particular time. Playing "Political Footsie" without regard for the welfare of people must be corrected. New legislation must be initiated that will give local governments a more fair share of taxes collected and old laws must be modified and brought up to date to provide additional revenue for services the people so justly demand."

Hamilton In Congress Race

Robert Dow Hamilton, Republican candidate for congress, has been an active participant in several legal matters of concern to Franklin County. He has gained the reputation of "Racket Busting Attorney" primarily through his participation in bringing notorious rackets into the courts: the DeVille Photo Studio, the food freezer swindle.

Hamilton's candidacy for Republican representative to the United States Congress marks his first venture into the political field. He feels that Franklin County deserves active, vigorous representation in congress. After seeing the list of candidates for the office, Hamilton felt that none met the qualifications, so he decided to do the job himself.

Ohio National Bank 'Invests' $25,000 In Youth Of Future

LELAND A. STONER, center, president of Ohio National Bank, presents a pledge for $25,000 to C. Carlton Hartley, general chairman of the YMCA-YWCA Joint Development Fund, while C. T. Dyer, general executive of the Columbus YMCA, looks on. The bank's gift carried the fund over the $700,000 mark.

The entire construction program of the YMCA, including the new building on the Hilltop, will benefit from a gift of $25,000 by the Ohio National Bank to the YMCA-YWCA Development Fund.

In making the gift, Leland A. Stoner, president of the bank, said the directors believed the construction projects of the two associations would immensely benefit the youth of Franklin County and the communities in which they live.

The bank gift helped to achieve a total of $700,816 at a general report meeting last week in the Central YMCA.

Campaign workers heard Dr. Harold H. Eibling, Dr. Amalie K. Nelson and Harrison M. Sayre describe their experiences with the work of the YMCA and YWCA, whose activities were credited as strong deterents to juvenile delinquency.

With 71,000 boys and girls in school, Dr. Eibling said that an additional army of 54,000, from one to five years of age, will soon be entering the school system. The YMCA and the YWCA must also face this problem, he said, and the schools and churches rely on them to supplement their work.

'Live By Faith' — Eibling

"All progress," said Eibling, "is made by people of faith. Our firm belief is the Deity is embodied in all our great national documents. In our race to conquer space we must not lose sight of our greater goal: to create Christian lives and Christian faith. The YMCA and YWCA are among our most valuable organizations in developing such faith."

The report meeting was under the chairmanship of David A. Davis, vice-president of Borden's Dairy and Ice Cream Co., who heads the campaign's Industrial "B" Committee, which has been responsible for $78,835 of the campaign total.

The division reports, announced by General Chairman C. Carlton Hartley, were as follows: Industrial "A" Division, led by Edward L. Smith, $122,110; Industrial "B", led by David A. Davis, $78,835; Commercial "A", under the joint leadership of Harold Janssen and Ray Daniell, $144,568; Commercial "B", led by Harold Eigensee, $63,790; Cornerstone, headed by Preston Davis, $130,750; Women's Major Gifts, under Mrs. Alfred N. Watson, $35,127; Major Gifts, Men, $36,960; Advance Gifts, led by Earl Hamilton, $29,315; Official Family Division, $232,015.

The Hilltop Special Gifts Committee, under William E. Jones, reported $31,774 Spring Street Committee, led by Ray E. Hughes and Elden Ward, $14,350, and South Side, under the leadership of Donald E. Lund, $14,350.

A new organization, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herrick L. Johnston, has been launched on the North Side and John R. Agin is the leader in Upper Arlington.

Against Fluoridation?

The proponents of fluoridation are misleading the people. To begin with, the cost will be excessive if you consider the equipment and plumbing for city and homes. In Northampton, Mass.; Akron, O.; Felton, N.Y.; and Lake Geneva and Madison, Wis.; and other cities, the fluoridation machinery broke down from corrosion and was discontinued.

Proponents are not telling the people that this cocktail they want the people to drink is the inorganic, commercial product and not the natural fluorine that nature provides. As nature gives it to us, it has a calcium-phosphorus balance which is absolutely important.

A mottled tooth is a defective tooth and cannot be filled satisfactorily. Dr. Taylor, biochemist at University of Texas says there is a relation between fluoridated water and cancer. Doctors Harootian, Heard and Branson, in experimenting with bone meal, have found that it is the answer to good teeth. Bone meal can be bought in easy-to-take tablet or powder form, and is as necessary to good health as any food on your table. It is a source of calcium; also raw milk (unpasteurized) is a good source of calcium.

Does it seem possible that members of the dental profession and all the proponents of fluoridation know of all the experiments and facts against fluoridation and would still recommend it? And if they do not know these facts, how does it happen that they do not?

Rod's Vacation Ends Without Record Bass On His Stringer

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

When I left you last week I was at Knollwood Lodge, Lake Hamilton, near Hot Springs, Arkansas.

I was trying to find a bait that would catch me a really big trophy bass on my last day of fishing. Another check on my tackle box didn't reveal a miracle lure, so Joe Spinar and I started out with black jigs tied to our spinning lines.

We left the dock just after sunrise, and tried fishing off several rocky points of land that jut into Lake Hamilton. A couple of days before I had good luck on these points, catching Kentucky bass with spinners. We cast into about six feet of water and bumped the jigs, or leadheads, along the bottom in a slow retrieve.

Jigs Didn't Work

These baits are called various names over the country, but perhaps the most universal is "jig." The bait is very simple in construction, having a piece of lead molded around a single hook. The center of gravity is such, that when you cast and retrieve the bait, the hook always rides up. This fact makes it a good bait to fish along the bottom—it doesn't get hung up so often.

Usually a bucktail, a feather, or rubber skirt is attached to give the jig more action in the water. Many fishermen attach a pork strip to their jigs to give them additional action. The fad right now is to hook a black pork "eel" to jigs. These narrow strips of pork rind, dyed black, have been really productive of large bass the last couple of years.

On this last day of fishing, however, the bass just weren't having any. When the jigs didn't produce, Joe and I switched to spinners and plugs. All we caught were crappies. We returned to Knollwood Lodge about noon so that I could give Lake Ouachita one last try.

Time was running out when I pulled into John Bono's Spillway landing about 1. Only a few more hours of vacation left. So John and I wasted little time in hopping in a boat, and taking off for some of those dead timber areas.

By dead timber, I mean trees that were killed by the lake water and are still standing along the water edge. Fishing here was not as good as it had been all week. First we worked around the snags of dead pine trees, then we tried the open points where our luck was a little better. By quitting time we had a respectable string of fish, but not as many as I had become accustomed to in a week of Arkansas fishing.

John and I returned to dock without a record bass on the stringer. I had hoped to win a prize in the Hot Springs Fishing Derby—but no soap. In looking over my fish I spotted a pretty good sized crappie, at least by Ohio standards. I guessed it would weigh about a pound and a quarter. On a hunch I took this fish, a fish that Arkansas fishermen would not bother with, back to Hot Springs and entered it in the crappie division. My hunch was that fishing had been a little slow that day for everyone, and that not many records would be broken. Sure enough, the fish entries were down for the first day. My crappie weighed over a pound and a half, and it squeezed into third place.

John Bono displays some of the bass and crappies we caught in the dead timber areas of Lake Ouachita.

Bible Comment

Christ Left Crowd To Pray

NOW that Easter is well past, it's a good time to consider the moving spectacle of Palm Sunday in Jerusalem.

It raised enthusiasm for Christ but it also stirred up the most violent hatred and antagonism on the part of those who already had tried to silence His voice, to destroy Him and to end His work.

It explains in part how that triumphant entry turned into the Crucifixion a few days later. Those who cried "Hosanna in the highest!" and the mob that cried a little later, "Not this man, but Barabbas," were not the same people.

We may assume from many passages in the New Testament that there was a division among the people concerning Christ.

Some listened to His teachings, observed His great work and were impressed with His gentleness and goodness. Others were devoted to formal authority and the ecclesiastical status quo. They took the authorities' part in opposing Christ and in treating Him contemptuously.

The entry scene stands as one of unforgettable glory, in contrast with the dark days that followed. There is something miraculous in Christ's riding peacefully into the city on the back of an ass that had never been broken, an animal "whereon no man ever yet sat." Yet that animal peacefully made itself available for Christ.

One shouldn't miss the verse which tells how Christ entered into Jerusalem into the temple and looked around upon all things. He then went out with His apostles to Bethany.

It is a wonder how Christ and the 12 managed to escape from this acclaiming crowd. We are reminded, even in the midst of such popularity, how much Christ needed to pray and meditate.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — Bananas, lemons, pineapple, canned and frozen peaches.

Vegetables—Asparagus, green beans, potatoes, frozen asparagus and peas.

Other Foods—Fryers, ground beef, fresh Boston butt, large eggs, dairy products.

BANANAS A'PLENTY

This tropical fruit, imported from Central and South America, will be at its peak in quality and supply from now until mid-June. Unlike most fruits, bananas know no particular season. But right now the finest, most abundant banana crop in many seasons is at your market.

Selection — Bananas are always picked green and ripened in controlled ripening rooms. On the markets you find them in all stages of ripeness. It is wise to select them according to the use you plan for them.

Tipped With Green — Partly ripe bananas are just right for baking, broiling and frying. Cooking brings out a deliciously different flavor.

All Yellow Skin — Good to peel down and eat or to use in baking muffins, bread and cookies.

Flecked With Brown—These bananas are fully ripe, sweet, mellow and completely digestible. Best for eating and infant feeding. Just right to use in fruit desserts and milk shakes.

Hand stems now separate bananas into bunches for your shopping convenience and to avoid waste through torn skins. In the long run it's cheaper for all of us to have the separating and weighing already done.

Bananas are a Favorite—They serve the role of appetizer, salad, vegetable, garnish or dessert with equal satisfaction. They are a fairly good source of vitamins A and C. A medium-sized one provides about 100 calories.

FRESH STRAWBERRIES NEAR

Louisiana strawberies will reach peak production within the next two weeks. Quality is reported to be good, and prices will drop as the supply increases. Remember, too, that stocks of frozen berries are being cleaned out to make room for the new crop. Watch for "specials" on this fruit.

RHUBARD, ASPARAGUS HERE

Field-grown rhubarb is now at its best. All of us can have it often now. Its tart unique flavor satisfies the spring yen for a food that's different and refreshing. For a pie treat combine fresh rhubarb with strawberries (the frozen ones now.) Rhubarb cream pie makes good use of two plentiful foods—rhubarb and eggs. Now is the ideal time to freeze your supply for next winter.

Marketing Information For Consumers
Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service
Rhubard for Freezing Recommended Varieties — MacDonald, Canada Red, Valentine or any of the deep red-colored types.

Selecting—Select only fresh, crisp, deep red stalks that are free from fibers.

Preparing—Wash thoroughly, trim and cut into one- or two-inch pieces. To help retain color and flavor, heat rhubarb in boiling water for one minute and cool promptly in cold water. Rhubarb may be packed raw or preheated, with or without sugar. When sweetening, mix four pounds of cut rhubarb with one pound of sugar before packaging.

Packaging—Pack fruit into moisture-proof containers, seal and label. Freeze immediately.

Approximate number of containers for 10 pounds rhubarb: 12 to 15 12-ounce packages.

Research findings by Puerto Rico Agricultural Experiment station and the USDA show that Puerto Rico could boost its economy by expanding its agriculture.

Pop Is Only A Fan This Baseball Year

ALTHOUGH TEMPORARILY RETIRED from active baseball, Ernest "Pop" Nader still keeps his batting arm in working order!

Following a bright and successful baseball season last year, Ernest Nader, known to most people as "Pop", has decided to quit while he's ahead and hang up his "holler" for this year at least!

A baseball fan, coach and manager for more than 30 years, Pop Nader, of 322 West Park-av, has been forced by a change in his work schedule to give up his teams this year. He is employed by the Columbus Board of Education.

Last year, Pop managed four softball and Slo-Pitch teams in different leagues. His teams won four league championships, one inter-league flag and two city titles. They played 71 league and tournament games with a standing record of 65 wins and six losses.

Had Two Straight Victories

Nader is well known as the long-time coach and manager of the West Park Methodist Church team and set a record in 1957 by taking the City Church Division Championship which the team also copped in 1956. This was the first time any team ever won the title for two consecutive years.

Pop and his wife, Florence, have five grown children, Bob, Don, Dick, Jim, and a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Rouselle. His sons have all followed in their father's footsteps and taken an active interest in all sports.

Nader said, "I'll have to be content to be a fan this year but next season I hope to take an active part in baseball again."

Pirate Cinder Grinders Set To Retain Hilltop Relay Title

Central's Pirates are favored, along with East, to retain their crown in the 12th Annual Hilltop Relays Tuesday, May 6, at Magly Field. Central's victory last year broke a string of five consecutive wins for East.

The Pirates hold the oldest record of the meet: a time of 1:31.5 in the 880-yard relay set in 1947.

West Thinclads hold three records. Dick Furry set the high jump mark with a 6'4" leap in 1955. Art Slate took the 120 yard high hurdles in 14.9 seconds in 1956. Ken Hallam set the pole vault record in 1951 with a 12'2" effort.

West Athletes Lose In Track, Baseball Tilts

West's thinclads succumbed to an overpowering East track aggregate Tuesday to the tune of 88½ to 29½ at Harley Field.

The Cowboy diamond brigade didn't do any better than their cinder mates as they lost to Aquinas 8 to 4 in the opening of the Central District Class AA Baseball tourney.

Gooding had things pretty well under control until the fourth inning. Up until this fatal frame West was leading by a one run edge, 4 to 3. Then the roof fell in as the Terriers shoved across four tallies. Aldrich replaced Gooding at this point, but for West it was too late.

Aquinas racked up a single tally in the sixth to conclude all scoring in the contest.

Penny For Your Thoughts

Question: It was reported this week that teenagers commit 47 percent of all major crimes. What are your suggestions for curbing juvenile delinquency?

Mrs. Robert N. Burroughs, 585 S. Sylvan-av: "I think more supervised activity, like recreation centers and parks, would provide enough things to keep teenagers out of trouble. However, I don't believe parents take as much interest in their children as they once did. You rarely see father and sons out playing ball together now days. There are many activities for parents now, so the children must find things to keep them busy—whether its good or bad!"

Mrs. Clarence Freeman, 2850 Valleyview-dr: "I have a teenage daughter and her main complaint is, there aren't enough recreation centers in this area to provide activities for junior and senior high school kids. I agree with her and believe that it is up to parents to back their children up and see that they have a variety of wholesome things to do."

Mrs. Harry Nairn, 344 S. Hague-av: "I think parents should stay home! They should give up some of the parties and lodge meetings and stay home with their children! I raised four and the word delinquency has never had to enter our home. Parents don't expect to understand their children unless they're around home enough to get to know them!"

Richard L. Spaulding, 891 Josephine-av: "I'm all for boys' clubs and other recreation centers which offer planned activities to keep youngsters out of trouble. Parents are probably to blame too, especially in cases where both mother and father are working, but I don't know what can be done about that."

Hoskins Has 7 Point Program

Bringing to the people of Ohio's state government which actively assumes its responsibilities in solving the pressing social and economic problems confronting our state is the basis of the campaign being waged by John A. Hoskins, Columbus attorney and son of former Franklin county prosecutor, Donald J. Hoskins, for the office of state representative in the Democratic primary.

Hoskins' program for a responsible legislature includes adoption of a new plan for slum clearance through the use of private capital to increase available housing and to create new jobs, to provide more effective unemployment aid, to promote a more comprehensive program for our senior citizens and to improve local child welfare treatment by establishing a sound county financial structure.

Fetch Stands For Orderly Growth

Frank S. Fetch is an independent Republican seeking the post of county commissioner. He is a former superintendent of the division of parks and forestry of the city, during which time the Franklin Park Commission was reestablished.

"Since I have always been interested in the orderly growth and planning of the community I favor the establishment of a metropolitan sewer and water authority to eliminate the friction which now exists between the city and unannexed portions of the county.

"I have adopted as my slogan, 'Progress is our community's most important problem'." He further states that he is definitely interested in a metropolitan form of government.

The people of Columbus have always approved the things that were beneficial to the city and its people. However, here is an issue that is so doubtful, risky, controversial and questionable that your own city council members felt the need for a people's vote on such a serious issue as putting fluorides in your drinking water.

Don't be panicked into voting for fluoridation by a loud minority group. Use your own judgment. All of the cities listed here and many others have actually tried artificial fluoridation and have discarded it after a short time because it did not live up to the extreme claims made for it by its proponents. There are too many uncertain factors in this proposed experiment—not enough is known about all of its effects, both short and long range on all age groups. Even the "experts" are not agreed on this matter so why take the risk. Better to be safe than sorry.

When you go to the polls on May 6, remember these facts about fluoridation:
It is a cumulative poison. Once it gets in your body, you cannot eliminate it!
It is impossible to deliver a uniform "safe" dose through the water supply.
It becomes concentrated when boiled so excessive amounts are consumed in coffee, tea, baby formula, boiled foods, etc.
There is not any way to control how large a dose one gets since not two people drink the same amount of water—some none, others 8 to 10 glasses a day.
It can cause gum troubles and other physical difficulties.
Wasteful—only 1/10 of 1% of the water is consumed by those who are supposed to benefit.
Can mottle and stain teeth.
Can have bad effects on animals.
Can damage pipes and boilers.
Not an easy "cure-all"—is not a good substitute for good oral hygiene, good diet, heredity, good health, etc.
Approximately 100 communities have tried fluoridation and discontinued it. There must be a reason.
50,000,000 people in 2,000 communities have turned it down. There is a reason.
The American Medical Association and other groups are reevaluating their stand on fluoridation—the doctors and dentists are unable to agree on this matter.
It is mass medication without regard for the individual's condition, age, health, requirements, etc.
It is expensive to install, operate, and maintain.
Tooth decay is not contagious so it is impossible to compare it with the need for chlorination, vaccination, Salk vaccine, etc. that prevent diseases.

Don't take the RISK Fluoridation Imposes!

VOTE

Next Tuesday, May 6 is Primary Election Day.

Mark this day on the calendar right now and be sure you go to the polls and VOTE.

Primary elections are often looked upon as not being important but in reality they are more important than the general elections. If the better candidates are not nominated in the primaries they will not be on the ballots in the November elections.

This year we are to select local county officials, a congressman, state officials and decide several important issues.

Make a study of the candidates and the issues and be prepared to cast your ballot for the ones of your choice.

But remember to vote.

You are negligent in your duties as a good American if you fail to VOTE!

Voting Is The First Duty Of Every American

Are We Waterbugs??
CITIZENS' PURE WATER COMMITTEE
OPPOSING FLUORIDATION

need services and funds to supply at once, before May 6th primary, information not told by the U.S. Public Health about FLUORIDATION. Make test. Ask your DENTIST and DOCTOR and Dr. Goodine the NINE reasons given by the A.M.A. Committee reported fluorides postponed, but did not reduce tooth decay, damaged teeth of 25% of children. Ask which "pilot studies" found increased tooth decay following fluoridation! Ask NUMBER and CONTENT of MEDICAL journal reports on U.S. Citizens made sick by Public Health's "tooth remedy." What happens when fluoride precipitates in pipes (found by analysis to contain up to 1600 ppm fluoride), is dislodged, and as N.Y. Water Commissioner warned, comes out at somebody's tap? What concentration in fluoride precipitates destroys metal pipes?

ASK FOR FACTS NOT OPINION
Supply answers to us for VALUABLE POLL. Citizens without votes can supply funds for paid ads in leading papers which must be paid in advance. Make checks to Dr. Jonathan Forman, Treas. Committee, 1300 N. High St. AX. 1-6179. If no answer, call AM. 3-1080, AM. 3-6788.

VOTE NO FLUORIDATION
Fluoridation means a cumulative poison, up to fifteen times as poisonous as arsenic, goes into the pure water of Columbus June 1, and poison added in a concentration, which 1500 scientists warn and submit 24 research reports in evidence, will injure many people.

A cost of living increase for governmental employes was advocated this past week by Arthur J. Bellar, Republican candidate for the State Legislature.

Bellar made addresses to farm groups in Grove City, Harrisburg, Orient and Galloway this past week pointing out that he had sold steel wire and posts in this area for 20 years and was acquainted with the problems of farmers.

He also pointed to the fact that of 19 candidates for the legislature this year 15 are attorneys, and that he felt small business men should be represented.

Mayor Kunz Hits Poor County Roads

New Rome Mayor D. J. Kunz concluded his campaign in the race for a Democratic nomination as County Commissioner at the May 6 primary with promises of better roads throughout Franklin County.

Kunz particularly emphasized the need of a good road building and maintainence program in heavily populated areas of the county where township and village authorities are unable to keep pace with the needed improvements.

Other points emphasized by the New Rome Mayor were support of good welfare program for the aged, blind and [illegible].

Kunz is basing his campaign on the idea of "Metropolitan Coordination." He believes that many of the difficulties involving the county as a whole can be solved effectively by cooperation between township trustees, the county, Columbus, villages, industrialists and planners.

Kunz is now serving his third term as mayor of New Rome. He is a member of the Ohio Planning Conference, Regional Planning Commission, Columbus Board of Realtors, Board of Arbitration and Ethics, Farm Bureau, Rome Business Association, Central Ohio Lutheran Laymen's League, Franklin County Mayors' Association, Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of Activities for the Franklin County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Prosperity To Return Says Walter Shapter

Franklin County could greatly benefit from public works proposals under study in Washington, Walter J. Shapter, Jr., candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination, said today.

He said a much-needed integrated sewer system to serve the entire area could be completed years ahead of schedule if the government makes funds avialable to the nation's com[illegible]

"I would favor federal grants for sound public works like the proposed area-wide sewer system here," Mr. Shapter stated.

"Such a project would give the county an improvement of sound and lasting benefit to the people for generations."

Mr. Shapter noted that such projects would give the economy a shot in the arm, but would not bear the stigma of waste like the "leaf raking" type of make-work projects.

He also predicted that within a comparatively short time the economy will turn upward again and that meanwhile such a project would put Franklin County in an excellent position for returning to its normal high level of prosperity.

On Mother's Day

On Sunday we honor the grandest gal of all . . . . Mother!

Too many times she is taken for granted but in most instances she knows how much she is loved.

As the verse might say, "Although we may not make it clear, on every day throughout the year, we want to tell you in this rhyme, you're thought of fondly all the time!"

John Burkett, Man of Integrity

From many sectors of the community this week have come remarks of sadness at the death of John Burkett.

"He was a gentleman and one of the finest men I have known," is a typical comment.

And how true! Our newspaper plant is built on property we purchased from John Burkett and we know first hand we could have never had a more pleasant business relationship. He was a man of his word and a sincere friend.

Business needs more men with the integrity of John Burkett.

Campaigners In This Area Fall Behind

Dreary weather was a drag on the primary voting yesterday and things weren't much brighter for most local aspirants to office. About 99,000 voters turned out.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, 335 Guernsey-av, competing with six others for the Democratic candidacy for governor came out in fifth place. He carried Franklin County, however.

Arthur Bellar, 326 S. Algonquin-av and a former Hilltopper Ed Walker failed in tries for representative to the General Assembly on the Republican ticket.

Walter Shapter, Jr., who grew up in the West Side led the pack, however, in nominations as Democrat representative for the 12th Congressional District.

On a strictly local level there were two contests for party committeemen. In the unofficial returns the Republican 31st ward Jim McKenzie, 33 S. Richardson defeated G. W. McDonald, 2505 Steele-av. Uncontested were Charles E. Davies, 27 Avondale-av, 9th Ward; Earl A. Brownlee, 524 Nashoba-av, 10th; Lawrence Roach, 715 S. Burgess, 11th; and George A. Sinclair, 1095 Powhatan, 32nd.

32nd Ward Dems elected Edward A. Eagan, 265 S. Southampton over Richard M. Young 150 N. Roys. Retained as committeemen were Frank A. Schneider, 212 S. Avondale, 9th Ward; Harry M. Burns, 73 S. Princeton, 10th; Thomas A. McQuade, 585 S. Terrace, 11th, and John W. Brown, 64 N. Powell, 31st.

The one-and-a-half mill tax levy for child welfare was turned down and anti-flouridation workers won their hard-fought battle.

Council Tables Wiltshire Annex Until Next Week

Request for annexation to Columbus of the 49.26-acre Wiltshire Addition tract was introduced in City Council Monday night and was tabled for a week.

The delay will permit the "ironing out" of some technical land difficulties involved in the annexation. Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner has sent a letter to council urging its approval because of its economic value to the city.

Council wants to make a further study of roads in the area, to make sure the city will have right-of-way for later extension.

The area is bounded on the north by Rosedale-av; on the south by Briggs-rd and on the east and west by existing corporation limits.

Want Ads Are Good Silent Salesmen!

Running a want ad without her telephone number still paid off big dividends for Mrs. Robert Dent, 1098 Sullivant-av. Mrs. Dent said she couldn't keep track of the number of people who came to buy her Tappan gas range. Now she's really sold on want-ad selling. Call BR. 9-9444.

Kiwanians Name Mrs. W. Riley 'Hilltop Mother Of The Year'

By Betty Daft

Hilltop Kiwanis Club will bestow the coveted title of "Hilltop Mother of the Year" tomorrow on Mrs. William Riley, 118 N. Oakley-av, during its noon luncheon meeting.

Honored for her contributions of time and talent to her church and charity, Mrs. Riley, at 82, is still teaching a Sunday School class at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, and sewing garments for the Needlework Guild.

Her impressive record of service to charity includes 2830 garments she made during the 20-year period she was head of a section for the Needlework Guild.

Belmont Casket Co., where her husband worked before his retirement, supplied her with remnants of materials used in finishing caskets, and she fashioned the lengths of broadcloth, muslin, sateen and satin into a seemingly endless stream of skirts, coats, robes, aprons, blouses, shirts, underwear, bedding and layettes.

Still Aids Guild

In 1951, realizing, "So many of my friends in the Guild had died that it seemed I was all alone, like Elijah," she resigned her position, but still contributes garments regularly to the Guild.

Mrs. Riley wears, like a badge of honor, a service ribbon with seven silver bars from the Red Cross, symbol of the 3560 hours she spent in volunteer work during World War II.

In addition to making surgical dressings at the station in West Broad School one day a week, she knitted 20 sweaters for the Army and Navy.

A Sunday School teacher, "off and on for 60 years, in different churches and in all grades," Mrs Riley now teaches in the Personal Workers' Class, oldest organization of Hoge Memorial.

She also sang in church choirs from the time she was 16 until she reached 60.

Married 53 years on Mar 22, the couple has two children, Mrs Walter Brown of 172 Bunsh-blvd, and Myron Riley, 155 N. Westmoor-av.

Auction Will Spark Lions' Paper Sales

The traditional "pre-sale" auction of the ninth annual edition of "The Lions Tale" will take the form of a smorgasbord luncheon at noon Tuesday, May 13, at Lincoln Lodge.

It will "kick off" the Thursday, May 15, door-to-door sale of this special issue of the Hilltop Record which recounts how the Hilltop Lions Club has spent more than $10,000 for welfare purposes and the betterment of the Hilltop and West Side communities this past club year.

Sale of this special newspaper is the major source of funds for the benevolent works of the club.

Auction chairman Al Dailey declared that more top bidders than ever before had already been lined up to take part in the Tuesday auction. He added that professional auctioneer Clarence Latham would again lend his hypnotic chant to bring "top dollar prices" for the first edition of the paper and that many leaders in business, government and civic affairs would be guests at the luncheon.

While admitting that Bidding starts at $10 per paper, Lion Dailey would not estimate this year's top bid. "It's always a pleasant surprise," he said.

Those who wish to take part in the gala auction as guests of the club are invited to contact any member of the Hilltop Lions Club for additional details.

School Limits Are Defined

Westmoor District Is Set; Highland Congestion Eased

Boundaries for Westmoor Junior High School, next school to rise on the Hilltop, and changes in several older districts here were approved by the Columbus Board of Education Tuesday afternoon. In addition, two equipment contracts for Westmoor were let.

Foremost in boundary changes submitted to the Board by Dr. Harold Ebling, city superintendent of public schools, were those planned to lessen pressure at Highland Elementary. Highland has been renting classroom space at Glenwood Methodist Church. Tuesday's action transferred several blocks, bounded by Logan, Pervience, Clarendon and Sullivant-avs, to John Burroughs territory.

West Senior High boundaries remain the same, but the new junior high lines are somewhat complete. Although the boundaries become official in September, the Westmoor building just south and west of Valleyview Elementary isn't expected to be ready until January 1959. After that date the picture should appear as follows:

Seventh graders in the present West Junior High area, plus those living south of Sullivant along the West Side of Demorest-rd to the city limits and west around Georgian Heights will attend Westmoor. (State board of education acceptance of the transfer of recently annexed Georgian Heights and Rainbow pupils is expected soon.) Pupils of grades 8 and 9, west of Demorest and south of Sullivant, however, will continue to attend Hilltonia.

Eighth and ninth graders now at West will finish out there, and the area gradually will be absorbed by Westmoor, thus relieving overcrowded West.

The new Burroughs territory follows a line beginning 100 feet south of Ray-st and 100 feet west of Oakley-av south to Logan-st east in the middle of Logan to the middle of Highland to the middle of Pervience and east to Clarendon, south along the middle of Clarendon to mid Sullivant and back westerly to the old line just west of Oakley.

Paul R. Langdon, president, said the board approved two contracts for equipment for Westmoor. Metal lockers and benches costing $13,538 were ordered from the Interior Steel Mfg. Co. Chairs costing $7,140 were purchased from the Leffel School Eqpt. Co.

$1 Million Warehouse Under Way

The wet weather of this week and last, besides taking its toll in flooded basements and some impassable roads has held up construction of many buildings and roadways.

One such slowdown has occurred in the construction of the new warehouse and offices of the Patton Warehouse Co. at Harrison-rd and McKinley-av.

Cost of the structure will be more than $250,000. It will include a two-story office section, 43,000 square feet of warehouse storage space, truck docks on the west side and a railroad siding on the east side.

The George W. Timmons Co. is the general contractor. Timmons said the building was started in December and will be completed by the first of July depending on weather.

Approximately 1,000 cubic feet of concrete is being used in the warehouse as well as 30 steel trusses with 60 foot spans to permit as much post free storage space as possible. The building is being constructed of the latest in fire resistant materials.

Lewis D. Patton, vice-president of the 28-year-old warehouse firm said the 11-acre tract at Harrison-rd and McKinley-av has been owned by the Patton company for 10 years. The major part of the firm's operation will be transferred to the site upon completion of the warehouse.

The company's present location, 86 Maple-st, is being vacated because of the proposed construction of a post office.

Holy Family Fete Planned In June

Annual summer festival of Holy Family Parish will be held June 20 and 21 on the school grounds.

If expressway construction makes parking conditions difficult, the affair will be held at 584 W. Broad-st.

In addition to the usual carnival attractions, an automobile will be awarded.

LIONS TO SELL CANES

Franklin Heights Lions will hold its White Cane Sale at Great Western May 9 and 10 and at Central Point May 16 and 17.

Relays Tonight ...Maybe!

Madam Spring's sprinkler system seems to have gotten out of control and as a result of wet weather the Hilltop Night Relays were postponed.

Originally slated for last night at West High School's Magly Field, the relays will be held tonight, pending weather conditions.

They are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Council Rezones Library Tract

City Council Monday night approved the rezoning of a lot on the northeast corner of W. Mound-st and Wheatland-av for the construction of a new branch library, the second in Hilltop.

The city planning commission recommended the zoning change Mar. 26. It is hoped the building will be completed by September of this year.

The 56 by 50 foot one-story structure will be owned by Dr. Nelson R. Embrey, a Lancaster dentist, and will be leased for 10 years to the library board by oral agreement.

United Appeal Money Aids 8 Agencies Here

Eight health, welfare and youth servjng agencies located on the West Side and Hilltop are receiving $183,550 in United Appeal funds to help meet operating costs this year, according to UA headquarters

With aid of the allocations the agencies were able to serve 11,982 people the past year

These financial and service figures were released this week as part of UA's "Thanks To You" Week observance

The money comes from contributions to last fall's $3,281,585 over-subscribed campaign Disbursements to local agencies follows:

Gladden Community House, 37,161; St. Euphrasia School, $31,371; West Side Day Nursery, 28,665; Goodwill Industries, $25,575; Boys' Club — West Side, $24,763; Volunteers of America, $13,221; Friends Rescue Home, 4,106; Hilltop YMCA, $18,748.

Number people served: Community House, 1,441; St. Euphrasia, 108; Day Nursery, 115; Goodwill, 373; Boys' Club, 661; Volunteers, 9,082; Rescue Home, 85; Hilltop "Y" 2,065.

The full report on how much each of the 60 A agencies gets and the number they serve is contained in a poster being distributed to all plants and offices in Franklin County for bulletin board posting.

The poster notes that only five cents of every dollar raised is spent for UA administration and campaign costs. This is under the national average of 7 per cent for similar size operations.

The UA allocation covers part of the agency's operating expense. Most also get income from fees, endowments, special gifts or other private income. The UA grant, set by a citizens budget committee, is the difference between other income and the amount required to meet needs. Copies of the report are also available by calling UA's public department, CA. 8-5696.

Let's talk about

YOUR WIFE

You and your wife want the best out of life. But you also want to put a 'little something' away for emergencies and for the future. And what better way of systematic saving than through the medium of life insurance? Through life insurance, your wife's standard of living can be maintained if you should die prematurely; through life insurance, your retirement years can be financially secure if you survive. And the accumulation of dividends over the years increases the attractiveness of life insurance as an investment for the long.

I'm sure I can be of service. Why not give me a call? You will be under no obligation.

Dealers Learn Details Of Fuel Blending Pump

E. M. Landry, district manager of Sun Oil Co., announces the first dealer meeting in the company's Columbus district to be held at the Lincoln Lodge, May 7.

A second meeting will be held May 19 at the lodge. These meetings cover the announcement of custom-blending in the Columbus area. First installations of the new custom-blending pump are being made in Columbus today.

Sun's new revolutionary blending pump will be displayed at the meeting. "The new pump, exclusive with Sun, dispenses six grades of gasoline, allowing the customer to choose the exact octane for his car's top performance at lowest possible price," Landry said.

Woman Suffers Severe Injuries In Auto Collision

Mrs. Joan Williams, 28, of 3370 Trabue-rd, who was one of five persons injured in a two-car crash at W. Broad-st and Koebel-Roydam-rd Sunday night, is listed in good condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

She suffered severe head and chest injuries when the car driven by her husband, Nelson, was slammed by a second car across the four-lane divided highway, a ditch and into a fence.

The Williams' car was eastbound and was hit broadside by a northbound car driven by James Blair, 29, of RFD 1, West Jefferson. Blair was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Blair, Williams and his daughters, Lorain and Kathleen were treated for minor injuries and released.

Old Shoes Are Collectors Items

If some serious, fast talking urchin comes to your door and wants all of your old shoes, don't be afraid that he'll want the shirt off your back.

He's probably got his mind set on winning that sleek $70 Schwinn racing bike in Harry Graham's shoe store window.

Harry Graham's KEDS old shoe round-up is in it's second week and the pile of old, worn and discarded shoes makes a pile about three feet high on the shoe store floor. The idea is . . . until May 31, each purchase of new shoes entitles the purchaser to three tickets valued at a thousand points each, the purchase of KEDS, 5,000 points, and, for each pair of old, worn, discarded shoes turned in, a thousand points.

Holder of the most points at 11 a.m. on May 31 will ride off with the bicycle. There will be nine other prizes awarded to the next best shoe collectors.

Harry Graham says that arrangements have already been made to donate all of the cast-off shoes to the Goodwill Industries who will repair and salvage as many as possible so unfortunates will have them.

Forceful Hand May Sometimes Be Used

Force, rightly used, may sometimes be necessary.

People who take the view that the Christian is not justified under any circumstances in using force say that Christ contradicted His teaching about overcoming evil with good when He drove the money changers out of the temple with a "whip of small [illegible]."

You cannot call His behavior "moral indignation" from the picture we have of Him overturning the money changers' tables and upsetting the chairs of those who were selling the [illegible].

There was a show of force though many well believe that Christ overawed them with the force of his moral indignation.

The people He attacked presumably could have ganged up on Him and might easily have proven stronger physically. Accordingly, one shouldn't minimize the moral authority of Christ and the power of one conscientious, aroused man to put to fight a whole group of profiteers and cowards.

But the incident displays one aspect of the gentle and mild Jesus that is significant and has relation to our conduct and life today. Force can only accomplish so much. The world ought to have learned by now that, even in war, real victory depends upon a great deal more than physical [illegible].

The prejudice that affects men is as bad or worse than the greed and willingness to exploit religion for profit.

For this picture we turn to Christ healing the lame and the blind in the temple. The official representatives of the religion were outraged by this exercise of authority by one who wasn't of their group.

To what depths of degregation can a false user of religion bring people when they can become indignant over the healing of their fellowmen simply because it wasn't done under their authority!

NOW YOU SEE 'EM, NOW YOU DON'T . . . This nest of rabbits was raised near Corner's Boat Dock at Lake Madison. When you find wild babies, it's best to leave them alone and not try to "adopt" them.

Rule: Do Not Adopt Wild 'Pets'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Stopped out at Carner's Boat Dock at Lake Madison the other evening to see how the fishing was, and to check on the entries in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest.

The fishing is really getting going now, and entries are starting to come in. Roger L. Hatton, 2678 Sullivant-av, and William Simmers, 4752 Cosgray-av, Amlin, are going at it nip and tuck with a couple of fine entries in the catfish division.

The other divisions are wide open—so be sure to enter your fish in the contest. You may very well walk away with one of the top prizes. Remember, enter your fish at Carner's Boat Dock.

While I was there, Al Ward appeared on the scene and showed me a nest of baby rabbits close to the boat dock office. Al is Madison County's genial game protector, and we speculated on how soon the little bunnies would be out hopping around. It takes only a few days for them to leave the nest, and they grew rapidly. Biologists tell us that the first litter of cottontails will raise young of their own before cold weather sets in.

This is the season, of course, for baby animals to be seen. Young robins and mourning doves have been hatched out for some time, and will soon be leaving their nests. It won't be long until mama pheasant will be shepherding her brood around the hay fields. A little bit later baby raccoons, woodchucks, and even deer fawns will be seen.

This is when our "mothering instinct" gets the best of us. Far too many of us pick up wild babies, thinking them lost. We lug the cute little rascals home to raise, but they soon outgrow the cute stage. In fact, they become pests.

Now they ARE lost. They have been raised by humans, and have not been taught by their wild parents to forage for themselves. They do not know how to find food, and to protect themselves from predaters. When liberated they cannot last long in the wild. Had they been left alone the parent would have found them and cared for them.

We had an interesting experience with young flying squirrels a couple of weeks ago. I was cutting down a hollow tree near the house. Just as the snag was about to fall to the ground, a flying squirrel emerged from a little opening and started flying from tree to tree all around [illegible].

She flew over my head a couple of times, and I viewed at close range the fantastic sailing ability of these little animals. I figured that she had a nest of young in the tree, but by now the tree was ready to topple and would be dangerous to leave standing.

I downed the tree, and sure enough in the hollow were two little flying squirrels. I'll have to admit my first impulse was, "Can we raise these cute little fellows?"

All of this time the mother was chattering close by. I quickly cut the log in two, and got Al Steffan to help me fasten the segment containing the nest to another tree. This we accomplished in about 15 minutes from the time the tree fell, and before we got the ladder cleared away the mother squirrel had found her young. She will care for them far better than I could, and they will sail into the wild world for which they were born.

Al Ward gets many calls in the course of a year asking for help in disposing of adopted "pets". His advice to people this time of year, "If you find a baby animal, PLEASE leave it alone and unmolested." If the wild baby happens to be a game animal it is against the law to have it in your possession. Al repeats, "You will be obeying the law, and be giving the wild youngster a break by not adopting it."

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables — Asparagus, cabbage, green beans, carrots, potatoes.

Fruits — Bananas, lemons, pineapple, frozen lemonade.

Other Foods — Fryers, ground beef, ham, frozen fish fillets, large eggs, cottage cheese.

Fresh asparagus, the first of the local fresh vegetables, is now available with supply good and quality excellent. The peak of local supply is expected about the middle of May. Asparagus grows like magic when the weather is warm and the earth is moist. Its season is short lived — 50 to 60 cutting days — so enjoy this green vegetable often when it's fresh and tender.

Peak season usually gives greener asparagus. The green color and length of the stalks depend on the weather. Wet and cold weather results in less rapid growth. You'll trim away more of the white woody part from early asparagus than from the spears grown in warmer weather. This means more edible asparagus from each pound purchased when the season is at its peak.

Selection — When buying fresh asparagus look for firm, compact, tightly-closed tips purplish-green color, and tender stalks. It's perishable. Refrigerate it and use it soon.

If you plan to buy asparagus for canning or freezing from a retailer or producer, it's well to check with him in advance as to when he expects a good, fresh supply.

To obtain a top quality product, asparagus, like other fresh vegetables, should be canned or frozen as soon as possible after harvest. Mary Washington is the variety recommenedd for freezing.

Weight Watchers are happy that six average-sized spears of asparagus give only 22 calories. When green it contributes a good portion of vitamins to the diet.

Cooking — Asparagus should be cooked quickly in a small amount of boiling, salted water. Tie stalks together, stand them in two to three inches of boiling water. Cook for 10 minutes, then cover and let the tips cook in the steam. For cut pieces, cook the lower part of the stalks in a saucepan that contains a small amount of boiling, salted water for 10 minutes. Add the tips and cook until tender.

The variety of ways asparagus can be served is enough to delight any homemaker — with Hollandaise or cheese sauce, tender spears of cooked asparagus in salads, buttered or creamed on toast, in souffles, ham casseroles and soups.

Field-Grown Rhubarb

Local growers are brenging quantities of excellent quality rhubarb to market. The stalks are longer now but still tender and colorful, which means economy for using it fresh or for freezing.

'57 Legion Diamond Teams Recognized At Annual Affair

Trophies, medals and good usable food flowed from the "horn of plenty" of Camp Chase Post, American Legion, when the annual appreciation banquet for last year's baseball program was held May 1.

Honors were issued to the 1957 Babe Ruth nine and to the American Legion team. Guest speaker was Larry Scales, who has been State Junior baseball chairman for the American Legion for 19 years.

All members of the Babe Ruth squad were presented medals for garnering the Central Ohio title. Outstanding player trophies were received by Vaughn Ammon, most popular, and Terry Briggs, most valuable.

Bob Dean was chosen by teammates of the American Legion aggregate as the most popular player. Larry Goodin took home the most valuable trophy.

Ronnie Krems will take over the helm of the Legion team this year. He replaces Bill Haire who stepped aside because of a busy schedule. As yet no manager has been picked for the Babe Ruth nine.

"Besides being an award dinner, this event is also the kick-off of what we hope will be another successful season," stated Ray McVay, athletic chairman.

Babe Ruth teams get into action June 7; American Legion schedule commences a week later on June 15.
